Bill to Compel Saloons to Close on Columbus DayCouncilman Delaronde Asks Appropriation for Observance of Legal Holidays

There is a bill before the legislature providing for the closing of saloons on all holidays even those not specified in chapter 8 of the revised laws. The day not mentioned is Columbus day, October 12, and the bill was framed to cover this day because it was a much mooted question as to whether or not the saloon keeper was obliged by law to close his place of business on that day.

Relative to appropriations for holiday observances the following order will be introduced at the adjourned meeting of the common council to be held this evening. The resolution will be introduced by Councilman Charles A. Delaronde:

Resolution requesting joint committee on appropriations to consider matter of appropriations for holiday observances in connection with the annual appropriation order.

That the joint committee on appropriations be and it is hereby requested to consider in connection with annual appropriations order the feasibility of recommending the following appropriations for holiday observance:

Memorial day—$1000 for G. A. R.
Memorial day—$250 for Gen. Ames, Camp, Spanish War Veterans.
Fourth of July—$2000.
Labor Day—$1000.

Were Before the Lawrence
Police Court Today

The trial of James H. Horsfall of this city and Fred L. Snow of Westford, charged with the larceny of $1279.80 from the city of Lawrence, one of the series of alleged graft cases in connection with the recent irregularities in Lawrence, which was to have been held before Judge J. F. Mahoney in the police court in that city this morning, was again postponed.

Postponement was due to the fact that the defendants, who were represented by Lawyer Edward Fisher of this city, until a few days ago, have now retained W. Scott Peters of Essex, ex-district attorney of Essex county, and the latter, besides being engaged in another court, felt that he was not sufficiently acquainted with the case to do justice to his clients if the hearing was held this morning.

Second Complaint Made
A mild sensation was sprung in the court room this morning when the clerk of the court asked Messrs. Horsfall and Snow to plead to another complaint, charging them with the larceny of $437.38 from the city of Lawrence. It is alleged that the second complaint was brought about as a result of the first complaint and in one sense of the word is practically the same, other than that it is alleged the original complaint is based on money paid on the November draft, while the complaint made this morning has to do with the January draft.

Attorney Peters, acting for his clients, entered a plea of not guilty on the second complaint, a similar plea having been made on the original complaint at the time the defendants were arraigned, the day following their arrest here.

Eleven Witnesses Held
There were 11 witnesses, who had been summoned by the government, present in court this morning. Eight were held under $300 bonds for their appearance one week from Wednesday while three who were under $100 bonds to appear this morning, were ordered to appear when the preliminary trial is on.

Messrs. Horsfall and Snow, each of whom was under $3000 bail, were allowed their freedom under the same bail until one week from tomorrow.

Court Room was Crowded
Long before the time set for the opening of the Lawrence police court, 8.30 o'clock, there were hundreds of people lined up at the entrances, and the moment the doors were thrown open there was a rush for seats of vantage. The crowd was so large that the court room was inadequate to hold those who sought admission and scores went away disappointed.

Those who did gain admission were also disappointed when it was learned that another postponement had been made, for it is expected that some sensational testimony will be brought out at the preliminary hearing.

The defendants and the witnesses who had been summoned by the government were in attendance when the case was called. F. H. Tilton of Haverhill, representing Ex-Dist. Atty. W. Scott Peters, addressing the court, said that he had only recently been retained as counsel for the defendants and at the present time is busily engaged with other cases. He said he had had a conference with the district attorney and that the latter was agreeable to a postponement in order that the cases which he had on hand might be taken care of and also to give him an opportunity to allow him to become acquainted with the details in connection with the case against Messrs. Horsfall and Snow.

While Judge Mahoney did not favor continuing the case from day to day he felt that under the circumstances the request of Mr. Tilton was a reasonable one and by agreement it was decided to continue the case till Feb. 1, but the court informed Mr. Tilton that the hearing must go on on that day without fail.

New Witnesses
During the past week the members of the state police, who have worked up the case in question, have been kept busy, and this morning there were two witnesses in court who were not present on the other occasions when the case was to have gone to trial.

One of the witnesses is Curtis A. Pease of Nashua, N. H., who it is alleged is manager of a stone quarry in Milford, N. H., while the other is Geo. A. Ledward of Concord, N. H., who it is said is manager of the New England Granite Co., with headquarters at Concord.

It is alleged that Mr. Pease furnished stone to Messrs. Horsfall and Snow and that the latter had a contract with the city of Lawrence for the stone. It is further alleged that the Pease concern was unable to furnish the Lowell men with stone in order to fill their contract and that Mr. Ledward furnished 12,000 paving blocks to Mr. Pease, who in turn sent them to Messrs. Horsfall and Snow, and that the latter sent them to Lawrence as per the contract to furnish the material.

It is through this alleged transaction that the government expects to show irregularities in the furnishing of material, and while there is considerable hearsay as to just what occurred, the real facts will not be brought out until the matter is brought to trial.

Messrs. Pease and Ledward, were held as witnesses under $200 each, as were Philip Holland, Lawrence contractor; John P. Kane, bookkeeper for Mr. Holland who was the choice of the democratic caucus for city treasurer, but whose election was held up; Supt. Lyons of the street department; M. O. Sargent, special agent of the Boston & Maine railroad; Edward Burke, delivery clerk of the Boston & Maine railroad and Joseph Spencer, an ex-councilman of Lawrence.

Three witnesses, City Treasurer W. A. Keleher, Assistant City Treasurer Jeremiah J. Herlihy and City Auditor Richard J. Stiles, of Lawrence, who were under $100 bonds for appearance, were ordered under the same bonds to be in court when the case is called for trial.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

Men Were Charged With Drunkenness and Larceny

Wm. H. Dever and Alexander Jennings went on a spree together yesterday and after visiting several of the saloons, landed in a room at 3 Amory street, which was being occupied by Andrew Zych and Joseph Michalsky. As the apartment was unoccupied when Dever and Jennings entered it, the latter thought they would make themselves at home, and at the same time help themselves with wearing apparel, so Jennings put on Zych's pants while Dever put on Michalsky's shoes. The occupants of the room made their appearance soon after and upon finding these two unknown individuals in their quarters, called for help, and Officers Conney and Reagan were soon on the spot and they escorted the pair to police headquarters. The two were brought in court this morning and were charged with drunkenness and larceny. They pleaded guilty to the first charge but denied any knowledge of the second. After summing up the evidence, Judge Hadley found them both guilty on both complaints and ordered them each committed to the common jail for a term of four months on the larceny charge and one month for drunkenness.

Three Months in Jail
John Burns pleaded guilty to the complaint charging him with the larceny of a clock valued at 35 cents, the property of Vassili Papacosta, and was given a sentence of three months in jail. Burns was arrested in Market street yesterday afternoon by Inspector Maher.

Breaking Glass
Herbert Penniman, aged 20 years, and Harvey Cann, aged 12 years, were both sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory for maliciously breaking glass in South Chelmsford.

It seems that the defendants while under the influence of liquor deliberately threw stones into the windows of the residence of Alfred Paasche, Susan E. Garland and Lyman A. Byam.

Lawyer Fisher, representing the complainants, told the court that the young men had a very bad record in Chelmsford district for glass breaking. It seems as though it was a bad habit for them to smash windows when under the influence of liquor. The defendants, through their attorney, James H. Carmichael, pleaded guilty and the above sentence was imposed. They appealed and were held in the sum of $300 each.

Cases Continued

John Caskas, charged with the larceny of garments, had his case continued for a week.

Blazonis Not Guilty
The case of John Blazonis, who was charged with the larceny of $20 from George Yurewicz, was taken up this morning, and Judge Hadley disposed of it by finding the defendant not guilty and ordering his discharge. William H. Hogan and D. J. Donohue appeared for the defense, while Bennett Silverblatt prosecuted the case.

It was alleged that two years ago Blazonis obtained $20 from the complainant on condition that he would obtain a job for Yurewicz. The job never came forth and a few days later Blazonis left the city, going to Worcester, where he has lived since. Several witnesses were heard this morning and the court finally disposed of the case as above mentioned.

SUDDEN DEATH

Mrs. Carter, Former Teacher, Found Dead in Her Room

Mrs. Mary W. Carter was found dead this morning in the boarding house of a Mrs. Murphy, 11 Dutton street, and death was probably due to heart failure.

Mrs. Carter, who was the widow of the late Stanley Carter, was formerly a teacher in the old Colburn school, and at the time of her death was employed at the apron factory of John P. Horner in Middle street.

She was attending the evening high school so as to keep her hand at typewriting. Last night she went to school as usual and returned to her home at 9 o'clock, ate a lunch and retired in her room.

At 7.30 o'clock this morning the boarding mistress went to Mrs. Carter's room and tried to wake her. Finding no response, she called for help, and upon entering the room found Mrs. Carter lying dead on the floor. The woman was undressed and apparently was going to bed when she was stricken with a shock.

The deceased was 50 years of age and is survived by a brother, who lives in Boston.

The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Saunders in Hurd street.

COMMON COUNCIL

To Receive Department Estimates
This Evening

Mayor Meehan and his secretary are busy on department estimates to be submitted to the common council tonight. The mayor issued a letter, some time ago, to the heads of departments, asking for reports of estimates and expenses for their respective departments, and the figures he wanted have been a bit late in arriving. Some of the departments made quick response to the mayor's requests for figures, while others put it off until the 11th hour, so to speak. The estimates received by the mayor were hustled away to the printer and today the mayor and his secretary are reading proof.

There were only a few figures obtainable this forenoon. The city treasurer asks for $11,804. The expenses of his department last year amounted to $11,461.68.

The charity department, for outdoor relief, asks for $32,617.92. The expenses of the department last year were $29,221.02. Included in the extra amount asked for by the board is the "feeling" of the department, so-called. This bill amounts to a little more than $4900.

CAR RUNS WILD

MADE A DASH THROUGH CROWDED STREETS

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A masterless trolley car, running around sharp curves and through crowded streets, with Conductor John Hannigan and the passengers bobbing about like kernels of corn in a popper, made people gasp yesterday morning in East Norwalk, Conn.

Hannigan finally made his way to the front of the car and found it untenanted. He ran the car back half a mile and discovered the mobman, Thomas Smith, unconscious at the side of the track.

Smith had leaned out to see if the snow guard was working and was struck on the head by a telegraph pole. He was unconscious for hours, but has a chance to recover.

THE KELLY CASE

Heard in the Equity Court in Boston

In the equity merit session of the superior court in Boston, yesterday, was opened, before Judge Hitchcock, a case of considerable local interest. The case has to do with promissory notes alleged to have been signed by George G. Kelly of Braintree.

Mr. Kelly was familiarly known as "Stonewall Kelly" and the case involves about $10,000. The complainant in the case is Mrs. Mary C. Leach, a step-daughter of Mr. Kelly. She is the executrix and chief beneficiary and she claims that the notes are forged.

The respondents in the case are: John T. Green of Lowell, J. C. Green of Nashua, George H. Green of Lawrence and William H. and Richard B. Green of Concord, all brothers, and cousins of the late George G. Kelly, the testator, and all having an interest in the disputed notes, which are six in number. The sixth person interested is Susan E. Green, wife of John T. Green.

George G. Kelly died as the result of an accident, December 23, 1909. Mr. Kelly, who went to California in 1849, had acquired considerable property.

were all dated August 24, 1909, when Mr. Kelly's will was made in March, 1909.

The envelope in which the notes were found was also said to contain a paper dated Lowell, August 24. The paper read as follows:

To Whom It May Concern:

That I made a will in March last, and not being satisfied with it, I am intending to make another. But if anything happens that I do not, and this falls into the hands of my cousin with the notes, I request him to give them to whom they belong, with the exception of J. C. Green. I want my cousin John to see to this one, and see that he has the money, as he needs it. And I further give to my cousin John all of my land on the right hand side of the Lawrence road, and all of my lumber that is cut and sawed, and all of the wood that is cut.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal at the city of Lowell, state of Massachusetts, this 24th day of August, nineteen hundred and nine.

The paper purports to be signed by George G. Kelly, and is under seal. The notes also purport to have been signed by Geo. G. Kelly, and to be negotiable.

Upon learning of the existence of these papers, Messrs. F. W. and S. E. Qua, attorneys for the executrix, immediately brought a bill in equity praying for an injunction to prevent the notes being negotiated or delivered to any person other than the executrix, and that they be given up for cancellation, on three grounds: First, that the notes were never delivered; second, that they were without consideration; third, that they were never signed by George G. Kelly, or by any person authorized to sign them.

A temporary injunction was obtained and the case came up yesterday for a hearing on the merits.

The attorneys for the respondents are John T. Masterson of Lowell and H. R. Lawrence of Lawrence.

Handwriting expert, testifying for the complainant, gave a positive opinion to the effect that the signatures to the notes are forgeries.

PATIENTS SAVED

They Were Taken From Burning Hospital

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., Jan. 24.—Patients at the Aberdeen hospital, many of whom lay helpless on their cots, were carried out by attendants and firemen during a fire which threatened to destroy the hospital building yesterday. The fire started on the top floor near the roof and before the firemen dared use the hose it was necessary that the patients in the rooms below be taken out. They were carried into the nurses' home adjoining. The loss by fire was not heavy but the water damage will be considerable.

NEW ORPHANAGE IS AN IDEAL PLACE FOR LITTLE ONES

A Sun reporter visited the temporary quarters of St. Peter's orphanage in Chelmsford street recently and was ushered through every corner of the building. This building is the property of the Shaw Stocking Co., and it is a splendid edifice, and after going through it one would think it was constructed purposely for an orphanage, for it is surprising to see how it answers the wants of its occupants. The Sisters of Charity in charge of the institution have occupied the place with their 64 little motherless children since October, when their former home in Appleton, Wis., was purchased by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. The house is well situated and right in the back of it sets a large field where the children enjoy coasting and skating. The building is well equipped and is very sanitary, and the little ones seem to enjoy their new home very well. It is a three story building but the upper one is not occupied, for there is ample room in the two first stories to accommodate the Sisters and their little friends. The little ones are all in good health and the attending physician has very little to do in the line of treatment. They attend school every day, and for this purpose two large class rooms have been furnished on the first floor. Those who are too young to attend school enjoy themselves in the basement, which is spacious and well lighted, and when the winter months, they are taken out in the field, where they can enjoy their favorite sport, coasting and skating. The eight Sisters in charge are also in good health and enjoy their new quarters first rate.

MILK SAMPLES ONLY 13 CENTS UP TO REQUIREMENTS OF LAW

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 24.—Of 72 samples of milk taken on the 17th and 18th from shipments over the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Central Vermont railroads, Conn. and Central Vermont railroads, Conn. signed to dealers in Providence, State Commissioner Potter stated last night that but 13 came up to the requirements of the state law which calls for 3.25 per cent. butter fat. Some of the milk, the commissioner says, was nothing but skim milk, and other samples showed a very large percentage of water.

THREE BOY BANDITS

Said to be Mixed Up in Crimes in Two States

WESTFIELD, Jan. 24.—Three boys, ranging in age from 18 to 23 years, when the police charge with being a desperate trio of boy bandits and at whose door numerous burglaries in two states and a holdup are laid, are under arrest here. Two of them were arraigned yesterday on several burglary charges and the third will be arraigned today on a holdup charge.

The boys under arrest are Ward Lapoint, aged 19; Warren Phelps, 18, and William White, 22.

Phelps and Lapoint were arrested in Worcester Saturday as they were attempting to dispose of goods which had been reported stolen, and White was arrested in Northampton Monday night and brought here yesterday.

Lapoint and Phelps in court yesterday were specifically charged with breaking and entering and larceny from a store at Chester Jan. 13, breaking and entering and larceny from the Southwick depot Jan. 12, and breaking and entering and larceny from Marichal's store, Westfield, Jan. 11. Plans of guilty were entered.

In addition to the charges that have already been made against the boys the police believe that they can connect them with burglaries of depots and stores at Plainville and Simsbury, Conn. Phelps, the police say, has also admitted that he and Lapoint broke into four places in Templeton last Thursday night and made two other attempts which were not successful.

One of the breaks was at the Catholic church, where some money was secured, and another at a jewelry store, from which over $100 worth of goods was taken.

A suit case filled with loot has been located in Gardner by the state police who have been working on the case.

KLINE ARRESTED

Former Hyde Park Man Said to Have Accused Himself

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Patrick Kline, 17 years old, who says he lives in Rochester, N. Y., has had a difficult time recently, he says, endeavoring to induce the police to arrest him for the crime for which his conscience has been troubled. Kline was accommodated yesterday, for he wandered into Capt. Gaskin's district and was locked up. The Hyde Park police were communicated with and he was taken there on a charge of larceny.

When Kline walked into the Court square station he said he wanted to be prosecuted for stealing $20 from the Y. M. C. A. in Hyde Park, before he left the station, Kline said, he walked into the Y. M. C. A. at Hyde Park on Jan. 19, broke open a roll-top desk and stole $20. He then wandered away and finally landed in Ayer.

Here he became despondent and his conscience told him he had done wrong and should be punished for it, so he determined to give himself up and take his medicine. He went to the Ayer police station determined to surrender, confess his crime and take his punishment. He peered into the window of the station house and seeing no one on duty he decided to become an unwelcome guest. After waiting around for a time and not seeing a policeman or the town constable, Kline became discouraged with the place.

Kline ran across a revolver in the town lockup and a bitly and says he confiscated both. He left the lockup in a hurry but remained about the village for some time, hoping he might be confronted by the town marshal. He did not meet the marshal so he boarded a train for Boston.

Kline was in Ayer on Tuesday. He has been in Boston several days but he did not decide to surrender to the police until yesterday, when his conscience and an empty stomach prompted him to get the police to provide him at least with a comfortable bed, and something to eat.

Kline had been an assistant janitor at the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. before the $20 incident. He will have a hearing today. Sympathetic persons in Hyde Park, who are inclined to believe that Kline is not altogether a bad young man, have decided to intervene in his behalf in the hope that he will reform his ways.

$200,000 ESTATE

Bay State People May Get a Share of It

HAVERHILL, Jan. 21.—Claimants to an estate consisting of over $200,000 in cash and much more in real estate, Mrs. Michael Gately of the Bradford district, Mrs. George Powers of South Groveland and John Doherty of Peabody and half a score of people across the water, are contesting the will of Gen. James William Riley, who died in Wellsville, O., nearly five years ago. A little over two years ago the case was threshed out in the Ohio courts, when there were more than 200 claimants to the property, but the claims of all but a score were thrown out and the case will again be brought up next month, when it will be fought by relatives in this vicinity.

Gen. Riley amassed a considerable fortune, including property in Wellsville and Lisbon, O., and large tracts in Virginia. When he died, the mayor of Wellsville wrote to the mayor of Cork, Ire., and it was through the latter that the local people were apprised of the death.

It is known positively that the general claimed relationship with the local people, for when the late William McKinley of South Groveland attended a Hibernian convention in New York in 1870, he returned with the news that he had met a relative of theirs at the convention, the books of the Hibernians of that period substantiating the fact that he was sent to the convention as a delegate.

P. M. Smith of Wellsville, O., counsel for the heirs in this vicinity, was here Saturday, preparing their case.

When the case was first tried Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Gately and Mr. Doherty of St. Franklin street went to Wellsville and gave testimony regarding their claims. That there is merit in their claims is shown by the fact that they were not among the large batch which was declared to be unsubstantiated. These people are second cousins of the deceased and among the nearest of kin to him, Mrs. McVeigh of London, Eng., being the nearest, a first cousin.

THE Y. M. C. I. TEAM

Holds Lead in the Catholic League

As a result of the Y. M. C. I. winning three points from the Y. M. C. U. on the alleys last night the former team once more assumes the undisputed leadership in the race for honors in the Catholic league. Coleman, as usual, was rolling in excellent form and assisted greatly in scoring a victory.

In the game between the Knights of Columbus and St. Peter's, the former team won two of the three points. Lang of the winning team was high man.

The Willows and Rocklands of the Minor league bowled last night, the former team winning two points and the total. Buckley of the Willows made the best score.

The Troqueles team had little trouble in beating the Cuckoos in the Minor league last night. They took the first two points easily, but fell down on the third. Mahan of the winners was high roller with a total of 282, although Callahan of the Cuckoos put up 281. The scores:

A STUBBORN FIGHT

LONDON, Jan. 24.—"Battling Jim" Johnson, the colored heavyweight of Pennsylvania, has made a world's sensation, marking a new era in aviation. This feat, demonstrated conclusively that air craft can now be handled accurately and reliably enough to be of utility in war operations. Ely, New thirteen miles in his aeroplane, made a successful landing on the cruiser Pennsylvania and an hour later rose from the cruiser and flew back to Selfridge field, twelve miles south of San Francisco. The feat was accomplished without a mishap. Not a wire or bolt of the biplane was injured. A wooden platform 130 feet long and 50 feet wide had been constructed over the water deck of the ship. It sloped gently aft, and across the floor were stretched ropes with 100-pound sand bags made fast at either end. These were designed to be caught by hooks on the lower framework of the biplane. As a further precaution a canvas barrier was stretched across the forward end of the platform. Launches and ship's boats fully manned were put out in event of a mishap. Ely had installed two seven-foot pontoons under his aeroplane to float the machine in case he were forced to descend on the water, and forward he had built a hydroplane to keep the aeroplane from diving into the water. At 10:58 o'clock in the morning of Jan. 17 the lookout on the cruiser Pennsylvania sighted Ely through the haze, and the ship's siren roared a blast of welcome. He came on at a terrific speed, and circled around the fleet, dipping in salute to each ship, and came up in the wind for the stern of the Pennsylvania. He was flying low as he neared the ship and dropped down lightly, striking the platform about forty feet from the inner end. The hooks on the aeroplane caught the ropes and stopped the biplane within sixty feet. When Ely touched the deck he was going about thirty-five miles an hour, but so gradually was the speed checked by the dragging of the weighted ropes as they were caught in succession that he came to a standstill without disarranging any part of the machine.

JOHN SULLIVAN

One of Manager Gray's New Pitchers

John Sullivan of New York City is one of the young men who Manager Gray of the Lowell ball team will give a trial in the spring. Sullivan played with the Hot Springs nine of the southern league in 1909, and last year in the All-Walton nine of the same league he pitched 20 games and lost 4. In a 17-inning game against the semi-professional Howards of New York City he struck out 20 men. The score was 2 to 2 when game was called.

Sullivan bats close to the 300 mark, and his fielding record last year was .386. He is a right-hand batter and pitcher. He weighs 153 pounds, and stands 5 ft. 11 in. He has plenty of steam, a good break and a nice split ball. His home is in New York City.

BOXING GOSSIP

A galaxy of pugilists starts will grace the canvas of many rings this week. The sport is in the ascendant and many excellent battles are assured. There will be two international battles that are of importance to the followers of the boxing game throughout the world.

Sandy Ferguson of Chicago and Jim Barry of Chicago are the big noise in Boston this week. Ferguson and his opponent fought in New Orleans several months ago and a riot ensued. The pair are bitter rivals and a scorching battle should result when they meet at the Armory A. A. Tuesday night.

The amateurs, too, will have the center of the stage in New England pugilistic circles. Route will be held at the Columbia Club in Cambridge on Monday night and Thursday night the Armory A. A. will have a series of contests.

Carl Morris, the new white hope, is having another lesson tossed into the ring to him this week. Out in Oklahoma, where they are in a frenzy at present over the boxing game, Mike Sweeney, the Parktown representative, will enter the ring with Morris.

Johnny Dolan, who fought a draw with Eddie Murphy of South Boston in Manchester a few months ago, is matched to battle with Dummy Decker in Baltimore. Dolan is a rugged fighter and he will keep the dummy busy.

Knockout Brown, the New York sensation, will tackle his old rival Tommy Murphy. Murphy and Brown will warm things for the New York sports although it is generally believed that Brown will annihilate the Flatbush real estate man.

Packey McFarland and Young Ernie, the premier gladiators of the 14th light-weight division, will appear at a special show under the auspices of the National club in Philadelphia, Wednesday night.

In Hyde Park, Mass., the new organization of that city will stage Kid Shea, the welterweight boxer who has been showing championship form recently. Shea, who defeated Jeff Doherty and Jim Moriarty, is giving away considerable weight to Perron.

One Round Rogan of San Francisco, who is regarded as one of the hardest hitters in the business, will meet Frankie Burns, also of San Francisco. Burns is a clever lad, who demonstrated much class in battles in the past last season with Matty Baldwin and other well-known boxers. The bout is attracting wide attention on the coast and a side bet of $1000 has been placed on the issue.

Governor Gillette out of the running now it is the opinion of California sporting men that the boxing game will boom again.

Matchmaker Jack O'Brien has picked two strong teams for his Saturday night show at the American A. C. in Philadelphia. Frankie Conley of Milwaukee and Tommy O'Toole will clash in the feature match, and Dick Nelson, the fighting Dane, will meet that sturdy lightweight, Willie Moody, in the semi-final. The new club has the call at present, and the boxers are flocking under the O'Brien banner.

Last week was perhaps the most auspicious week of the season in Manchester there was an evidence of interest in boxing that surpassed any heretofore seen. The house was a record one and hundreds were turned away.

The calibre of the match was such that it was the talk of the sporting followers throughout New England. It was a magnificent contest and showed what two well-trained athletes could withstand.

Tommy Sullivan of Lawrence and Joe Thomas were the principals in this engagement. They demonstrated skill and stamina and the bout was one of the best ever seen in Manchester. In addition to this there were two preliminaries that were equally as good, but not of the length of the feature engagement.

One thing it proved was that the patrons of the sport will turn out to see good things. The handling of the entertainment was commendable and Messrs Conway, Kenny, Healy, Walker and Malmberg deserve a great deal of credit for their part in the arrangements.

Both men who appeared in this contest have been the target for many challenges. Sullivan in particular has been selected by claimants of the middleweight title as a worthy opponent. The first to come across with a deft at Tommy is Bill McKinnon of Boston. Bill is a great boxer and we have no doubt but Sullivan will give him his attention in due time. The Lawrence men have no boxer at the middleweight limit.

Jimmy Gardner and Terry Martin played to capacity in Fall River and Pat Moore and Matty Baldwin did likewise in Boston, while the benefit for Johnny Nelson, the newspaper man, in Boston, was also a big success. In all these cases the big success is coming back stronger than ever. Clean contests, with honest divisions and both men trying for victory at all times will put the game on a sound basis again.

BANKER'S WIFE THE B. & L. ROAD

To Eat One Squab a Day Wants to Issue New Stock

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Could you eat a nice broiled squab for luncheon every day for a month? Would you wager $100 that you could?

There is a difference of opinion on the matter, and it will be tried. Mrs. A. Cunco, wife of the wealthy Italian banker and expert woman auto driver will try it, and her husband has posted a wager of $100 that she can. S. Rondanina, a well to do butcher of 45 Mott street, has covered the wager with $200, and the first squab was eaten by Mrs. Cunco yesterday at an eating house not far from the banker's offices at Park and Mulberry streets.

It all came about in this wise. The banker and other wealthy men eat luncheon every day at a certain cafe, and several days ago Rondanina entered the place and ordered a squab. Suddenly he changed his order.

"You may make that half a squab," he said to the proprietor.

The other diners laughed. The idea of a man eating half a squab seemed to them ridiculous. The question then arose, and the butcher held that it would be impossible for a person to eat a squab every day for a month running.

The idea that one would be compelled to eat the squab or any other bit of meat or poultry would turn one's stomach," said the butcher. "Now I'll bet you $200 to $100 that you cannot do it," he continued.

"Well, while I might not," said Cunco, "I'll bet my wife can."

It was put up to the wife, and she consented to make the trial. It was further agreed that on Sundays those in the party should dine with the banker at his home in Scarsdale, and the squab should be served as usual.

When seen yesterday at his offices Mr. Cunco was not inclined to talk about the wager. "It was a little private wager between friends," he said, "and I won't discuss it."

Mrs. Cunco is noted as being a daring automobilist and has entered cars in the Vanderbilt cup contest repeatedly. Louis Disbrow is her racing driver.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY

TO INQUIRE INTO THE ELECTION OF LODGE

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—District Attorney Pelletier has instituted an investigation of the charges of bribery made in connection with the election of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. Yesterday afternoon he summoned to his office Foster Coates, managing editor of the Boston American. The district attorney had heard and read so much of the bribery charges that he wrote to Mr. Coates requesting him to call and present all the evidence he might have on the charges which have been published in the newspaper of which he is editor.

Editor Coates reached the court house about 3 p. m. and remained with the county prosecutor half an hour. At the conclusion of the interview District Attorney Pelletier said he had nothing to give out for publication at this time.

Mr. Coates was questioned by the district attorney in regard to the specific charges made in the American that Collector of Customs Edwin U. Curtis and Fred Emery, the license commissioner, had influenced Martin P. Curley, a liquor dealer, and Michael J. Murray, proprietor of a Boston hotel, democratic senators, in voting for Senator Lodge by making promises to them.

The district attorney said if there was any tangible evidence it would be presented to the grand jury.

Lieut. High Lee, who is connected with the office of District Attorney Pelletier, declined to state yesterday whether or not he was working up evidence on the case for Mr. Pelletier to present to the grand jury.

EDWIN L. SHATTUCK

FUNERAL OF WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN

The remains of the late Edwin Lewis Shattuck were consigned in their final resting place in family lot in the Edson cemetery Monday. Services were conducted at 10 o'clock, Rev. Charles T. Billings, pastor of the Unitarian church, officiating. There was a large attendance of sorrowing relatives and friends of the deceased and the profusion of floral tributes laid on and around the casket was evidence of the esteem in which he was held by his friends. Rev. Mr. Billings during the course of the service paid a very tender tribute to the deceased, eulogizing his pleasing temperament, loving disposition and the upright life he lived.

At the conclusion of the service the casket was borne from the house to the hearse by Messrs. Alfred G. Robbins, Stephen Wotton and Dr. Joseph M. Marston of this city and Mr. Chas. Enstrom of Waltham.

The interment was in the Edson cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers J. B. Currier & Co.

The deceased was a well known and popular resident of this city having a host of friends who were shocked to learn of his sudden death last week. He was apparently in the best of health of late and was at work with his father in the latter's blacksmith shop in W. Third street last Thursday morning when he was seized with a shock. Doctors were summoned and after receiving attention he was removed to his home where he gradually grew worse and died about 24 hours later.

Owing to his kindly disposition and excellent qualities he made a host of friends who sympathized with his family in their bereavement. He was a dutiful son, a loving husband and a kind and painstaking father.

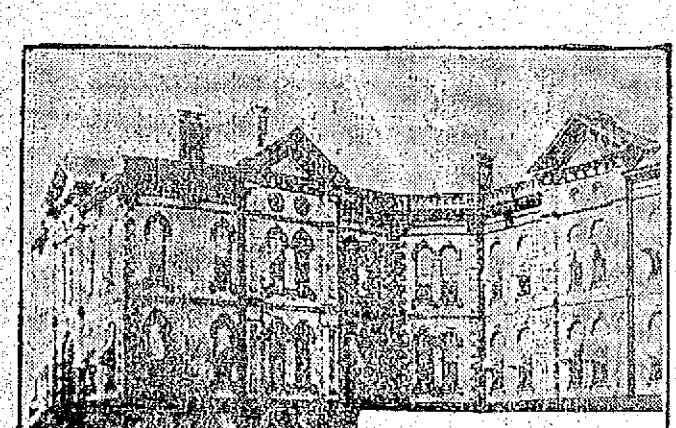

Mr. Shattuck was the son of Silas and Sarah Shattuck and was born in Pepperell on Oct. 13, 1871. He received his early education in the schools of that town and later attended Burdett's college in Boston, from which institution he graduated with honors.

Twenty-three years ago the Shattuck family moved to Lowell and subsequently Mr. Shattuck was employed at Lakeview park after wards taking a position with Edward Ellingwood as the latter's drug store in Baristers Hall. While there Mr. Shattuck failed in health and upon the advice of physicians went to Rutland, Mass., where he spent several months and upon his return to Lowell was apparently enjoying the best of health inasmuch as he did not possess a rugged constitution he was advised to take up outdoor employment and for five years drove one of the delivery wagons for the A. G. Pollard Co.

Subsequently he went to work with his father at the blacksmith shop in West Third street where he was employed until the time of his death.

He was united in marriage to Albinia P. Brault on June 22, 1898, and besides his wife he leaves to mourn his loss two sons, Paul and Theodore, a father and mother, Silas and Sarah, and two sisters, Misses Minnie A. and Marion A. Shattuck.

CANNON AND COURTHOUSE WHERE SCANDAL IS BEING PROBED

COURT HOUSE IN DANVILLE WHERE TRIALS ARE BEING HELD

DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 24.—The developments in the vote buying scandal here threaten to loom larger than those recently in the expose at Adams county, O., where almost the whole population was discovered to have been corrupted. The fact that Danville is the home of Speaker Joseph G. Cannon lends additional interest to the proceedings here. When it becomes known that two-thirds of the grand jury were behind Foreman Isaac Woodward in demanding a rigid investigation of the traffic in votes that has been a matter of public scandal for years in Danville those politicians and precinct workers who were inclined at first to scoff at the general demand for a cleaning up began to be worried. Hurried meetings were held between politicians and those employed by them in the last three elections to discuss defensive plans. The grand jury, it was discovered, would issue summonses for every politician and worker known to have been engaged in procuring votes at the recent elections. It is stated that some of the most active political workers have forestalled possible action by the grand jury by taking hurried trips across the Indiana line, only five miles east of this city. Although considerable money was spent at the November

BATTLE OF 1912

The Political Forces Lining Up for the Struggle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—National politics are seething again in Washington. Four interesting things have happened or come to the notice of public men within the last day or two which attach to them a significance as bearing on the great battle to be fought next year. They are:

The election of William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the New York republican state committee, which shows that the old guard is back in the saddle.

The evident determination of William Jennings Bryan to prevent the nomination of Governor Harmon of Ohio and to endeavor to nominate a "progressive" rather than a "reactionary."

A revival of Mr. Roosevelt's activities in that he is willing to his admirers in the west informing them that he is willing to make speeches in western territory.

The formation of a republican progressive league.

The election of Barnes is hailed with keen satisfaction by the friends of President Taft. It means, they say, that there is no longer any fear of Mr.

Roosevelt being a serious factor in the national convention next year, as New York will send a delegation under the control of the old guard.

The old guard is for Mr. Taft's renomination, for the renomination of the old ticket. In fact, because of the intimate relations existing between the men now in control of the New York machine and Vice President Sherman, who has always trained with Barnes and his associates.

Bryan Against Harmon
Certain prominent democrats have recently received letters from Charles W. Bryan, William J. Bryan's brother and the publisher of his paper, the Commonwealth, urging them to get together and prevent the nomination of a reactionary of the conservative wing of the democratic party and to work for the nomination of a progressive. While these letters are written by Charles Bryan, democrats who have received them say they were inspired by the former presidential candidate. To prevent it being said that Charles Bryan is engineering a boom for his brother, the letters say that in considering the available candidacy for the presidency Mr. Bryan's name should not be included.

Conservative democrats who have been told of these letters are somewhat disturbed, as they fear that it means an attempt on the part of Mr. Bryan to once again prove himself existing and once again proven unattested action. Mr. Bryan, it is well known, is especially interested in preventing the nomination of Governor Harmon. He has long been at odds with him and tried to prevent his renomination last year. He made a speech in Ohio, but they had little to say to him and Governor Harmon did not consider it necessary to pay any attention to Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan's sentiment regarding Woodrow Wilson or Governor Dix are not known but it is believed he would accept any candidate almost if by doing so he could defeat Harmon.

While Mr. Bryan does not appear to possess the power he once did democrats realize that he is still an influential figure, and that it would be fatal to democratic chances of success next year if Mr. Bryan should not be nominated.

The information has come to Washington that Mr. Roosevelt is anxious to make speeches in the west. He has written to several of his supporters there that he will make addresses. Dates can be arranged for him and the proper invitation extended. Republicans who have heard of this are somewhat puzzled. They do not quite know what Mr. Roosevelt's plans are. If he makes speeches in the west they think he will have more to say about his new nationalism, for they hardly think it likely that he will ask for the renomination of Mr. Taft or for an endorsement of the present policies of the republican party.

It is the opinion of the best informed republicans that Mr. Roosevelt need not be considered as a presidential candidate next year. The general feeling is that Mr. Taft will be renominated. Mr. Roosevelt could only be nominated if the radicals controlled the convention, which no one thinks is by no means certain. Mr. Roosevelt would be the nominee as he would find opposition from Cummins, La Follette and others of the extreme radical wing of the republican party.

Insurgents Organize
In that connection the "announcement" today of the nomination of the National progressive republic league by insurgent senators, representatives, governors and other men who believe in the insurgent policies acquires interest. The object of the league, it is stated in the formal declaration of principles is "the nomination of popular government and progressive legislation."

The formation of the league, according to some politicians, is to create a rallying point for the opposition to the renomination of President Taft and build up a machine by which the control of the party can be wrested from the hands of the conservatives.

Some of the men whose names are signed to the declaration yesterday denied this and said that the purpose of the league was not to oppose Mr. Taft, but to create strong progressive sentiment in their respective states, which offer all amounts to the same thing. If a feeling in the various states exists hostile to the president and his policies it will mean the election to the next convention of delegates opposed to Mr. Taft's renomination.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked by the organizers of the league to be one of the charter members. He refused, but the men who organized the league say that it has Mr. Roosevelt's approval and that he is in full sympathy with its purposes.

Senator Bourne of Oregon is the president of the league, the vice president is Charles R. Crane of Chicago, the man who was appointed by the president to be minister to China, but who was recalled to San Francisco by Secretary because of his alleged indiscreet utterances. All the other charter members of the league are dyed-in-the-wool insurgents.

LUMBER TIED UP
ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 24.—Millions of feet of lumber are tied up for want of snow in the woods, according to a statement made by A. P. Bentley, one of the largest lumber operators in the province.

"Unless a heavy fall of snow should come within the very near future," said the lumber king, "the lumbering situation throughout the province would be most critical, as it is now conditions are very serious. Millions of feet of lumber are tied up in the woods, owing to the scarcity of snow, are tied up. Along the bank of the St. John river chopping was discontinued some days ago and everything is in readiness for hauling the logs to the streams. In comparison with other winters the fall of snow this season has been very light and along the low lands the woods are practically bare."

63 Years of Age—Younger Than at 40

Mrs. J. W. McPeck, of Herbert, Sask., Can., is more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which has been of great benefit to her family. She says in her letter: "I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past ten years. It is the best health giver I ever used. I am now 63 years of age, but I am looking and feeling younger than at 40. My friends all say, 'How young you look!'"

"It has also proved just the thing for my daughter, who lives in Ohio. She had such weak nerves and heart that the slightest move would startle her. Your wonderful remedy has practically overcome this, and has done her more good than all other treatments."

Mr. McPeck writes about his remarkable experience: "I am 67 years of age, and for a number of years I haven't been strong. I have a weak heart and for some time was almost helpless. Lately I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and it has helped me wonderfully. I sincerely recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to every one."

The genuine is sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by all DRUGGISTS, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. ## ANNUAL BANQUET OF F COMPANY, UNITED BOYS BRIGADE

F company, Fifth Massachusetts United Boys' Brigade American, of the First Trinitarian-Congregational church, held its first annual banquet at the church vestry last night.

The event was the first annual, although the company has been in existence for three years, and was attended by 60 boys, and the latter enjoyed it to the limit. As it was not a military night but a social event, the boys did not wear their uniforms. The company formed in the children's vestry and marched to the banquet hall. Charles M. Barlow catered and he provided an ample and excellent supper. Misses Mabel Sullivan, Mabel George, Grace Macchie, Ethel Pendexter and Eva Henderson acted as waiters.

Rev. George F. Kennigott was the presiding officer. The speakers of the evening were Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, whose topic was "The Boy Scouts of America," Capt. Taylor and Lieut. Mochrie of the company, Rodnell Smith, a former lieutenant of the company, Thomas M. Williams of the Y. M. C. A., who spoke on "The Boys," Capt. Walter R. Jeyes, Sergt. Cornelius Barnes and Mr. Kennigott.

The musical part of the program was furnished by Emily Hartford, who sang while Miss Eva Henderson accompanied on the piano. The officers of the company are: Herbert Taylor, captain; William Mochrie, first lieutenant; Irving Snyder, second lieutenant. The drill master is Sergt. Cornelius Barnes of Company G, Sixth regiment, M. V. M. Capt. Walter R. Jeyes was the first drill master and the first captain was Chester E. Wheeler, who subsequently became colonel of the high school regiment, and who is now at the Massachusetts Agricultural college. He was succeeded by George H. Upton, who is now at Worcester academy. The company has been successful and prosperous and does excellent work.

RISKED HIS LIFE

In Attempt to Save His Money

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Thick smoke from a fire in the paint shop of the three-story building at the corner of Huntington and South Huntington avenues, Roxbury, yesterday afternoon made the escape of tenants hazardous. A man who tried to return to his shop to get his cash and books was overcome and rescued by a patrolman, while a woman on the third floor had a narrow escape carrying out her four-months-old baby.

The ground floor of the building, with an entrance at South Huntington avenue, is occupied by the Brooklyn Painting & Decorating company. The two upper floors are apartments, with an entrance at 902 Huntington avenue.

The fire started in the rear, on the ground floor in a paint shop. The proprietor, Samuel Spector, was seated at his desk in the front office, when an explosion occurred that threw him to the floor. He was stunned for a minute but, recovering, ran to the street shouting "Fire."

Patrolman Thomas Rooney of station 15 was standing at the corner and running the street. Spector suddenly remembered that his cash and books were in the office, and tried to get them, but fell unconscious on the floor, overcome by smoke. Patrolman Rooney groped about in the suffocating smoke from oils and paints until he stumbled over the body of Spector. Raising him in his arms, he carried him outside, where he soon revived. Spector received several slight burns.

In the meantime the fire had eaten its way into the second floor, where Mrs. J. N. Sheafe and her daughter Mary were. They managed to escape without difficulty, but on the top floor Mrs. J. B. Murphy had a narrow escape. When the smoke began to pour into her apartment she picked up her 4-months-old baby and tried to go down the rear stairs, but found the smoke too dense, so she turned and started toward the front stairs. She thought that exit was filled with smoke, she managed to grope her way to the street.

The tailor shop of A. Lewis, at 261 Huntington avenue, next door, was filled with smoke, and Lewis and his wife fled into the street. The fire started from spontaneous combustion. Loss was about $1500, principally in the contents of the Brooklyn Painting & Decorating company.

HIP LAMENESS

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat it

This is brought about in the same manner as lameness of the shoulder and is followed by the same results, and as much obscurity manifests itself in determining hip lameness as shoulder lameness. First, however, let us examine critically the outline of the joint and immediate region for any difference in size or symmetry of the parts, any prominence or rotundity, comparing both sides. We may find one side warmer, fuller, seemingly more developed. Take the leg at the lower part and lifting it up try to induce excessive passive motion. Push the thigh against the knee, which, perhaps, makes the pain more in motion. The limited action of the hip joint on the same side and the marked dropping and rising of the hip on the other side will indicate to us the trouble. The leg, as in shoulder lameness, will be carried forward rather than a circular motion. Turning round is also difficult and helps in diagnosing the trouble. Hip lameness is rather more serious than shoulder lameness because of the tendency of permanent disability, exostosis and arthritis. What follows often resists every kind of rest.

Absolute and extended rest is imperative, unless this is thoroughly adopted and carried out other aids are absolutely useless. First, then, let us give the required rest, cold water showers alternating with hot fomentations, cover with hot wet blankets, repeating frequently, and at length, mild soothing liniment, followed, when the inflammation has subsided, by stimulating liniments, blisters, etc., which can be repeated several times to advantage, but don't overlook the matter of rest.

CURE
The bulging backwards of the posterior portion of the lower joint, the line which should be straight in a normal condition. Curbs result from heavy pulling, jumping and slipping and similar accidents, malformation, etc. At first a swelling more or less diffuse, heat and soreness, with lameness of a permanent nature. Later the swelling will be well defined, more noticeable in every way, the eva easily detected, readily felt with the fingers. The lameness may now vary in degree. Possibly the animal will not show the lameness now at all. The hock affected with a curb becomes a source of danger, for it is weak and cannot stand the strain and work of a normal hock. It is ill to begin at first indication of trouble to make hot fomentations, cold showers, friction and liniment. If, however, this bunch is well defined and does not yield to these forms of treatment, get to work with more severe measures. Apply a good absorbent iodine, salicylic, and repeating the blister with much to overcome the ordinary curb.

EVADES THE LAW
MAN WEDS GIRL ON A TUG-BOAT

EDINBURGH, Jan. 24.—Alfred B. Scott, Jr., of New York, and Miss Stella Mabel Peatling, daughter of William Peatling, also said to be of New York, were married on a tugboat yesterday.

The couple, who had been touring the continent, came to Edinburgh for the purpose of being married. They found the residence of three weeks was necessary to conform to the Scotch law.

Anxious to start for the United States, Mr. Scott chartered a tug at Leith, and accompanied by Miss Peatling, a minister, lawyers and friends, proceeded four miles to sea, where the ceremony was performed.

If your children have Group use Ataxol as you will be their friend always. We have yet to hear of the first case it has not overcome within a few hours. It has hundreds of successes to its credit.

WENT INSANE

MAN FELT THE SPELL COMING OVER HIM

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 24.—George Faves, 32 years old, got off a train here yesterday morning, walked to the police station and said "I'm going crazy." The police did not believe him.

Late yesterday afternoon Faves went violently insane in a hair street barber shop. He attacked former Assistant Chief Engineer William Leahy, who was in one of the chairs and tried to bite his hand off. Leahy had a terrible struggle with the mad man and was being overpowered when another customer dealt Faves a blow with his fist. Then three policemen arrived and took Faves to the county jail.

Mr. Brennan is the first member of the craft to sit in the legislature.

WHO MUST PAY?

Money Was Taken from Gas Meter

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Can a household be held responsible for money stolen from a slot gas meter, and can payment for the same be compelled by shutting off the supply of gas.

Here is an interesting question submitted to the Gas and Electric Light commission by James F. Finnegan of Malden, president of the Massachusetts Pharmaceutical association. While similar cases have been brought to the attention of the commission, the disputes have always been settled by the two parties and no ruling has ever been made by the commission formally fixing the responsibility.

The commission, through Chairman Barker, has decided to give the petitioner a public hearing on Feb. 1 on his grievance against the Malden and Melrose Gas Light company.

Rep. James C. Cavanagh, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, said last night: "During the month of October the gas company alleged money was stolen from quarter meters in the cellar of the apartment house occupied by Mr. Finnegan and that a certain amount of money was stolen from the meter from which Mr. Finnegan's apartment was supplied. The gas company contends Mr. Finnegan is responsible for the money which was stolen and has demanded he pay the same. It has notified him that unless the same is paid it will take off his meter."

"We purpose, to have a ruling from the gas and electric light commissioners, if possible, to determine whether or not the householder is responsible for money stolen out of a meter. So far as I know it has been the practice of the gas companies to compel people to pay money stolen from their gas meters, thus obliging the consumers to pay twice for the gas used."

The petitioner prays: "First—That the respondents be enjoined and restrained from removing said meter from the house occupied by your petitioner."

"Second—That the respondents be directed and required to supply gas to your petitioner."

"Third—That the respondents be restrained from forcing your petitioner to pay for money alleged to have been stolen from said meter by discontinuing the supply."

"Fourth—That the respondents be required to refund to your petitioner the $1.25 paid by your petitioner into a meter in advance for gas, which gas your petitioner has never received."

"Fifth—And for such further orders as your honorable commission may deem just and right."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Measure Presented in Maine Legislature

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 24.—A resolve proposing an amendment to the constitution of Maine conferring the right of suffrage on women was presented in the house today by Rep. Russell of South Berwick.

Rep. Deering of Portland presented an act creating a state board of charities and corrections, which shall investigate and inspect the whole system of public charities and correctional institutions in the state and, examine the condition and management of all prisons, jails, reform and industrial schools, children's homes, hospitals, sanatoriums, almshouses and all institutions of such nature which derive support from the state, county or municipal appropriations but not any institution of an educational or industrial nature.

TO MEET INSURGENTS

Government Forces Are Expected to Meet Insurgents

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24.—Advices received here by Consul Ulloa of the Honduran government state that Gen. Lara and Col. Munoz, with a force of 1000 men have left Tegucigalpa for Truxillo to meet the insurgents under General Bonilla. The advices also say General Bonilla has only about 100 men at Truxillo and the government forces, should there be a fight, will have little trouble in defeating the insurgents.

The same information states that the inhabitants of Puerto Cortez and Ceiba are loyal to the government and that any attack by the revolutionists can easily be repulsed. There has been no disaffection in the interior, according to Consul Ulloa, and the success of the revolutionists along the coast has been only at such minor ports as Truxillo and Ruman Island.

The seizure of the Hornet by the United States, the advice continues, has proved a body blow to the insurgents and it is expected the revolution will be put down within two weeks.

TO TEST WINDS

McCurdy to Make Preliminary Flight

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 24.—With all preliminary arrangements completed for his flight from Key West to Havana, Aviator J. R. McCurdy announced last night that a start would be made about 7 a. m. Wednesday instead of at daylight as he previously had decided on. As a last precaution test flight will be made this afternoon to try out the motor and test the winds. The torpedo destroyers and other naval vessels which will patrol the waters between here and Havana will leave Key West tonight and take their stations about ten miles apart. The first vessel stopping 300 miles from Key West. Immediately upon the appearance of McCurdy's airship on the horizon the boats will belch forth dense smoke to indicate his course and give the signal to the next boat beyond. After McCurdy has passed them the torpedo destroyers will make a dash for Havana. Arrangements have been made to report the progress of the aviator by wireless. McCurdy stated last night that with favorable winds he expected to make the distance of 115 miles in 1 hour and 45 minutes, or about two hours if he is forced to combat headwinds.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

The legislature this year will be called upon to take some action toward enacting a workmen's compensation act. This law has been advocated throughout this country during the past year, but so far as we know has not yet been adopted by any of the states. The object of it is to relieve employees who meet with accidents, either through their own negligence or otherwise, from the possibility of facing starvation or going to the poor-house. The law would put an end to the great amount of litigation that is carried on between employer and employee over damage claims resulting from accidents. The employee who is living usually from hand to mouth is not prepared to fight large corporations in the courts. The litigation is very expensive, and unless the employee succeeds in getting a verdict for substantial damages he is seldom able to pay his lawyer. In many cases, even where the verdict is liberal in amount, when every expense is paid, there is very little left for the claimant. This is the main reason why the workmen's compensation law is advocated as a humane measure that would lift the employee out of the embarrassing circumstances in which he is placed whenever he meets with an accident that brings total or partial disability. The European countries have long ago discovered the necessity of such a law and many of them have applied it with the most satisfactory results to all concerned. Under the provisions of the law as applied in 23 countries the amount to be paid by the corporations for any specified injury is fixed and no lawsuit is required. All that is necessary is, that the employee shall prove his claim and give conclusive evidence that it is just and right. Under such conditions the employer is obliged to pay the amount. In the long run the law benefits the employer as well as the employee, first in preventing employees who are unfortunate enough to be injured in accidents from becoming public charges, and second in promoting good feeling between employer and employee. The latter is not the least of the benefits accruing from the operation of this law and the relations between labor and capital where the law exists, are said to be much improved as a result of its operation. Certain corporations are opposed to the law as are some of the labor organizations, but we believe that both are mistaken in their opposition to the measure. Similar opposition was shown in European countries when the law was at first proposed, but when the people came to understand it they favored the measure and its application vindicated their judgment.

William N. Osgood of this city is one of the strongest advocates of the workmen's compensation law having served as a member of the commission to investigate the subject and having also framed an act that has been before the legislature in one form or another for several years past. Speaker Walker of the house made the statement last year that this subject would be one of the most important that would engage the attention of the general court this year. That indicates that Mr. Walker has already grasped the full scope and the great importance of the measure. It is to be hoped that other legislators will take a similar view of the question and assist in placing the law on the statute books of Massachusetts.

An important contribution to the discussion of this measure comes from Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who advocated a law of this kind in his inaugural. What he says on the question has given it a greater impetus all over the country as his public utterances are widely read and his views respected by members of the legislatures of the different states throughout the country.

DANGER IN THE CONCORD RIVER

Editor Sun:

After reading your editorial as a parent with small children and residing close to the Concord river, I heartily approve your suggestion that the police be given power to arrest any boy found skating on the lower Concord in winter or bathing in it in summer. The ice is never good below the Rogers street bridge and for some distance above the bridge it is nearly as bad. Boys can never go on this ice except at the peril of their lives. In the summer the boys who bathe in the river get poisoned by the aniline dyes and other chemicals from the mills, so that it is almost as necessary to prohibit bathing in summer as skating in winter. Hoping you will succeed in having something done to stop both.

Respectfully yours,
Lawrence Street.

Supt. Welch, in speaking upon this matter, admits that many lives would be saved by a police regulation that would forbid boys from skating on the lower Concord in winter and bathing in it in summer. The police board can make such an arrangement with the approval of the companies controlling the river. The board of aldermen if necessary will cooperate in authorizing some such arrangement. There might be legal barriers in the way but these could be overcome by proceeding against the boys found on the river on the charge of trespassing.

The people who reside in the vicinity of Lawrence street will be very glad to have an arrangement put in force under which any boy found on the lower Concord could be arrested and taken to the station. It would relieve the parents who reside near the river of a great deal of anxiety and would undoubtedly result in saving numerous lives.

JUDGE BOND'S PASSING

A great many people are surprised at the death of Judge Bond so soon after the Leblanc murder trial at which he presided. During the trial he had many sharp colloquies with the district attorney and afterwards he was criticized by some of the Boston papers for commenting upon features of the trial at which he presided. The excitement and fatigue incident to the case may have hastened his death. He was an able jurist and had long experience in criminal cases.

POLYGAMY IS CHARGED

According to investigations made by McClure's magazine it is alleged that polygamy is still prevalent in Utah. The writer of the article charges that the leaders of the Mormon church connive at the violation of the law by the members in spite of the pledges of twenty years ago. It would appear that while these charges made in a magazine may have slight foundation the persistence with which they appear would justify the United States government in looking into the question very thoroughly.

SEEN AND HEARD

The steamship Persia was speeding over summer seas, when one of the gay, young and inquiring girls who are found on every trip, slipped up to the captain and asked:

"Captain, are we really going fast? It seems as if we were just crawling!"

"Fast?" answered the captain gruffly, "of course we are going fast. With nothing to see but water and sky you can't judge our speed, but my dear young lady, the friction of the boat in so great it makes the water hot aft."

"I don't believe it," giggled the girl, and the captain with a great show of indignation, called for a rope and bucket to prove his words. These brought he swung the pail down aft of the vessel, directly under the drain pipe of the galley, where hot water runs all day, and brought it up smoking to the astonishment of the girl who had asked the question.

A long, lean Yankee, who had been watching the performance, then came forward and drawled: "Say, cap, that make you change your course might often."

"Change my course?" blustered the captain. "What would I change my course for?"

"Well," said the Yankee slowly, "so darn much friction as that must wear the ocean out mighty quick!"—Exchange.

ONE, TWO, THREE

It was an old, old, old, old lady, and a boy that was half-past three; And the way that they played together Was beautiful to see.

She couldn't go running and jumping, And the boy, no more could he, For he was a thin little fellow, With a thin little twisted knee.

They sat in the yellow twilight, Out under the maple tree; And the game they played I'll tell you, Just as it was told to me.

It was hide and seek they were playing, Though you'd never have known it to be— With an old, old, old, old lady, And the boy with the twisted knee.

"You're in the china closet," he'd say, And he'd laugh and laugh in his glee; But it wasn't the china closet, But he still had his two and his three.

"You are up in papa's bedroom, In the chest with the queer old key," And she said: "You are warm and warm, But you're not quite right, said she."

"It can't be the little cupboard Where mamma's things used to be— So it must be the clothespress, gran'ma!" And he found her with his three.

Then she covered her face with her fingers, That were wrinkled and white and wee, And she guessed where the boy was hiding, With a one and a two and a three.

And they never had stirred from their place, Right under the maple tree— This old, old, old, old lady, And the boy with the lame little knee.

This dear, dear, dear old lady, And the boy who was half-past three— Henry Cuyler Bunker.

Dr. Mary Stone, a Chinese girl who was brought up by the missionaries and became a physician, has a far reaching pedigree. Her family history runs back 2000 years and is outlined in 12 great volumes. In the last volume Dr. Stone is named—the first woman in 2000 years to be mentioned even in the history of her own family. No doubt many of her ancestors had as much ability as she, but they had no chance to develop it.

It gave something of a shock to some of the more decorous senators recently when he strolled into the chamber coatless and with a cigar in his mouth. In the same unconventional attire he presided over the deliberations of the senate. "I never could work with my coat on," was the Lieutenant Governor's only explanation when the matter was called to his attention.

THANKED JUDGE SISTER KILLED

For Four Years Sent to Prison While in Act of Repairing Elevator

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—A man stepped up to Judge Stevens in the lobby of the superior court yesterday and said: "Do you know me, Judge?" His honor replied that he did not recall the visitor.

"Well, you sentenced me to state prison for four years for forgery, and I came here to thank you. I have been released. I had a bad record, but I am a changed man. I intend to lead an honest life. I am going to the north-west, but before I went I thought, 'I would call to see you and thank you.'"

The judge wished the caller good luck and success in his effort to be an honest citizen and the visitor went away.

The judge related the incident later in disposing of a case in the criminal session of the court.

Warren Finn, aged 11, came up for sentence on the charge of breaking and entering. He has been in court several times and has been placed on probation. His brother wanted him sent down to Maine, where his father was working temporarily, but when the judge learned all the facts of the case he concluded that he would not entertain the suggestion.

The judge committed him to the Suffolk house for boys.

George Wagenhauser was sent to state prison for a term of five to eight years on the charge of breaking and entering houses in the west end, and other parts of the city. James King on a similar charge, was committed to the reformatory. Both had been in the coast artillery.

The women of the rest of the world are so unhappy. We of India alone know the art of happiness. We judge a nation by the status of its women, and the status of the American woman is eternal unrest. One woman once said to me: 'I have nothing but doubts and fears of that sort. They look that calm centre of philosophy without which life is a whirlpool and the world is a vast turmoil. They talk loudly they try to be sprightly, and only succeed in making ugly faces. They are not enough alone. They chatter too much and think too little.'

Lovers of a quiet life may envy the Rev. Henry Martyn Sherwood, who at the age of 98 has resigned the living of White Ladies Aston, near Worcester, which he had held for seventy-one years. He is the son of a noted woman writer of the early Victorian days, whose best known children's book, "The Fairchild Family," may be found in some nurseries still; was born in 1812, married before he was 21, graduated at Oxford nearly eighty years ago, and took orders in the year of Queen Victoria's accession. Three years later he was appointed to the living in which he was content to stay for the rest of his long life.

VALUE OF NAVIGABLE RIVERS

Were the rivers not navigable there would be little done in the interior of Alaska today. First used by the prospector in his poling boat and the trader with his little steamer, they have become the means of opening up every camp that has been struck in the interior of Alaska. The Yukon is very shallow at its mouth, which is about 70 miles in width across its delta. There are places 400 miles from the mouth of the river where the Yukon can navigate with ease, for there are soundings which show a 90-foot channel in a mile-wide river. The Yukon is navigable for 2100 miles. The Kuskokwim, a sister stream, has only been navigated on the lower reaches, but with its navigable branches is believed to have 1000 miles of navigable water. The Tanana has been ascended for 500 miles, and the Koyukuk in excess of that distance. Scores of other streams can be used by small steamers from 25 to 200 miles. Altogether it is safe to say that there are 6000 miles of navigable streams in Alaska. The Yukon opens for navigation the latter part of May and closes the latter part of October. But with all its wealth of gold, its unheard call to followers of gold, its mountains studded with veins of riches—the lodes of veins of copper and other materials—this empire starves for the one thing that would make it thrive—'Colliers.'

UNDER A TRUCK ADMIRAL DEWEY

Unknown Man Was Killed by Wagon

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—An unidentified man was run down and killed by the four-horse truck belonging to the A. J. Beckman Grocery company, 460 Greenwich street, last evening at Ninth avenue and 37th street. The truck, empty, was coming down the avenue when the man it struck became confused. He was knocked down by the horses and the wheels passed over him.

The driver whipped up the horses, and with persons yelling to him to stop drove with all the speed he could get up to 37th street and turned west. A man who had gotten him run into the West 37th street station and told Lionel Gorman of the accident. Patrolman Archibald Wood ran out. The man with the truck was abreast of the station and Wood grasped one of the horses by the head.

"I didn't run over anyone," said the driver, as the policeman was dragged along. When the truck was stopped, the driver was arrested. To the lieutenant he said:

"I was driving to give myself up."

He said he was Rudolph Timms of 683 East 128th street. A helper with him said he was Arthur Harrison.

While the two were being arraigned, word was received that the man who had been run over had died before an ambulance surgeon reached him.

The man who was killed was about 35 years old, brown hair and mustache, weighed about 170 pounds and was five feet seven. He was dressed in dark clothes and wore a derby hat with a mourning band. He is thought to have been a German and a clerk or salesman.

The policeman who caught the driver of the truck ran from the station where he was arraigned William Ebbrell, a chauffeur for the United States Motor company. Ebbrell, driving a car to be shipped to Minnesota, knocked down Fred Wheeler, 10 years old, of 604 West 61st street, at 35th street and 11th avenue. The boy received a fractured leg, cuts about the face and internal injuries. Ebbrell stopped the car, and taking the boy in it ran him to the French hospital.

He had no license to act as a chauffeur, and, in addition, the car he was driving, according to the police, was without a license number not his own. He was held for court upon both charges.

JUMPED OVERBOARD

HOBOKEN MAN MADE LEAP FROM FERRYBOAT

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—August Berend, 33 years old, of 229 Bloomfield street, Hoboken, killed himself on Sunday evening by jumping from the Lackawanna railroad ferryboat. The body of the Barclay street line in midstream but the Hoboken police didn't hear of the suicide until yesterday, when Joseph Volderling of 229 Bloomfield street reported what had happened. Berend's body was not recovered.

The young man had been employed as a fireman by the Public Service corporation. His wife died several months ago, leaving two small children, and recently his hands were so badly burned by contact with a live electric wire that he feared that he would never be able to resume his work.

Berend had bitterly complained of his hard luck and became very despondent. He left his home on Sunday morning and roamed around until early evening. On a trip of the Illica from the other side of the river to Manhattan, Berend's actions attracted the attention of several passengers and they told Capt. Moran that he had jumped overboard. Moran had a talk with the Lackawanna man and advised him to take a long walk and forget his troubles. Berend promised that he would and left the boat apparently in better spirits. He turned around in a crowd of passengers bound for Hoboken and went aboard the boat again unseen by the deckhands. As the Illica was in midstream he climbed over the rail and leaped into the water. The boat was stopped, but he could not be found.

The Hoboken police yesterday turned Berend's children over to the care of the United Aid society. They also took possession of two trunks found in his room. Both were practically filled with children's toys and clothing.

FIREMAN WAS KILLED AT END OF TRIP

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—"I am glad I am here, boy," during my boyhood I had a dream in which I was warned against making the trip today, but I am safe and sound," said Jacob Heldenger to his train crew at Elizabeth, N. He started to cross the tracks of take a train for Monmouth Junction when an express killed him instantly. He lived at Prospect Farms, N. J.

Doctor Says That Man Killed Himself

SHARON, Jan. 24.—Medical Examiner Faxon carried to Brockton today the clothing taken from the decomposed body of a man who was found in the woods here yesterday. Dr. Faxon found that death had been self-inflicted as there was a partly loaded revolver grasped in one hand. The body had been in the woods several months, but as it was in an obscure place, and there were no marks on the clothing, except that on the hat, which bore a Brockton stamp.

Sharon's case as a prosecutor was then taken by Henry W. Johnson, former governor of California and the trial was resumed after a delay of several weeks. The result of the trial was the conviction of Ruef and his sentence by Judge Lawler to serve 14 years in San Quentin. His attorneys appealed to the first district court of appeals, which upheld the action of the trial court, is ordered to turn over the record of the case to the supreme court, which will hear the case at its July term.

RECORD TIME

MADE IN TRIP BY J. PIERPONT MORGAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The running time between Washington and New York was reduced one hour yesterday by a special train engaged by J. Pierpont Morgan, consisting of a locomotive, tender, one steel coach and the private car occupied by the banker.

The train was ordered in a hurry by Mr. Morgan, who did not, however, make known to the Pennsylvania railroad officials the reason for his hurry. The Pennsylvania officials caused the train to be broken up, it is understood, as a tribute to a great railroad to a great financier.

The train changed locomotives only once, at Philadelphia, where it was done very quickly. The special covered the 224.7 miles in better than a mile a minute. It left Washington at 11:12 a. m. and reached Philadelphia at 1:45 p. m. 74 minutes better than the usual time.

When the locomotive was changed the officials estimated the train would reach New York at 3:00 o'clock. They were just a minute out of the way. It arrived at New York at 2:59 o'clock. The run from Washington was made in 2 hours and 26 minutes. The usual time is about five hours.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Prousch, who had been stopping at the Park Avenue hotel since Friday last, was taken to Bellevue hospital last night for observation as to her sanity. Shortly after she arrived at the hotel she began writing odes to Manager Charles Ward. So last night he summoned a policeman and an ambulance.

When Mrs. Prousch received her bill she objected to it and said that the telephone charges were exorbitant. She made such a fuss that a policeman was called in. She was taken to Bellevue in the ambulance. Mrs. Prousch said she used to live at 50 West Twelfth street and that her father lives at 1036 Lorimer avenue, Brooklyn.

THE FIRE DRILL STOREHOUSE FIRE

Saved Lives of Many Children to Lamb Street

A telephone alarm was sent in at 9:10 o'clock this morning for a lively battle in an old storehouse in Lamb street, the property of D. S. Phelps, and which is now being occupied as a child school. When the firemen arrived on the scene of the fire, the flames were progressing rapidly and were eating their way through the roof. The latter was entirely consumed.

Mrs. Phelps, who lives nearby, saw a man enter the building and a short while later saw volumes of smoke coming through the roof. It was she who gave the alarm. The man probably entered the building to light his pipe and accidentally set the place on fire.

Yesterday morning the fire department was called by telephone from the fire street dump where a brush fire was in progress. Although the fire was of no serious nature, the firemen were kept busy till midnight before it was put out.

Frankfurt Roasted

Another portion of the department was called at Bert Grey's lunch cart in Merrimack street at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The place was filled with smoke and a quantity of frankfurts was well roasted.

Insurance Official Was Attacked by Burglars

ORANGE, N. J., Jan. 24.—Two white men and a negro broke into the bedroom of John Batton, assistant superintendent of the Colonial Life Insurance company's Orange branch early this morning and held Batton with a black-jack after he had put up a fight that twice knocked the negro to the floor. Then the burglars ransacked his pockets, got $14 in money and made their escape, after setting fire to a heap of papers they placed alongside the unconscious man, who lay bound and gagged beside the blaze.

A policeman, summoned by the owner of the house, broke into the room just in time to snatch Batton away and save his life. The fire was put out and the man revived. He is not badly hurt. Half a dozen detectives have so far failed to locate the burglars.

Handwriting Expert Was the Principal Witness Today

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Notes aggregating $15,760 against the estate of George Green Kelly of Lowell were asked to be set aside in the superior court today on the ground that the signatures were forgeries.

The notes turned up in the settlement of the estate and were presented by John T. Green of Lowell, with whom Mr. Kelly lived during the later years of his life. The greater part of the Kelly estate was left to Mrs. Mary C. Leach, of Exeter, N. H., and it was her petition asking that the notes be set aside that brought the case into the equity session of the superior court.

The principal witness today was Dr. B. H. Davenport, a handwriting expert who declared that in his opinion the signatures were not those of Kelly. Dr. Davenport was still on the stand at noon.

VOTE BUYING CASES

Another Sensation Was Sprung at Danville, Ill., Today

DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 24.—Foreman Isaac Woodward of the Vermillion county grand jury appeared before Circuit Judge Kimbrough as soon as the latter opened court today and asked the court to cause Sheriff John T. Shepard to explain why he did not serve subpoenas given him to serve by the grand jury. Woodward also asked that a deputy sheriff other than Fred Vultich be appointed to guard the grand jury room.

The request of Foreman Woodward caused a sensation here, inasmuch as Sheriff Shepard was mentioned in the first reports which later were denied, as having admitted buying votes. It was for him, according to the story which met with such prominent denial when published, that City Attorney Jones was alleged to have bought votes, as related to the grand jury yesterday by newspapermen. Vultich, the deputy, was one of Sheriff Shepard's chief henchmen in the last election and preceding the primary. Neither the court nor the grand jury would give out the reasons why the objection to the deputy was made, they saying that it was an ethical reason because of Vultich's energy in the election. A rumor was circulated early today that Foreman Woodward was dissatisfied with the way witnesses were being questioned before the grand jury.

JEFF DAVIS

ASKS THE VICE-PRESIDENT "WHAT IS A JACKPOT?"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—When the senate was in a hot wrangle yesterday afternoon over the Lorimer case, and especially over the notorious "jackpot" corruption fund which was used to bribe Illinois legislators, Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas, the sworn foe of wealth, arose solemnly to a question of privilege.

"Mr. President," said he, "I would like to ask what is meant by the word 'jackpot'."

A giggle from the crowded galleries greeted the request for information and the discussion went on. Neither the vice-president nor any of the senators engaged in debate paid any attention to Senator Jeff's question for light.

TWO LOWELL MEN

Were Before the Lawrence Police Court Today

The trial of James H. Horsfall of this city and Fred L. Snow of Westford, charged with the larceny of $1270.80 from the city of Lawrence, one of the series of alleged graft cases in connection with the recent irregularities in Lawrence, which was to have been held before Judge J. J. Mahoney in the police court in that city this morning, was again postponed.

Postponement was due to the fact that the defendants, who were represented by Lawyer Edward Fisher of this city, until a few days ago, have now retained W. Scott Peters of Haverhill, ex-district attorney of Essex county, and the latter, besides being engaged in another court case, felt that he was not sufficiently acquainted with the case to do justice to his clients at the hearing was held this morning.

Judge Mahoney acknowledged that counsel for the defense would be handicapped if the case went to trial today and therefore continued the hearing until Feb. 1, but there will be no further continuance after that date.

Second Complaint Made

A mild sensation was sprung in the court room this morning when the clerk of the court asked Messrs. Horsfall and Snow to plead to another complaint, charging them with the larceny of $457.38, from the city of Lawrence. It is alleged that the second complaint was brought about as a result of the first complaint and in one sense of the word is practically the same, other than that it is alleged the original complaint is based on money paid on the November draft, while the complaint made this morning has to do with the January draft.

Attorney F. H. Tilton, representing ex-district attorney Peters, entered a plea of not guilty on the second complaint, a similar plea having been made on the original complaint at the time the defendants were arraigned, the day following their arrest here.

Eleven Witnesses Held

There were 11 witnesses, who had been summoned by the government, present in court this morning. Five were held under $300 bonds for their appearance one week from Wednesday while three who were under $100 bonds to appear this morning, were ordered to appear when the preliminary trial is on.

Messrs. Horsfall and Snow, each of whom was under $3000 bail, were allowed their freedom under the same bail until one week from tomorrow.

Court Room Was Crowded

Long before the time set for the opening of the Lawrence police court, 9:30 o'clock, there were hundreds of people lined up at the entrances, and the moment the doors were thrown open there was a rush for seats of vantage. The crowd was so large that the court room was inadequate to hold those who sought admission and scores went away disappointed.

Those who did gain admission were also disappointed when it was learned that another postponement had been made, for it is expected that some sensational testimony will be brought out at the preliminary hearing.

The defendants and the witnesses who had been summoned by the government were in attendance when the case was called. P. H. Tilton of Haverhill, representing ex-Dist. Atty. W. Scott Peters, addressing the court, said that he had only recently been retained as counsel for the defendants and that at present is busily engaged in other cases. He said Mr. Peters had had a conference with the district attorney and that the latter was agreeable to a postponement in order that the case which he had on hand might be taken care of and also to give him an opportunity to allow him to become acquainted with the details in connection with the case against Messrs. Horsfall and Snow.

While Judge Mahoney did not favor continuing the case from day to day he felt that under the circumstances the request of Mr. Tilton was a reasonable one and by agreement it was decided to continue the case till Feb. 1, but the court informed Mr. Tilton that the hearing must go on on that day without fail.

New Witnesses

During the past week the members of the state police, who have worked up the case in question, have been kept busy, and this morning there were two witnesses in court who were not present on the other occasions when the case was to have gone to trial.

One of the witnesses is Curtis A. Pease of Nashua, N. H., who is alleged to be manager of a stone quarry in Milford, N. H., while the other is Geo. A. Ledward of Concord, N. H., who is said to be manager of the New England Granite Co., with headquarters at Concord.

It is alleged that Mr. Pease furnished stone to Messrs. Horsfall and Snow and that the latter had a contract with the city of Lawrence for the stone. It is further alleged that the Pease concern was unable to furnish the Lowell men with stone in order to fill their contract and that Mr. Ledward furnished 12,000 paving blocks to Mr. Pease, who in turn sent them to Messrs. Horsfall and Snow, and that the latter sent them to Lawrence as per the contract to furnish the material.

It is through this alleged transaction that the government expects to show irregularities in the furnishing of material, and while there is considerable hearsay as to just what occurred, the real facts will not be brought out until the matter is brought to trial.

Messrs. Pease and Ledward were held as witnesses under $300 each, as were Philip Holland, Lawrence contractor; John P. Kane, bookkeeper for Mr. Holland who was the choice of the democratic caucus for city treasurer, but whose election was held up; Capt. Lyons of the street department; M. O. Sargent, special agent of the Boston & Maine railroad; Edward Burke, delivery clerk of the Boston & Maine railroad and Joseph Spencer, an ex-councilman of Lawrence.

Three witnesses, City Treasurer W. A. Ketcher, Assistant City Treasurer Jeremiah J. Herlihy and City Auditor Richard J. Shea, of Lawrence, who were under $100 bonds for appearance, were ordered under the same bonds to be in court when the case is called for trial.

History of Case

At one time Messrs. Horsfall and Snow were officers in the Middlesex Granite company, with offices in Westford, and of which Lewis P. Palmer was president. They made a specialty of supplying granite blocks, curbs, stones for crosswalks, etc. The company was later dissolved, and Messrs. Horsfall and Snow engaged in the business of selling granite blocks under the name of Snow and Horsfall. It is alleged that the firm had a contract with the city of Lawrence to supply the paving blocks for the Hassan paving, which was done on several of the business streets in Lawrence.

It is further alleged that the defendants submitted a bill on the November draft for $1351 and that this bill, it is charged, is $1270.80 in excess of the actual value of the granite blocks delivered to the city. The bill on the November draft was paid Dec. 12. It is further alleged that another bill for paving stones was submitted on the January draft, which is $457.38 in excess of value of the amount of material delivered.

Messrs. Horsfall and Snow were arrested by Inspectors Flynn and Barrett of the state police on Sunday, January 8, and taken to Lawrence, where they were released upon the furnishing of $6000 bonds, $3600 for each of the defendants.

More Arrests to Follow

According to what a representative of The Sun learned in Lawrence this morning there are more arrests to follow and that it will lead to one of the biggest sensations in the history of the down-river city.

NEW WARSHIPS

The navy building program for the next years provides for four dreadnoughts of 20,000 tons each, three cruisers, 12 torpedo boats and six submarines at a total cost of $62,400,000.

The army estimates for the coming year have been increased by $8,600,000, the total expenditures being placed at $148,000,000.

NO CHOICE FOR SENATOR

DOVER, Del., Jan. 24.—The separate ballot for United States senator taken in the two houses of the legislature at noon today resulted:

House—Senator Henry Dupont, republican, 22; Willard Saulsbury, democrat, 13.

Senate—Dupont, 8; Saulsbury, 3; Robert G. Houston, republican, 1; Senator Drexler, the republican leader, whose independent attitude resulted in a tie-up of the senate at the opening, voted for Houston.

The failure of Senator Dupont to receive a majority in each house necessitates a ballot in joint session at noon tomorrow.

Mrs. Carter, Former Teacher, Found Dead in Her Room

Mrs. Mary W. Carter was found dead this morning in the boarding house of a Mrs. Murphy, 11 Dutton street, and death was probably due to heart failure.

Mrs. Carter, who was the widow of the late Stanley Carter, was formerly a teacher in the old Colburn school, and at the time of her death was employed at the apron factory of John P. Horner in Middle street.

She was attending the evening high school so as to keep her hand at typing. Last night she went to school as usual and returned to her home at 9 o'clock, ate a lunch and retired in her room.

At 7:30 o'clock this morning the boarding mistress went to Mrs. Carter's room and tried to wake her, but found the door locked. Receiving no response to outcries, she forced the door and upon entering the room found Mrs. Carter lying dead on the floor. The woman was undressed and apparently was going to bed when she was stricken with a shock. The deceased was 50 years of age and is survived by a brother, who lives in Boston. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Saunders in Hurd street.

SENATOR DEPEW

Is Opposed to Popular Election of U. S. Senators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Opposition to the resolution now pending in the senate calling for the popular election of members of that body in the several states was voiced today by Senator Depeew of New York. Mr. Depeew, while opposing the proposition to so choose the senators yet offered an amendment which would entitle all of the male citizens of the United States to cast their ballots in such elections. To the New York senator the proposed amendment to the constitution, as reported from the judiciary committee seemed but an effort, under the guise of popularizing the election of United States senators, to permit the states to disfranchise under the constitution large classes of their electors.

"Instead of providing that senators shall be elected by the people of the several states," said the senator, "it virtually denies the people the right to elect senators by impairing the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution which were intended to secure the elective franchise to all citizens of the United States."

The speaker betrayed some apprehension that the passage of such a resolution would call forth an expression of determined disapproval from the colored voters of the north, east and west, and that that protest would be registered in so effective a way at the polls as to be felt all over the country.

"The basis of this proposition," said the senator, "is to allow the people to vote. The purpose and object of the resolution is permanently to prevent the people from voting in any state where a dominant power or oligarchy wishes to disfranchise a certain portion of the citizens."

Mr. Depeew endeavored to show a number of the objections which would arise in putting into practical effect the proposition to choose senators by popular vote. He dwelt upon the advantage that is claimed to lie in the experience that a senator gains through long retention of his seat. Taking the governors of the states as an example and showing the comparatively brief tenure of their offices he drew what he considered would prove an analogy in the case of senators. He could foresee a rapid succession in office of men who would float in upon the tide of popular favor and out again as that tide might ebb.

The way of the demagogic orator would hold a menace in the mind of the New York senator, should the system of popular elections prevail. He recited the several appeals or issues that have prevailed during the last forty years or more, from the time of the war speech and the bloody shirt to show that the passion of the hour should not crystallize into legislation without plenty of time for deliberation and calm judgment.

"Parties are always seeking paramount issues. The great leader of the democratic party made this question of changing the method of the election of United States senators as he thought a paramount issue."

It failed to materialize, as he imagined it would, because there was no popular response and there is none today.

"Most of the so-called radical legislation of the last ten years has been really conservative legislation. It has been the correction of admitted evils, of the enacting into law of measures for

A TARIFF BOARD

To Investigate All Questions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A permanent tariff board of seven members to investigate all questions for the denials of information of congress is provided for in a bill unanimously agreed upon by the house committee on ways and means today. The bill, effective July 1, contains substantially the provisions of the Longworth and Dalzell bills.

When the White House learned today that the committee had agreed unanimously to report favorably on the bill President Taft expressed great gratification. He was informed shortly before noon by telephone from the capitol that with slight modifications the bill he approved of had been agreed to by both republican and democratic members of the committee. One change is made in the measure which will allow the senate as well as the house to call on the house for information. The bill, it is said, will be taken up next Monday under suspension of the rules and the White House believes it will pass. Further, it believes the bill also will pass the senate, although Senator Baller publicly intimated his intention to oppose it.

SHEDD PARK

SKATING SURFACE REPORTED TO BE VERY ROUGH

Skaters, patrons of Shedd park, declare that the ice there is not as good as it might be. It was the original intention of the park commission to flood the rink every day, and the water department agreed to this proposition. The fact remains, so say the skaters, that the rink is not flooded every day with the result that the surface is very rough. The general opinion of skaters is that the rink should be flooded or at least sprinkled every day in order to provide a smooth surface.

6 O'CLOCK BLACK HAND LETTERS

Detective Suspect They Were Sent by Certain Man

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Detectives of the Italian squad, searching the rooms of an Italian who they suspect is the author of a series of Black Hand letters, found yesterday in the man's bureau drawer a nine inch stick of dynamite with a yard long fuse attached to it. They say that the suspected man broke down and confessed that he intended to blow up the home of one of his neighbors with the stick and that he offered them $100 and a gold watch if they would let him go. The man is locked up in headquarters. Giacomo Cammarata, a Sicilian who runs a grocery store at 534 East Fourteenth street, and lives above his store, has been receiving letters for more than a year threatening death to himself and his family if he did not pay money. The first letters demanded $1,500, but did not state definitely to whom the money should be paid or who would receive it.

"Confide in your intimate friends," said one of these earlier letters. "In those whom you know to be men of honor and integrity."

Cammarata told the police and spoke to several friends about the letters, but all of them seemed ignorant of their source. One day he noticed that Bartolo Minicella, who lived next him at 536 East Fourteenth street, was dealing about the grocery store a good deal and he took Bartolo aside and talked to him about the letters. Bartolo was mysterious, but unflinching.

The letters continued to be delivered to the little grocery store with regularity, however, and during the next month there was an explosion in front of the store that did no great damage but frightened the shopkeeper into a blind panic.

When Commissioner Flynn came up to headquarters he interested himself in the case and sent Detectives Alfieri, Savano and Pigliolo to watch the neighborly Bartolo. Yesterday morning another Black Hand letter, this time compromising his demands and only asking for $400, was in Cammarata's mail and the three detectives decided to act. They found Bartolo loitering as usual in front of the store and told him that they wanted to look around his room. They had heard, they said, that he had some stolen goods secreted there. He was willing enough to have his room searched and was very nonchalant until one of the detectives came across a drawer in the bureau that would not open. Then Bartolo got fidgety and said that there was some private matter there of no account. After a long argument, he finally gave up the key to the drawer, and there lay the nine inch stick, one and a quarter inches thick and at one end of it a capped fuse that the detectives say is a "five minute fuse."

Bartolo then, according to the detectives, broke down completely and begged them not to expose him, throwing his watch and the money at their feet.

At headquarters, where they worked a new game, having an Italian stenographer take down everything that went on, Bartolo confessed that he intended the dynamite for Cammarata. He said he had a grudge against the storekeeper because Cammarata had mentioned his name to others in connection with the Black Hand letters, but did not admit that he was the author of the letters.

Man Admitted That He Held Up Young Woman

WESTFIELD, Jan. 24.—William Blaine, 25, one of the three young men under arrest here charged with many burglaries and holdups in Massachusetts and Connecticut, pleaded guilty today in the district court to the charge of holding up Miss Alice E. Wheeler, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., on Dec. 16. A companion, Ward Lapoint, 19, was also given a hearing today, charged with assisting Blaine in the holdup. He entered a plea of not guilty. The two boys were held under $2,000 bonds for a continued hearing on Thursday. The third member of the trio is Warren Phelps, aged 13.

A suitcase found by the state police yesterday in a house in Gardner, where two of the boys roomed, and brought here today when opened was found to contain about $200 worth of watches, rings, knives and revolvers. Several of the articles were soon identified as the property of persons residing here. Blaine was taken into custody in Northampton Sunday night, following the arrest of Phelps and Lapoint in Worcester Saturday. Yesterday Lapoint and Phelps pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and larceny from stores in Chester and Westfield and from the depot in Southwick. Blaine is alleged to have been connected with these robberies and also to have assisted his companions in robbing stores and depots at Plainville and Shimsbury, Conn. # SENTENCED TO JAIL

Men Were Charged With Drunkenness and Larceny

Wm. H. Dever and Alexander Jennings went on a spree together yesterday and after visiting several of the saloons, landed in a room at 9 Amory street, which was being occupied by Andrew Zwick and Joseph Michalik. As the apartment was unoccupied, then Dever and Jennings entered it, the latter thought they would make themselves at home and at the same time help themselves with wearing apparel, to Jennings put on Zwick's pants while Dever put on Michalik's shoes. The occupants of the room made their appearance soon after and upon finding these two unknown individuals in their quarters, called for help, and Officers Conney and Reagan were soon on the spot and they escorted the pair to police headquarters. The two were brought in court this morning and were charged with drunkenness and larceny. They pleaded guilty to the first charge but denied any knowledge of the second. After sipping up the evidence, Judge Hadley found them both guilty on both complaints and ordered them each committed to the common jail for a term of four months on the larceny charge and one month for drunkenness.

Three Months in Jail
John Burns charged guilty to the complaint charging him with the larceny of a clock valued at 35 cents, the property of Yashli Papacostas, and was given a sentence of three months in jail. Burns was arrested in Market street yesterday afternoon by Inspector Maher.

Breaking Glass
Herbert Pennington, aged 20 years, and Harvey Gaskins, aged 19 years, were both sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory for maliciously breaking glass in South Chelmsford.

Blazonis Not Guilty
The case of John Blazonis, who was charged with the larceny of $20, from George Yurewicz, was taken up this morning, and Judge Hadley disposed of it by ordering the defendant not guilty and ending his discharge. William H. Hogan and D. J. Donohue appeared for the defense, while Bennett Silverblatt prosecuted the case.

It was alleged that two years ago Blazonis obtained $20 from the complainant on condition that he would obtain a job for Yurewicz. The job never came forth and a few days later Blazonis left the city, going to Worcester, where he has lived since.

Several witnesses were heard this morning and the court finally disposed of the case as above mentioned.

John Caskas, charged with the larceny of garments, had his case continued for a week.

Charles L. Guthrie, charged with assault and battery on Joseph Richard, pleaded not guilty and had his case continued till Saturday. He was held on his personal conduct in the sum of $200.

It was alleged that two years ago Blazonis obtained $20 from the complainant on condition that he would obtain a job for Yurewicz. The job never came forth and a few days later Blazonis left the city, going to Worcester, where he has lived since.

Several witnesses were heard this morning and the court finally disposed of the case as above mentioned.

John Caskas, charged with the larceny of garments, had his case continued for a week.

Bill to Compel Saloons to Close on Columbus Day

Councilman Delaronde Asks Appropriation for Observance of Legal Holidays

There is a bill before the legislature providing for the closing of saloons on all holidays even those not specified in chapter 8 of the revised laws. The day not mentioned is Columbus day, October 12, and the bill was framed to cover this day because it was a much mooted question as to whether or not the saloon keeper was obliged by law to close his place of business on that day.

Relative to appropriations for holiday observances the following order will be introduced at the adjourned meeting of the common council to be held this evening. The resolution will be introduced by Councilman Charles A. Delaronde.

Resolution requesting joint committee on appropriations to consider matter of appropriations for holiday observances in connection with the annual appropriation order.

That the joint committee on appropriations be and it is hereby requested to consider in connection with annual appropriations order, the feasibility of recommending the following appropriations for holiday observance:

Memorial day—$1000 for G. A. R. Memorial day—$250 for Gen. Ames, Camp Spanish War Veterans.

Fourth of July—$2000. Labor Day—$1000.

His ability was not found wanting and the Shamrock III in the last race could not find the finish line, while "Charlie" Barr held the "Reliance" straight and true to victory.

The steel nerves were sought by Wilson Marshall when in 1905 Barr was given the wheel of the three master Atlantic for the ocean race against 13 other boats for the championship cup. The Atlantic was first.

During the last five years Mr. Barr's life has been less strenuous, although he had a particularly active season last year in England on the big schooner "Westward."

"Charlie" Barr was shy, reticent, but sharp in command and always in full charge of the deck.

He became a naturalized American in Boston in 1899 and made New London his home.

BARR WON KING'S CUP
BRISTOL, R. I., Jan. 24.—The career of Captain Barr is intimately associated with this state, where many of the boats in which he achieved fame were built. For the past 13 years he was a familiar figure at Bristol, coming here nearly every year to watch the construction at the Herreshoff yacht building works of the boats he was to command. His last appearance at Bristol was in the spring of 1910, when Alexander S. Cochran's schooner yacht "Westward" was being fitted out for him to take it across to England.

Among his many personal friends in the state was U. S. Senator Lippitt of this city, who was connected with him in several races for the America's cup.

Three years ago in Mr. Cochran's "Avenger," one of the greatest 57 foot racers ever built, Captain Barr won the King's cup at Newport and two years ago in the same boat he won the Astor cup.

His first American command was the Burgess sloop "Ovan" in 1891, and a year later he commanded the second of the 12-foot Herreshoff products, the "Vagabond" Phelps Carroll sent him to England in 1893 on the Navahoe and he had his first experience on the Navahoe of crossing the Atlantic on a yacht. The following year he sailed the "Gloria" and in 1896 he again entered America's cup competitions when he handled the two-year-old "Vigilant" against the newly built "Defender" in the trial races off Sandy Hook.

A second trip to England was made in 1896 when he commanded Howard Gould's Niagara in a fairly successful season in British waters. Two years later he trod the deck of a "two-sticker" when he took charge of the schooner "Collins." Then came "Charlie" Barr's real advent into America's cup defense for in 1899 he was selected from a score of skippers to handle the famous Columbia and sent Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock I back to England badly defeated.

After a year on a 70 footer Barr was called back to the Columbia in 1901 and won an up-hill fight in beating out the Constitution, a newer boat, in the race for the America's cup. defense. The sailing duel that year between Barr on the Columbia and Rhodes on the Constitution was regarded as the grandest fight in American yachting annals. The Shamrock II met the fate of her sister. The "Reliance" year of 1903 put "Charlie" Barr in command of the greatest sloop yacht ever constructed.

He was born at Grounrock, Scotland, in 1867, the son of a successful Scottish boat-builder. He sailed small boats about the firths of Scotland until 1884, when he brought the famous twenty tonner "Chara" to this country.

He sailed successfully in American waters and followed her the next year with the "Shona." His first experience in America's cup races, which afterwards brought him his greatest fame, was on the Scotch challenger "Thistle" in 1887, when he was one of the mates, while his brother, John Barr, was the skipper. The defeat of the "Thistle" did not discourage the Barrs for "Charlie" returned two years later with the famous "Albatross" with which he won in 1890 19 out of 22 starts and in 1900 ten firsts out of 12 starts.

Therefore, be it

MRS. SCHENK WEPT

Broke Down While Her Counsel Was Making Argument

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 24.—When the criminal court of Ohio county convened today for the fourteenth day of the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk charged with attempting to poison her husband, John O. Schenk, the arguments to the jury were resumed by Fred L. Maury, assistant prosecuting attorney, who began his address yesterday. Mr. Maury was to be followed by Frank O'Brien, associate counsel for the defense. It was indicated that the defense would base its case largely on the plea for sympathy for Mrs. Schenk, the claim of a conspiracy having been eliminated when Judge L. S. Jordan ruled out the evidence obtained from Mrs. Jane Hedges, who declared that Albert Schenk had spoken of leaving no stone unturned to remove "that woman" from the Schenk family. It was arranged that Frank O'Brien should be followed by his brother, J. P. O'Brien, chief counsel for the defense, that Mr. Maury should answer the arguments of both the O'Briens and that the case of the defense should be closed by S. O. Boyce.

The feature of the arguments was expected to come when prosecuting attorney Maury made the closing plea for the state. At the meeting of the Ohio County Medical society last night charges were made against Dr. J. W. Myers, witness for the state in the Schenk trial, alleging that he has engaged in criminal practice and asking that he be expelled from the society. Dr. Myers in a statement declared that he will be proved innocent of the charges, which were referred to the board of censors for investigation. Assistant Prosecutor Maury reviewed the testimony of the experts who had examined Mr. Schenk, telling how they had agreed that the million-dollar racket was suffering from lead and arsenic poisoning. He then again launched into an arraignment of Mrs. Schenk.

For the first time since the trial began Mrs. Schenk broke down and sobbed. The assistant prosecutor had completed his address, which was filled with invective and hard words for the defendant and attorney Frank O'Brien was opening for the defense, when, overcome by his allusion to "this poor defenseless woman, here," Mrs. Schenk could no longer restrain her feelings. Mr. O'Brien's statements at once indicated the line of action to be followed—a plea of sympathy for Mrs. Schenk, a fierce attack on many of the state's witnesses and the unreliability of circumstantial evidence.

The state was charged by Mr. O'Brien with having brought a horde of Pittsburgh detectives into the case, merely to worm their way into the affections of the defendant and to secure her confession, and for the good of John O. Schenk, but to rid the Schenks of John Schenk's wife. He declared that he had worked persistently to have her put the poison in her husband's medicine and to catch her in the act and, not accomplishing this, they had trumped up evidence against her. Throughout Mr. O'Brien's plea, Mrs. Schenk kept her head bowed on the table and sobbed explosively. Dr. J. W. Myers, who testified that he had sold sugar of lead to Mrs. Schenk, was attacked by Mr. O'Brien. The inference was left with the jurors that some one other than the defendant had poisoned the water and medicine. Mrs. Schenk was actually found. J. P. O'Brien in his argument declared that the defense admitted that there was lead poison and arsenic in the medicine John Schenk took, but that Laura never put them there. He said that the defendant had been conspired against and lied about and that if poison was given to the victim it was by another who desired only to cast suspicion on her. The morning session closed with Mr. O'Brien still presenting his argument.

DISCRIMINATION

Charged Against Foreign Steamship Co.'s

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Emphatic resolutions charging gross discrimination on the part of foreign steamship companies against American manufacturers and asking congress to take vigorous measures to destroy "the arrogant alien maritime trusts" were unanimously adopted today by the National Merchant Marine congress. The convention also petitioned congress for the creation of an independent steamship service of American ships, built for the naval reserve and to be honestly and ably managed in American interests.

In furtherance of the merchant marine movement the convention decided to create a bureau among the labor unions and trade organizations of the country asking them to urge congress to take immediate action on behalf of American shipping interests so as to make possible increased manufacture at home. Rep. Barchfield of Pittsburgh told the delegates that congress would pass some form of ship subsidy legislation at the present session, but it would only be a compromise measure affecting the mail service to South America.

James Elwell, secretary of the convention, spoke at length on the benefits that a merchant marine would have upon the export trade of the country.

THE SUBWAY

IN NEW YORK SCARED JULIUS LORENZEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—When it's a question of money it's usually too little of it that causes the detention of immigrants at Ellis island, but Julius Lorenzen, a German farmer who got in on the Melike on Sunday, was detained because he had too much. Lorenzen came here to get meat and buy farm and when the immigration officers asked if he had the $25 which immigrants are required to show he produced $3500.

Lorenzen expected no one to meet him and the officers were afraid to let him loose in New York with so much ready money. They suggested that he wait at Ellis island until his trustworthy person could be found to enter him through the dangers of a big city. Lorenzen remembered that he had a friend living in Lexington avenue and yesterday he started out with a guard to find his friend.

The personally conducted party began the up-town journey by way of the subway, but got out hurriedly at the Brooklyn bridge and walked back to the Battery. Lorenzen, who was almost hysterical, explained in excited German that he expected to see the subway walls fall in upon him at any moment and that the place was full of horrible noises. He also explained that he had seen enough of New York to want to get back to his little German village before a worse thing befell him. "You needn't bother to deport me," translated the interpreter. "I'll buy my own ticket and go back on the first German ship."

BOY SPANKED

HIS MOTHER ADMINISTERED PUNISHMENT IN COURT

WESTFIELD, N. J., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Mary Nelson of Jersey City gave her fifteen-year-old son a public spanking in the police court yesterday. Young Nelson, with three other boys, Harvey Higbie, John Broderick and Horace Rose, boarded a freight train at Commack when Westfield was reached. The train was stopped and the boys were put off. They were found in the depot asleep and were taken to the station house and the Jersey City police were notified. Mrs. Nelson was excited when she arrived to claim her boy. "Chief, I would like to give that boy a good spanking, but I don't want to," she said. "Go ahead, put on the hickory; they all need it," replied the chief. Mrs. Nelson marched Paul in front of the judge's desk, where she spanked him with a coal shovel and cutted his ears. "And you'll get the broomstick too when we get home," added Mrs. Nelson.

THE MILK STATION, 17 DUTTON STREET

The milk station on Dutton street is doing considerable work for the winter season. It has now 37 babies on its list. Miss Lindsay, the efficient nurse, has gone to a hospital near Montreal, and her departure is much regretted by those who knew her ability. Miss Helen W. Chadbourne is now in charge, and the district nurses are having plenty of work to do. The Metropolitan Insurance company calls them in on quite a number of cases, and their services are of great benefit to the poor people. When they go to the homes of the sick they take hold and put things in proper order, and by their aid render invaluable assistance to the families, often to the weary housewife worn out by fatigue and loss of sleep. The advice of the nurses in domestic hygiene is worth a great deal. These nurses are educating the families wherever they call on the value and necessity of fresh air, personal cleanliness, neatness, order and regularity, not only in diet but in general habits of life.

GOVERNOR FOSS

Asks Authority to Investigate All State Boards

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Before making up the budget of state expenses for the coming year, in accordance with the act of 1910, Gov. Foss asked the legislature today for authority to investigate all state boards in order to ascertain if they are conducting their affairs with business-like efficiency. The last legislature, through the efforts of Speaker Joseph Walker of the house, passed the making up of the state budget in the hands of the governor. His excellency, in a message to the senate and house today, states that he has not sufficient authority to make such investigations into the business methods of the state boards as are necessary so he asked for the assistance of experts. He says that it is not sufficient to admit the accounts of the different boards. What is necessary, he declares, is an inquiry into the manner of carrying on the state's business, including all institutions and commissions that are supported by the state. The matter will be taken up by the joint committee on rules.

BLACK HANDERS

GIVE EVIDENCE THAT THEY KNOW THE LAW

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Two Italians convicted last week in the county court in Brooklyn of extortion may escape with light sentences by reason of a decision recently handed down by the court of appeals in which it is held that a spoken demand for money under threat of death is only a misdemeanor unless it is part of a plan to commit an actual robbery. If the demand is in writing it is a felony. Giovanni Gulica and George Trella didn't put their demands in writing, and Judge Dike, although intending to sentence them yesterday, deferred doing so until he could consult with the district attorney. The judge said that 50 per cent of the Black Hand cases that come before him are based on spoken demands for money, and he expressed an emphatic opinion that the legislature should amend the law to cover these cases.

COMMON COUNCIL

To Receive Department Estimates This Evening

Mayor Meehan and his secretary are busy on department estimates to be submitted to the common council tonight. The mayor issued a letter, some time ago, to the heads of departments, asking for reports of estimates and expenses for their respective departments, and the figures he wanted have been a bit late in arriving. Some of the departments made quick response to the mayor's requests for figures, while others put it off until the 11th hour, so to speak. The estimates received by the mayor were hustled away to the printer and today the mayor and his secretary are reading proof. There were only a few figures obtainable this forenoon. The city treasurer asks for $11,594. The expenses of his department last year amounted to $11,401.68. The charity department, for outdoor relief, asks for $32,647.92. The expenses of the department last year were $22,221.02. Included in the extra amount asked for by the board is the "feeling" bill, so-called. This bill amounts to a little more than $4000. Last year the expenses of the Chelmsford Street hospital were $53,412.48, and the sum of $55,741.25 is asked this year. The city clerk asks for $6802. Last year he spent $6519.03. The city messenger spent $17,939.55 last year, and this year he asks for $18,600. The city sealer spent $2295.91 last year, and this year his estimate is $2980. The engineer's department asks for $3000.00. The assessors' spent $12,238.69 last year and ask for $15,611.40 this year. The city auditor asks for $5590. The lands and building department asks for $61,131.00 as against an expenditure of $53,712.00 for last year.

STANDARD OIL

Found Not Guilty of Violating Law

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 24.—The Standard Oil Co. was adjudged not guilty today of violating the anti-trust law of North Carolina by cutting prices of kerosene oil so as to drive out competition. The case was heard in December by Police Justice Alex Strenach, who handed down a written opinion today in favor of the Standard Oil Co. on all counts.

P. O. APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The postage appropriation bill was passed by the house today. The pay of carriers on the rural free delivery routes is to be increased $100 each per year by an amendment added just before the final vote on the measure was taken. An effort to substitute stamps for the franking privilege now in vogue was ruled out.

Rev. G. G. Roth of Belgium will lecture tonight at Odd Fellows hall in Middlesex street. His subject will be "The Destinies of Another World." Another lecture will be given Friday evening in the same hall on "The End of the World."

NOT A VAN DYKE

PORTRAIT HELD UP IN CUSTOM HOUSE WILL BE RELEASED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The treasury department heard yesterday from the Austro-Hungarian consul at Boston that the "Portrait of a Boy" held up by the customs authorities at that port because it was thought to have been a Van Dyke stolen from a Viennese count, was not a painting by the master's hand. It will be released to the importers. The painting came into Boston several months ago. It was valued in the importers' invoice at 200 francs, but the appraiser heard rumors that it was genuine Van Dyke belonging to Count Harrach of Vienna, which was stolen in August, 1908, and it was not admitted. The matter was referred to the Austro-Hungarian consul at Boston, who investigated.

CHILTON ELECTED SENATOR

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 24.—On the first ballot in the legislature today W. E. Chilton received 62 votes for United States senator, full term, three more than enough to elect. Clarence Watson, for the short term, received 57 votes, two short of the number necessary for election. Rep. Hubbard of Wheeling bolted the session, charging bribery in caucus.

Holds Lead in the Catholic League

As a result of the Y. M. C. I. winning three points from the Y. M. C. U. on the alleys last night the former team once more assumes the undisputed leadership in the race for honors in the Catholic league. Coleman, as usual, was rolling in excellent form and assisted greatly in scoring a victory.

In the game between the Knights of Columbus and St. Peter's, the former team won two of the three points. Lang of the winning team was high man.

The Willows and Rocklands of the Minor league bowled last night, the former team winning two points and the total. Buckley of the Willows made the best score.

The Ironquills team had little trouble in beating the Cuckoos in the Minor league, last night, but fell down on the third. Mackay, of the winners, was high roller, with a total of 282, although Callahan of the Cuckoos put up 281.

FLY GLIDING ALONG RUNWAY AFTER PEACHES WARSHIP

ELY LANDING ON CRUISER PENNSYLVANIA

ter deck of the ship. It sloped gently aft, and across the floor were stretched ropes with 100 pound sand bags made fast at either end. These were designed to be caught by hooks on the lower framework of the biplane. As a further precaution a canvas barrier was stretched across the forward end of the platform. Ladders and ship's boats fully manned were put out in event of a mishap. Ely had installed two seven-foot pontoons under his aeroplane to float the machine in case he were forced to descend on the water, and forward he had built a hydroplane to keep the aeroplane from diving into the water. At 10:55 o'clock in the morning of Jan. 17 the lookout on the cruiser Pennsylvania sighted Ely through the haze, and the ship's siren roared a blast of welcome. He came on at a terrific speed, and circled around the fleet, dipping in salute to each ship, and came up in the wind for the stern of the Pennsylvania. He was flying low as he neared the ship and dropped down lightly, striking the platform about forty feet from the inner end. The hooks on the aeroplane caught the ropes and stopped the biplane within sixty feet. When Ely touched the deck he was going about thirty-five miles an hour, but so gradually was the speed checked by the dragging of the weighted ropes as they were caught in succession that he came to a standstill without disarranging any part of his machine.

Both men who appeared in this contest have been the target for many challenges. Sullivan in particular has been selected by champions of the middleweight title as a worthy opponent. The first to come across with a defi to Tommy is Bill McKinnon of Boston. Bill is a great boxer and he has no doubt, but Sullivan will give him his attention in due time. The Lawrence man bars no boxer at the middleweight limit.

Johnny Gardner and Terry Martin played to capacity in Fall River, and Ed Moore and Matty Baldwin did likewise in Boston, while the benefit for Johnny Nelson, the newspaper man, in Boston, was also a big success. Indications are that the game is coming back stronger than ever. Clean contests, with honest decisions and both men trying for victory at all times will put the game on a sound basis again.

BANKER'S WIFE THE B. & L. ROAD

To Eat One Squab a Day on Bet Wants to Issue New Stock

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Could you eat a nice broiled squab for luncheon every day for a month? Would you wager $100 that you could?

There is a difference of opinion on the matter, and it will be tried. Mrs. A. Cuneo, wife of the wealthy Italian banker and expert woman auto driver, will try it, and her husband has posted a wager of $100 that she can. S. Ron-danina, a well to do butcher of 45 Mott street, has covered the wager with $200, and the first squab was eaten by Mrs. Cuneo yesterday at an eating house not far from the banker's offices at Park and Mulberry streets.

It all came about in this wise: The banker and other wealthy men eat luncheon every day at a certain cafe, and several days ago Ron-danina entered the place and ordered a squab. Suddenly he changed his order.

"You may make that half a squab," he said to the proprietor.

The other diners laughed. "The idea of a man eating half a squab seemed to them ridiculous. The question then arose, and the butcher held that it would be impossible for a person to eat a squab every day for a month running.

"The idea that one would be compelled to eat the squab or any other bit of meat or poultry would turn one's stomach," said the butcher. "Now, I'll bet you $200 to $100 that you cannot do it," he continued.

"Well, while I might not," said Cuneo, "I'll bet my wife can."

It was put up to the wife, and she consented to make the bet. It was further agreed that on Sundays (those in the party should dine with the banker at his home in Scarsdale) and the squab should be served as usual.

When seen yesterday at his offices Mr. Cuneo was not inclined to talk about the wager. "It was a little private wager between friends," he said, "and I won't discuss it."

Mrs. Cuneo is noted as being a daring automobile driver and has entered cars in the Vanderbilt cup contest repeatedly. Louis Disbrow is her racing driver.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY

TO INQUIRE INTO THE ELECTION OF LODGE

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—District Attorney Pelletier has instituted an investigation of the charges of bribery made in connection with the election of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Yesterday afternoon he summoned to his office Foster Coates, managing editor of the Boston American. The district attorney had heard and read so much of the bribery charges that he wrote to Mr. Coates requesting him to call and present all the evidence he might have on the charges which have been published in the newspaper of which he is editor.

Editor Coates reached the court house about 3 p. m. and remained with the county prosecutor half an hour. At the conclusion of the interview District Attorney Pelletier said he had nothing to give out for publication at this time.

Mr. Coates was questioned by the district attorney in regard to the specific charges made in the American, that Collector of Customs Edwin U. Curtis and Fred Emery, the license commissioner, had influenced Martin P. Curley, a liquor dealer, and Michael J. Murray, proprietor of a Boston hotel, democratic senators, in voting for Senator Lodge by making promises to them.

The district attorney said if there was any tangible evidence it would be presented to the grand jury.

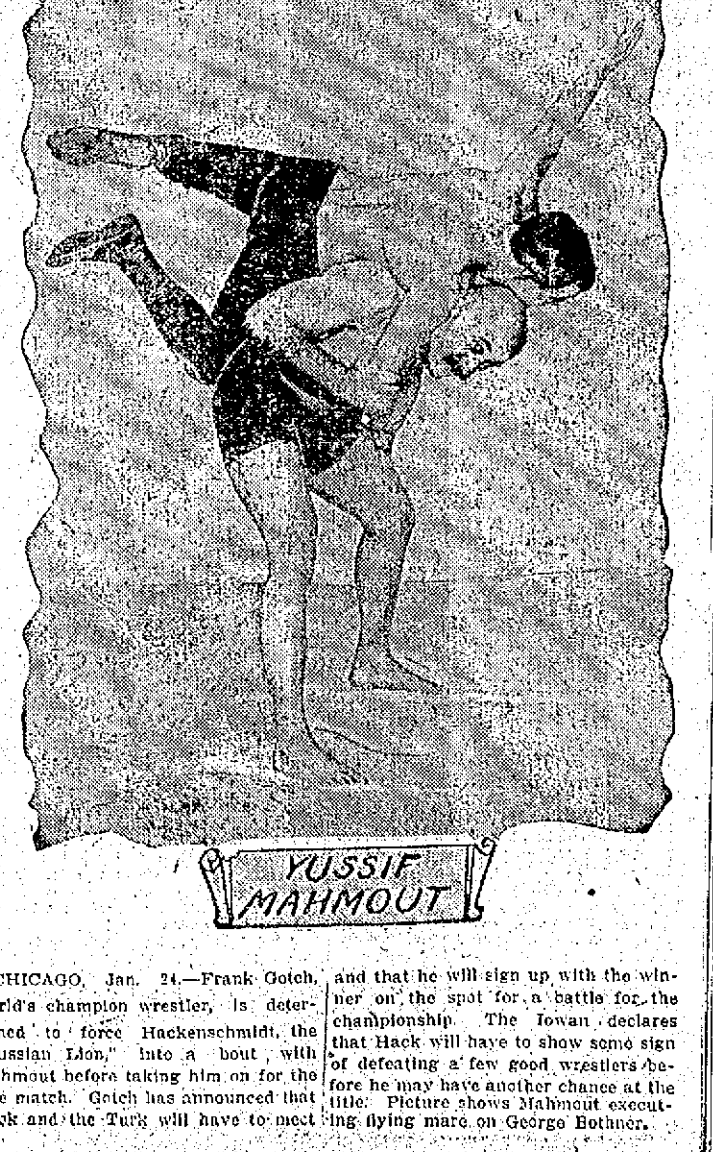

Chief High Lee, who is connected with the office of District Attorney Pelletier, declined to state yesterday whether or not he was working up evidence on the case for Mr. Pelletier to present to the grand jury.

Twenty-three years ago the Shattuck family moved to Lowell and subsequently Mr. Shattuck was employed at Lakeview park, afterwards taking a position with Edward Ellingwood at the latter's drug store in Barristers Hall. While there Mr. Shattuck failed in health and upon the advice of physicians went to Rutland, Mass., where he spent several months and upon his return to Lowell was apparently enjoying the best of health. Inasmuch as he did not possess a rugged constitution he was advised to take up outdoor employment and for five years drove one of the delivery wagons for the A. G. Pollard Co.

Subsequently he went to work with his father at the Blacksmith shop in West Third street, where he was employed until the time of his death.

He was united in marriage to Al-bina P. Braut on June 22, 1893, and besides his wife he leaves to mourn his loss two sons, Paul and Theodore; a father and mother, Silas and Sarah, and two sisters, Misses Minnie A. and Marion A. Shattuck.

The Political Forces Lining Up for the Struggle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—National politics are seething again in Washington. Four interesting things have happened or come to the notice of public men within the last day or two who attach to them a significance as bearing on the great battle to be fought next year. They are:

The election of William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the New York republican state committee, which shows that the old guard is back in the saddle.

The evident determination of William Jennings Bryan to prevent the nomination of Governor Harmon of Ohio and to endeavor to nominate a "progressive" rather than a "reactionary."

A revival of Mr. Roosevelt's activities in that he is writing to his admirers in the west informing them that he is willing to make speeches in western territory.

The formation of a republican progressive league.

The election of Barnes is hailed with keen satisfaction by the friends of President Taft. It means, they say, that there is no longer any fear of Mr.

Roosevelt being a serious factor in the national convention next year, as New York will send a delegation under the control of the old guard.

The old guard is for Mr. Taft's re-nomination, for the renomination of the old ticket. In fact, because of the intimate relations existing between the men now in control of the New York machine and Vice President Sherman, who has always trained with Barnes and his associates.

Bryan Against Harmon

Certain prominent democrats have recently received letters from Charles W. Bryan, William J. Bryan's brother and the publisher of his paper, the Commonwealth, urging them to get together and prevent the nomination of a reactionary of the conservative wing of the democratic party and to work for the nomination of a progressive. While these letters are written by Charles Bryan, democrats who have received them say they were inspired by the former presidential candidate. To prevent it being said that Charles Bryan is engineering a boom for his brother, the letters say that in considering the available candidates for the presidency Mr. Bryan's name should not be included.

Conservative democrats who have been told of these letters are somewhat disturbed, as they fear that Mr. Bryan is attempting on the part of Mr. Bryan to break the harmony now existing and once again bring a united action. Mr. Bryan, it is well known, is especially interested in preventing the nomination of Governor Harmon. He has long been at odds with him and tried to prevent his re-nomination last year. He made a little of any effect and Governor Harmon did not consider it necessary to pay any attention to Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan's sentiment regarding Woodrow Wilson or Governor Dix is not known but it is believed he would accept any candidate almost if by doing so he could defeat Harmon.

While Mr. Bryan does not appear to possess the power he once did democrats realize that he is still an influential figure and that it would be fatal to democratic chances of success next year if Mr. Bryan should bolt the nomination.

The information has come to Washington that Mr. Roosevelt is anxious to make speeches in the west. He has written to several of his supporters there that he will make addresses if dates can be arranged for him and proper invitation extended. Republicans who have heard of this are somewhat puzzled. They do not quite know what Mr. Roosevelt's plans are. If he makes speeches in the west they think he will have made a great thing for his own nationalism, for they think it likely that he will ask for the re-nomination of Mr. Taft for an endorsement of the present policies of the republican party.

It is the opinion of the best informed republicans that Mr. Roosevelt need not be considered as a presidential candidate next year. He has a feeling that Mr. Taft will be re-nominated, and Mr. Roosevelt could only be nominated if the radicals controlled the convention, which no one thinks possible. It is thought that should happen it is by no means certain Mr. Roosevelt would be the nominee as he would find opposition from Cummins, La Follette and others of the extreme radical wing of the republican party.

Insurgents Organize. In that connection the announcement today of the nomination of the National progressive republic league by insurgent senators, representatives, governors and other men who believe in the insurgent policies acquires interest. The object of the league, it is stated, is "the promotion of popular government and progressive legislation."

The formation of the league, according to some politicians, is to create a rallying point for the opposition to the re-nomination of President Taft and build up a machine by which the control of the party can be wrested from the hands of the conservatives.

Some of the men whose names are signed to the declaration yesterday denied this and said that the purpose of the league was not to oppose Mr. Taft, but to create strong progressive sentiment in their respective states, which after all amounts to the same thing. If a feeling in the various states exists hostile to the president and his policies it will mean the election to the next convention of delegates, opposed to Mr. Taft's re-nomination.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked by the organizers of the league to be one of the charter members. He refused, but the men who organized the league say that it has Mr. Roosevelt's approval and that he is in full sympathy with its purposes.

Senator Bourne of Oregon is the president of the league, the vice president is Representative Norris of Nebraska and Gov. Osborne of Michigan, all strong insurgents.

It is significant that the treasurer is Charles R. Crane of Chicago, the man who was appointed by the president to be minister to China, but who was recalled to San Francisco by Secretary Taft because of his alleged indiscreet utterances. All the other charter members of the league are dyed-in-the-wool insurgents.

LUMBER TIED UP

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 24.—Millions of feet of lumber are tied up for want of snow in the woods, according to a statement made by A. F. Bentley, one of the largest lumber operators in the province.

Unless a heavy fall of snow should come within the very near future, said the lumber king, "the lumbering situation throughout the province would be most critical, as it is now conditions are very serious. Millions of feet, owing to the scarcity of snow, are tied up. Along the bank of the St. John river chopping was discontinued some days ago and everything is in readiness for hauling the logs to the streams. In comparison with other winters the fall of snow this season has been very light and along the lowlands the woods are practically bare."

63 Years of Age—Younger Than at 40

Mrs. J. W. McPeck of Herbert, Sask., Can., is more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which has been of great benefit to her family. She says in her letter: "I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past ten years. It is the best health giver I ever used. I am now feeling younger than at 40. My friends all say, 'How young you look!'"

"It has also proved just the thing for my daughter, who lives in Ohio. She had such weak nerves and heart that the slightest move would startle her. Your wonderful remedy has practically overcome this, and has done her more good than all other treatments."

Mrs. McPeck writes about her remarkable experience: "I am 62 years of age, and for a number of years I haven't been strong. I have a weak heart and for some time was almost helpless. Lately I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and it has helped me wonderfully. I sincerely recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to everyone."

ANNUAL BANQUET OF F. COMPANY, UNITED BOYS' BRIGADE

F. company, Fifth Massachusetts United Boys' Brigade American, of the First Trinitarian-Congregational church, held its first annual banquet at the church vestry last night.

The event was the first annual, although the company has been in existence for three years, and was attended by 60 boys, and the latter enjoyed it to the limit. As it was not a military night but a social event, the boys did not wear their uniforms. The company formed in the children's vestry and marched to the banquet hall. Charles M. Barlow catered and he provided an ample and excellent supper. Misses Mabel Sullivan, Mabel George, Grace Muehrle, Ethel Pendexter and Eva Henderson acted as waiters.

Rev. George F. Kennigott was the presiding officer. The speakers of the evening were Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, whose topic was "The Boy Scouts of America," Capt. Taylor and Lieut. Mochrie of the company, Rothell Smith, a former lieutenant of the company, Thomas M. Williams of the Y. M. C. A., who spoke on "The Boys' Camp," Walter R. Jeyes, Sergt. Cornelius Barnes and Mr. Kennigott.

The musical part of the program was furnished by Emily Hartford, who sang while Miss Eva Henderson accompanied on the piano.

The officers of the company are: Herbert Taylor, captain; William Mochrie, first lieutenant; Irving Snyder, second lieutenant. The drill master is Sergt. Cornelius Barnes of Company G, Sixth regiment, M. V. M. Capt. Walter R. Jeyes was the first drill master and the first captain was Chester B. Wheeler, who subsequently became colonel of the High school regiment and who is now at the Massachusetts Agricultural college. He was succeeded by George H. Unton, who is now at Worcester academy. The company has been successful and prosperous and does excellent work.

RISKED HIS LIFE

In Attempt to Save His Money

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Thick smoke from a fire in the paint shop of the three-story building at the corner of Huntington and South Huntington avenues, Roxbury, yesterday afternoon made the escape of tenants hazardous. A man who tried to return to his shop to get his cash and tools was overpowered and rescued by a patrolman, while a woman on the third floor had a narrow escape carrying out her four-months-old baby.

The ground floor of the building, with an entrance at 6 South Huntington avenue, is occupied by the Brookline Painting & Decorating company. The two upper floors are apartments, with an entrance at 202 Huntington avenue.

The fire started in the rear, on the ground floor in a paint shop. The proprietor, Samuel Stector, was seated at his desk in the front office, when an explosion occurred that threw him to the floor. He was stunned for a minute but, recovering, ran to the street shouting "Fire."

Patrolman Thomas Rooney of station 10 was standing at the corner and rung the fire alarm. Stector suddenly remembered that his cash and tools were in the office, and tried to go back, but fell unconscious on the floor, overcome by smoke. Patrolman Rooney groped about in the smothering smoke from the office and paint shop, until he stumbled over the body of Stector. Raising him in his arms he carried him outside, where his son revived Stector. Several slight bursts of smoke in the meantime had eaten its way into the second floor, where Mrs. J. N. Sheafe and her daughter Mary were. They managed to escape without difficulty, but on the top floor Mrs. J. E. Murphy had a narrow escape. When the smoke began to pour into her apartment, she picked up her four-months-old baby and tried to go down the rear stairs, but found the smoke too dense, so she turned and started toward the front stairs. Although that exit was filled with smoke, she managed to grope her way to the street.

The tailor shop of A. Lewis, at 304 Huntington avenue, next door, was filled with smoke, and Lewis and his wife fled into the street. The fire started from spontaneous combustion. The loss was about $1500, principally on the contents of the Brookline Painting & Decorating company.

HIP LAMENESS

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat it

This is brought about in the same manner as lameness of the shoulder and is followed by the same results, and as much obscurity manifests itself in determining hip lameness as shoulder lameness. First, however, let us examine critically the outline of the joint and immediate region for any difference in size or symmetry of the parts, any prominence or rotundity, coming both sides. We may find one side larger than the other, or more developed. Take the leg at the lower part and lifting it up try to induce excessive passive motion. Push the thigh against the hip bone, which perhaps will indicate pain when in motion. The limited action of the hip joint on the back side and the marked dropping and raising of the hip on the other side will indicate to us the trouble. The leg, as in shoulder lameness, will be carried forward rather than a circular motion. Turning round is also difficult and helps in diagnosing the trouble. Hip lameness is rather more serious than shoulder lameness because of the tendency of permanent disability, exostosis and arthritis. What follows often resists every kind of treatment.

Absolute and extended rest is imperative; unless this is thoroughly adopted and carried out other aids are absolutely useless. First, then, let us give the required rest. Cold water showers alternating with hot compresses, cover with hot wet blankets, repeating frequently, and at length, mild soothing liniment, followed when the inflammation has subsided, by stimulating liniments, ulsters, etc., which can be repeated several times to advantage, but don't overlook the matter of rest.

CURE

The bulging backwards of the posterior portion of the neck joint, the line which should be straight in a normal condition. Curbs result from heavy pulling, jumping and slipping and similar accidents, inflammation, etc. At first a swelling more or less diffuse, heat and soreness, with lameness of a permanent nature. Later the swelling will be well defined, more noticeable in every way, the curved line easily detected, readily felt with the fingers. The lameness may now vary in degree. Possibly the animal will not show the lameness now at all. The hock affected with a curb becomes a source of danger, for it is weak and cannot withstand the strain and work of a normal hock. It is well to begin at first indication of trouble to make hot fomentations, cold showers, friction and liniment. If, however, the hock is well defined and does not yield to these forms of treatment, get to work with more severe measures. Apply a good absorbent, iodine, fringing, rest and repeating the blister will do much to overcome the ordinary curb.

EVADES THE LAW

MAN WEDS GIRL ON A TUG-BOAT

EDINBURGH, Jan. 24.—Alfred R. Scott, Jr., of New York, and Miss Stella Pentling, also of New York, were married on a tugboat yesterday.

The couple, who had been touring the continent, came to Edinburgh for the purpose of being married. They found that a residence of three weeks was necessary to conform to the Scotch law.

Alfred, to start for the United States, Mr. Scott chartered a tug at Leith, and accompanied by Miss Pentling, a minister, lawyers and friends, proceeded four miles to sea, where the ceremony was performed.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 24.—George Taylor, 32 years old, got out of a train here yesterday morning, walked to the police station and said "I'm going crazy." The police did not believe him.

Late yesterday afternoon Faves went violently insane in a Main street barber shop. He attacked former Assistant Chief Engineer William Leahy, who was in one of the chairs and tried to bite his hand off. Leahy had a terrible struggle with the mad man and was being overpowered when another customer dealt Faves a blow with his fist. Then three policemen arrived and took Faves to the county jail.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Local 352, International Association of Stationary Engineers, was held last night at their large, 71 Central street. There was a large attendance and considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Two applications for membership were received and one new member was initiated.

The holding and portable members of the local announced the schedule they have prepared to go into effect the first of May. This calls for $3 a day, with time and a half for all overtime, holidays and Sundays.

The officers of the local will attend the banquet in the Quincy House, Boston, Wednesday night, tendered by Representative James J. Brennan, who is president of local 74, of Boston. Mr. Brennan is the first member of the craft to sit in the legislature.

WHO MUST PAY?

Money Was Taken from Gas Meter

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Can a household be held responsible for money stolen from a slot gas meter, and can payment for the same be compelled by shutting off the supply of gas.

Here is an interesting question submitted to the Gas and Electric Light commission by James F. Finerman of Malden, president of the Massachusetts Gas Association. While similar cases have been brought to the attention of the commission, the disputes have always been settled by the two parties and no ruling has ever been made by the commission formally fixing the responsibility.

The commission, through Chairman Barker, has decided to give the petitioner a public hearing on Feb. 1 on his grievance against the Malden and Melrose Gas Light company.

Rep. James C. Cavanagh, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, said last night:

"During the month of October the gas company alleged money was stolen from quarter meters in the cellar of the apartment house occupied by Mr. Finerman and that a certain amount of money was stolen from the meter from which Mr. Finerman's apartment was supplied. The gas company contends Mr. Finerman is responsible for the money which was stolen and has demanded he pay the same. It has notified him that unless the same is paid it will take out his meter."

"We purpose to have a ruling from the gas and electric light commissioners, if possible, to determine whether or not the householder is responsible for money stolen out of a meter. So far as I know it has been the practice of the gas companies to compel people to pay money stolen from their gas meters, thus obliging the consumers to pay twice for the gas used."

The petitioner prays:

"First—That the respondents be enjoined and restrained from removing said meter from the house occupied by your petitioner."

"Second—That the respondents be directed and required to supply gas to your petitioner."

"Third—That the respondents be restrained from forcing your petitioner to pay for money alleged to have been stolen from said meter by discontinuing any supply."

"Fourth—That the respondents be required to refund to your petitioner the $125 paid by your petitioner into a meter in advance for gas, which gas your petitioner has never received."

"Fifth—And for such further orders as your honorable commission may deem just and right."

McCurdy to Make Preliminary Flight

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 24.—With all preliminary arrangements completed for his flight from Key West to Havana, Aviator J. R. McCurdy announced last night that a start would be made about 7 a. m. Wednesday instead of at daylight as he previously had decided on. As a last precaution test flight will be made this afternoon to try out the motor and test the winds. The torpedo destroyers and other naval vessels which will patrol the waters between here and Havana will leave Key West tonight and take their stations about ten miles apart. The first vessel stopping 300 miles from Sand Keys. Immediately upon the appearance of McCurdy's airship on the horizon the boats will belch forth dense smoke to indicate his course and give the signal to the next boat beyond. After McCurdy has passed them the torpedo destroyers will make a dash for Havana. Arrangements have been made to report the progress of the aviator by wireless. McCurdy stated last night that with favorable winds he expected to make the distance of 115 miles in 1 hour and 45 minutes, or about two hours if he is forced to combat head winds.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

The legislature this year will be called upon to take some action toward enacting a workmen's compensation act. This law has been advocated throughout this country during the past year, but so far as we know has not yet been adopted by any of the states. The object of it is to relieve employees who meet with accidents, either through their own negligence or otherwise, from the possibility of facing starvation or going to the poorhouse. The law would put an end to the great amount of litigation that is carried on between employer and employee over damage claims resulting from accidents. The employee who is living usually from hand to mouth is not prepared to fight large corporations in the courts. The litigation is very expensive, and unless the employee succeeds in getting a verdict for substantial damages he is seldom able to pay his lawyer. In many cases, even where the verdict is liberal in amount, when every expense is paid, there is very little left for the claimant. This is the main reason why the workmen's compensation law is advocated as a humane measure that would lift the employee out of the embarrassing circumstances in which he is placed whenever he meets with an accident that brings total or partial disability. The European countries have long ago discovered the necessity of such a law and many of them have applied it with the most satisfactory results to all concerned. Under the provisions of the law as applied in 22 countries the amount to be paid by the corporations for any specified injury is fixed and no lawsuit is required. All that is necessary is, that the employee shall prove his claim and give conclusive evidence that it is just and right. Under such conditions the employer is obliged to pay the amount. In the long run the law benefits the employer as well as the employee, first in preventing employees who are unfortunate enough to be injured in accidents from becoming public charges, and second in promoting good feeling between employer and employee. The latter is not the least of the benefits accruing from the operation of this law and the relations between labor and capital where the law exists, are said to be much improved as a result of its operation. Certain corporations are opposed to the law as are some of the labor organizations, but we believe that both are mistaken in their opposition to the measure. Similar opposition was shown in European countries when the law was at first proposed, but when the people came to understand it they favored the measure and its application vindicated their judgment.

William N. Osgood of this city is one of the strongest advocates of the workmen's compensation law having served as a member of the commission to investigate the subject and having also framed an act that has been before the legislature in one form or another for several years past. Speaker Walker of the house made the statement last year that this subject would be one of the most important that would engage the attention of the general court this year. That indicates that Mr. Walker has already grasped the full scope and the great importance of the measure. It is to be hoped that other legislators will take a similar view of the question and assist in placing the law on the statute books of Massachusetts. An important contribution to the discussion of this measure comes from Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who advocated a law of this kind in his inaugural. What he says on the question has given it a greater impetus all over the country as his public utterances are widely read and his views respected by members of the legislatures of the different states throughout the country.

DANGER IN THE CONCORD RIVER

Editor Sun:

After reading your editorial as a parent with small children and residing close to the Concord river, I heartily approve your suggestion that the police be given power to arrest any boy found skating on the lower Concord in winter or bathing in it in summer. The ice is never good below the Rogers street bridge and for some distance above the bridge it is nearly as bad. Boys can never go on this ice except at the peril of their lives. In the summer the boys who bathe in the river get poisoned by the antine dyes and other chemicals from the mills, so that it is almost as necessary to prohibit bathing in summer as skating in winter. Hoping you will succeed in having something done to stop both.

Respectfully yours,
Lawrence Street.

Supt. Welch, in speaking upon this matter, admits that many lives would be saved by a police regulation that would forbid boys from skating on the lower Concord in winter and bathing in it in summer. The police board can make such an arrangement with the approval of the companies controlling the river. The board of aldermen if necessary will cooperate in authorizing some such arrangement. There might be legal barriers in the way but these could be overcome by proceeding against the boys found on the river on the charge of trespassing.

The people who reside in the vicinity of Lawrence street will be very glad to have an arrangement put in force under which any boy found on the lower Concord could be arrested and taken to the station. It would relieve the parents who reside near the river of a great deal of anxiety and would undoubtedly result in saving numerous lives.

JUDGE BOND'S PASSING

A great many people are surprised at the death of Judge Bond so soon after the Leblanc murder trial at which he presided. During the trial he had many sharp colloquies with the district attorney and afterwards he was criticized by some of the Boston papers for commenting upon features of the trial at which he presided. The excitement and fatigue incident to the case may have hastened his death. He was an able jurist and had long experience in criminal cases.

POLYGAMY IS CHARGED

According to investigations made by McClure's magazine it is alleged that polygamy is still prevalent in Utah. The writer of the article charges that the leaders of the Mormon church connive at the violation of the law by the members in spite of the pledges of twenty years ago. It would appear that while these charges made in a magazine may have slight foundation the persistence with which they appear would justify the United States government in looking into the question very thoroughly.

SEEN AND HEARD

The steamship Persian was speeding over summer seas, when one of the gay, young and inquiring girls who are found on every trip, skipped up to the captain and asked:

"Captain, are we really going fast? It seems as if we were just crawling."

"Fast," answered the captain gruffly, "of course we are going fast. With nothing to see but water and sky you can't judge our speed, but my dear young lady, the friction of the boat is so great it makes the water hot aft."

"I don't believe it," giggled the girl, and the captain with a great show of indignation, called for a rope and bucket to prove his words. These brought he slung the pall down aft of the vessel, directly under the drain pipe of the galley, where hot water runs all day, and brought it up smoking, to the astonishment of the water-struck girl.

A long, lean Yankee, who had been watching the performance, then came forward and drawled: "Say, cap, that must make you change your course mighty often."

"Change my course?" blustered the captain. "What would I change my course for?"

"Well," said the Yankee slowly, "so darn much friction as that must wear the ocean out mighty quick."—Exchange.

ONE, TWO, THREE

It was an old, old, old, old lady, and a boy that was half-past three; And the way that they played together was beautiful to see.

She couldn't go running and jumping, And the boy, no more could he, For he was a thin little fellow, With a thin little twisted knee.

They sat in the yellow twilight, Out under the maple tree; And the game they played I'll tell you, Just as it was told to me.

It was hide and seek they were playing, Though you'd never have known it to be— With an old, old, old, old lady, And the boy with the twisted knee.

"You're in the china closet," he'd say, And he'd laugh and laugh in his glee; But it wasn't the china closet, But he still had his two and his three.

"You are up in papa's bedroom, In the chest with the queer old key," And she said: "You are warm and warm," But you're not quite right, said she.

"It can't be the little cupboard Where mamma's things used to be— So it must be the clothespress, gram'ma!" And he found her with his three.

Then she covered her face with her fingers, That were wrinkled and white and wee, And she guessed where the boy was hiding, With a one and a two and a three.

And they never had stirred from their places, Right under the maple tree— This old, old, old, old lady, And the boy with the lame little knee.

This dear, dear, dear old lady, And the boy who was half-past three, — Henry Cuyler Bannan.

It gave something of a shock to some of the more decorous senators recently when he strolled into the chamber coatless and with a cigar in his mouth. In the same unconventional attire he presided over the deliberations of the senate. "I never could work with my coat on," was the Lieutenant governor's only explanation when the matter was called to his attention.

THANKED JUDGE SISTER KILLED

For Four Years Sentence to Prison While in Act of Repairing Elevator

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—A man stepped up to Judge Stevens in the lobby of the superior court yesterday and said: "Do you know me, judge?"

The honor replied that he did not recall the visitor.

"Well, you sentenced me to state prison for four years for forgery, and I came here to thank you. I have been released. I had a bad record, but I am a changed man. I intend to lead an honest life. I am going to the north-west, but before I went I thought I would call to see you and thank you."

The judge wished the caller good luck and success in his effort to be an honest citizen and the visitor went away.

The judge related the incident later in disposing of a case in the criminal session of the court.

Warren Finn, aged 31, came up for sentence on the charge of breaking and entering. He has been in court several times and has been placed on probation. His brother wanted him sent down to Maine, where his father was working temporarily, but when the judge learned all the facts of the case he concluded that he would not entertain the suggestion.

The judge committed him to the Suffolk house for boys.

George Wagenhauser was sent to state prison for a term of five to eight years on the charge of breaking and entering houses in the west end, and other parts of the city. James King, on a similar charge, was committed to the reformatory. Both had been in the coast artillery.

GREAT PROGRESS

IS BEING MADE BY ST. MARGARET'S RET'S PARISH

The parishioners of St. Margaret's parish in the Highlands have taken hold of the work of the parish, and with the assistance of the pastor, Rev. John J. Harkins, the parish gives promise of being among the leaders in this section. Rev. Fr. Harkins has called a meeting of the men of the parish for tomorrow evening, while the meeting of the ladies, which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed until Friday evening. Serious matters of importance to the welfare of the new parish will be discussed at the meetings, and the arrangements for the grand bazaar in May will be furthered. In the spring it is planned to break ground for the new church, hence the activity now manifested for the success of the various undertakings.

LABOR LEADERS

Placed On Trial in Federal Court

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24.—Charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust law by entering into a combination in restraint of interstate and foreign commerce, 67 delegates of labor unions, members of the New Orleans Dock and Cotton council were placed on trial yesterday in the federal court.

The prosecution resulted from a strike of union laborers employed on the water front here three years ago. The government alleges that the representatives of 13 labor unions, operating as the New Orleans Dock and Cotton Council, prevented the sailing of ships from this port and otherwise conspired to interfere with commerce.

FIREMAN CALLED

TO RESCUE CAT FROM A POLE IN NASHUA

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 24.—Nashua's two busiest departments, police and fire, were appealed to last night in the interests of one small cat which had climbed a telephone pole at the corner of Tolles and Ridge streets and could not get down.

Some humanely inclined person telephoned the police of pussy's predicament and Patrolman Thomas Sullivan attempted to give succor to the cat. Finally the fire department was called on and Thomas Degan was detailed for the job.

The cat had been on the pole since Friday.

THE KELLY CASE

Heard in the Equity Court in Boston

In the equity merit session of the superior court in Boston, yesterday, was opened, before Judge Hitchcock, a case of considerable legal interest. The case has to do with promissory notes alleged to have been signed by George G. Kelly of Bradford.

Mr. Kelly was familiarly known as "Stonewall Kelly". The complainant in the case is Mrs. Mary G. Leach, a step-daughter of Mr. Kelly. She is the executrix and chief beneficiary and she claims that the notes are forgeries.

The respondents in the case are: John T. Green of Lowell; J. C. Green of Nashua; George H. Green of Lawrence and William R. and Richard B. Green of Concord, all brothers and cousins of the late George G. Kelly, the testator, and all having an interest in the disputed notes, which are six in number. The sixth person interested is Susan E. Green, wife of John T. Green.

George G. Kelly died as the result of an accident, December 23, 1905. Mr. Kelly, who went to California in 1889, had acquired considerable property, and while in the west he married a widow with two small children, and on his return to the east took up his residence with his wife and her two children, a boy and a girl, on the old home place on the Lawrence road. The children were treated as his own, but were not legally adopted. Mrs. Kelly died many years ago. Her son was sent to college and is now a practicing physician in Westminister, Mass., and her daughter is now Mrs. Leach of Exeter, N. H.

After the death of Mrs. Kelly, the old man remained in his home and carried on his farming operations, until three or four years ago, when his house was burned. After that he boarded at various places, finally at the house of his cousin, John T. Green in Fifth street, where he was living at the time of his death.

Mr. Kelly left a will made in March 1909, by the terms of which, when some small bequests were paid to relatives, including a $500 request to John T. Green—he gave the bulk of his property to his step-daughter, Mrs. Leach, and made her the executrix of his will. At the time of his death there were no living relatives nearer than cousins, of whom there were 15 or 16. The will was offered for probate, and one or two of the cousins appeared through counsel as contestants. But when the time came for a hearing on the question of probating the will, John J. Pickman, the attorney representing the contestants, withdrew the opposition. The will was allowed February 15, 1910.

Early in March, 1910, it came to the knowledge of P. W. and S. E. Quin, the attorneys representing the executrix, Mrs. Leach, that there were several outstanding promissory notes against the estate, and that Mr. John T. Green, in searching Mr. Kelly's effects had found a sealed envelope addressed to himself, (Mr. Green) which contained six promissory notes. One note for $6000 was made payable to John T. Green; another for $6000 was payable to the wife of John T. Green. Other notes for $1000 each, and one for $750, were made payable to brothers of John T. Green, the total sum aggregating $15,750. These notes were all dated August 24, 1908, while Mr. Kelly's will was made in March, 1909.

The envelope in which the notes were found was also said to contain a paper dated Lowell, August 24. The paper read as follows:

To Whom It May Concern:

That I made a will in March last, and not being satisfied with it, I am intending to make another. But if anything happens that I do not, and this falls into the hands of my cousin with the notes, I request him to give them to whom they belong, with the exception of J. C. Green. I want my cousin John to see to this one, and see that he has the money, as he needs it. And I further give to my cousin John all of my land, on the right hand side of the Lawrence road, and all of my lumber that is cut and sawed, and all of the wood that is cut.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal at the city of Lowell, state of Massachusetts, this 24th day of August, nineteen hundred and nine.

The paper purports to be signed by George G. Kelly, and is under seal. The notes also purport to have been signed by Geo. G. Kelly, and to be negotiable. Upon learning of the existence of these papers, Messrs. P. W. and S. E. Quin, attorneys for the executrix, immediately brought a bill in equity praying for an injunction to prevent the notes being negotiated or delivered to any person other than the executrix, and that they be given up for cancellation on these grounds: First, that the notes were never delivered; second, that they were without consideration; third, that they were never signed by George G. Kelly, or by any person authorized by him to sign them.

A temporary injunction was obtained and the case came up yesterday for a hearing on the merits.

The attorneys for the respondents are John T. Masterson of Lowell and H. R. Lawrence of Lawrence.

PATIENTS SAVED

They Were Taken From Burning Hospital

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., Jan. 24.—Patients at the Aberdeen hospital many of whom lay helpless on their cots, were carried out by attendants and strewn during a fire which threatened to destroy the hospital building yesterday. The fire started on the top floor near the roof and before the firemen dared use the hose it was necessary that the patients in the rooms below be taken out. They were carried into the nurses' home adjoining. The loss by fire was not heavy but the water damage will be considerable.

NEW ORPHANAGE

IS AN IDEAL PLACE FOR LITTLE ONES

A Sun reporter visited the temporary quarters of St. Peter's orphanage in Chelmsford street recently, and was ushered through every corner of the building.

This building is the property of the Shaw Stocking Co., and it is a splendid edifice and after going through it one would think it was constructed purposely for an orphanage, for it is surprising to see how it answers the wants of its occupants.

The Sisters of Charity in charge of the institution have occupied the place with their 64 little motherless children since October last, when their former home in Appleton street was purchased by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The house is well situated and right in the back of it sets a large field where the children enjoy coasting and skating. The building is well equipped and is very sanitary, and the little ones seem to enjoy their new home very much. It is a three story building but the upper one is not occupied, for there is ample room in the two first stories to accommodate the Sisters and their little friends.

The little ones are all in good health and the attending physician has very little to do in the line of treatment. They attend school every day, and for this purpose two large classes rooms have been furnished on the first floor. Those who are too young to attend school enjoy themselves in the basement, which is spacious and well lighted, and when the weather permits, they are taken out in the field, where they can enjoy their favorite sport, coasting and skating.

The eight Sisters in charge are also in good health and enjoy their new quarters first rate.

MILK SAMPLES

ONLY 13 CAME UP TO REQUIREMENTS OF LAW

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 24.—Of 72 samples of milk taken on the 17th and 18th from shipments over the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Connecticut railroad, 13 only came up to the requirements of the state law which calls for 3.25 per cent. butter fat. Some of the milk, the commissioner says, was nothing but skim milk and other samples showed a very large percentage of water.

THREE BOY BANDITS

Said to be Mixed Up in Crimes in Two States

WESTFIELD, Jan. 24.—Three boys, ranging in age from 18 to 23 years, whom the police charge with being a desperate trio of boy bandits and at whose door numerous burglaries in two states and a holdup are laid, are under arrest here. Two of them were arraigned yesterday on several burglary charges and the third will be arraigned today on a holdup charge.

The boys under arrest are Ward Lapoint, aged 19; Warren Phelps, 18, and William White, 22.

Phelps and Lapoint were arrested in Worcester Saturday as they were attempting to dispose of goods which had been reported stolen, and White was arrested in Northampton Monday night and brought here yesterday.

Lapoint and Phelps in court yesterday were specifically charged with breaking and entering and larceny and entering and larceny from Smith's store at Chester Jan. 13, breaking and entering and larceny from the Southwick depot Jan. 15, and breaking and entering and larceny from Marichal's store, Westfield, Jan. 11. Pleas of guilty were entered.

In addition to the charges that have already been made against the boys the police believe that they can connect them with burglaries of depots and stores at Plainville and Simsbury, Conn. Phelps, the police say, has also admitted that he and Lapoint broke into four places in Templeton last Thursday night and made two other attempts which were not successful.

One of the breaks was at the Catholic church, where some money was secured, and another at a jewelry store, from which over $100 worth of goods was taken.

A suit case filled with loot has been located in Gardner by the state police who have been working on the case.

KLINE ARRESTED

Former Hyde Park Man Said to Have Accused Himself

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Patrick Kline, 17 years old, who says he lives in Rochester, N. Y., has had a difficult time recently, he says, endeavoring to induce the police to arrest him for the crime for which his conscience has been troubled. Kline was accommodated yesterday, for he wandered into Capt. Gaskin's district and was locked up. The Hyde Park police were communicated with and he was taken there on a charge of larceny.

When Kline walked into the Court square station he said he wanted to be prosecuted for stealing $20 from the Y. M. C. A. in Hyde Park. Before he left the station, Kline said, he walked into the Y. M. C. A. at Hyde Park on Jan. 19, broke open a rollopp desk and stole $20. He then wandered away and finally landed in Ayer.

Here he became despondent and his conscience told him he had done wrong and should be punished for it, so he determined to give himself up and take his medicine. He went to the Ayer police station determined to surrender, confess his crime and take his punishment.

He peered into the window of the station house and seeing no one on duty he decided to become an unwilling guest. After waiting around for a time and not seeing a policeman or the town constable, Kline became disgusted with the place.

Kline ran across a revolver in the town lockup and a hilly and says he confiscated both. He left the lockup in a hurry but remained about the village for some time, hoping he might be confronted by the town marshal. He did not meet the marshal so he boarded a train for Boston.

Kline was in Ayer on Tuesday. He has been in Boston several days but he did not decide to surrender to the police until yesterday, when his conscience and an empty stomach prompted him to get the police to provide him at least with a comfortable bed and something to eat.

Kline had been an assistant janitor at the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. before the incident. He will have a hearing today. Symmetrical persons in Hyde Park, who are inclined to believe that Kline is not altogether a bad young man, have decided to intervene in his behalf in the hope that he will reform his ways.

$200,000 ESTATE

Bay State People May Get a Share of It

HAVERHILL, Jan. 24.—Claimants to an estate consisting of over $200,000 in cash and much more in real estate, Mrs. Michael Gately of the Bradford district, Mrs. George Powers of South Groveland and John Doherty of Peabody and half a score of people across the water, are contesting the will of Gen. James William Riley, who died in Wellsville, O., nearly five years ago.

A little over two years ago the case was thrashed out in the Ohio courts, when there were more than 200 claimants to the property, but the claims of all but a score were thrown out and the case will again be brought up next month, when it will be fought by relatives in this vicinity.

Gen. Riley, amassed a considerable fortune, including property in Wellsville and Landon, O., and large tracts in Virginia. When he died, the mayor of Wellsville wrote to the mayor of Cork, Ire., and it was through the latter that the local people were apprized of the death.

It is known positively that the general claimed relationship with the local people, for when the late William McKinley of South Groveland attended a Hibernian convention in New York in 1876, he returned with the news that he had met a relative of theirs at the convention, the books of the Hibernians of that period substantiating the fact that he was sent to the convention as a delegate.

P. M. Smith of Wellsville, O., counsel for the heirs in this vicinity, was here Saturday preparing their case. When the case was first tried Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Gately and Mr. Doherty of 27 Franklin street went to Wellsville and gave testimony regarding their case. That there is merit in their claims is shown by the fact that they were not among the large batch which was declared to be unsubstantiated. These people are second cousins of the deceased and among the nearest of kin to him, Mrs. McVeigh of London, Eng., being the nearest, a first cousin.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The show at the Academy is varied enough to suit anyone and is an extraordinary bill for the first three days of this week. Lyndon and Dorman are clever performers and appear in an oddity called "The English Dude and the Yankee Girl," and they have several other songs and mirth-provoking stories. The big feature act is "The Sexton's Dream," a big scenic production. It tells of the old sexton's dream of when he was the choir boy of St. Mary's. Several vocal solos are given, including "My Dream of Paradise" and "Nevine's Rosary." The old sexton plays the chimes and brings the act to a fitting close. The Tuxedo Four are a real quartet, who know how to sing. Altogether the bill is one of the best of the season.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The ever popular Marie Cahill appeared at the Opera House last evening as the leading character in a budget of fun rarely excelled. Miss Cahill has appeared before Lowell audiences before, and has always been able to command a full house. The attendance last night showed that her popularity has not waned in the least. The title of "Judy Forget" is derived from the assumption that she had lost her memory as a result of a collision brought on by the effects of a collision. The fact that she lost her memory leads to many comical situations that were skillfully played by the actress, and highly enjoyed by the audience.

Miss Cahill's singing of popular songs is great. Her "Good Morning Judge," "Whoop La La" and "Thinky Thanky" were sung in the last named song she gave a burlesque of the manners of the rich at a grand opera performance.

The musical number "Give Me All the Flowers," sung by Mr. Stanford with a chorus of girls made a great hit. There was also a burlesque of a dramatic school graduation.

Miss Maud Meredith sang several selections in good style, and Miss Emma Francis contributed a few dances. The entire company is made up of live people of talent, and everyone of them well trained to his or her part.

The closing act of the society circus with its ring master, clowns and amateur artists provoked barrels of fun. The music of the comedy was directed by Mr. Ivan Rudich, whose work was a feature that contributed to the success of the whole performance.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Freddie Evans.....Arthur Stanford
Judy Evans.....Miss Cahill
Elsa, a maid.....Miss Anna Ford
Francis, a waiter.....H. P. Woodley

"THE SOUL KISS"

A novelty filled musical comedy is "The Soul Kiss" which comes to the Opera House tonight. Unlike many musical comedies "The Soul Kiss" does not depend upon one number or novelty alone to insure its success, but from the rise of the first curtain to the finale of the last act, it is said to be filled to the brim with overflowing comedy lines and situations, and pleasing melodies.

The entrancing melodies throughout the piece of Composer Maurice Levy are strikingly well fitted to the clever lyrics of Harry B. Smith, and such song numbers as, "Oh, that Moonlight Glee," "Cutie, Come 'n' Tie Me," "If I Only Had a Sweetheart Like You," "I've Got Your Number," "When the Swallows Return in the Spring," "That Wasn't All," "I Wonder Where They'll Go To," "Very Well Then," "They Were Actors Then," "The Soul Kiss," "Let's Pretend the Human Night," "Key of New York," and many others, making a total of twenty-five, are bound to be whistled by theatre-goers.

"The Soul Kiss" is said to be filled with novelties which within themselves are enough to make it popular. A company of sixty funmakers have been engaged and includes some of the best known names on the musical comedy stage, among them being: "Novita," Thos. S. Van Haren, and J. Shaw, Miss Glenn Ellis, Miss Louise Kay, Mr. Sam M. Lewis, Winfield S. Freeman and others of Metropolitan reputations.

Novita, a dainty little dancer, direct from the Crystal Palace, London, and who was the sensation of Europe's music halls last season, is the Premier Danseuse of "The Soul Kiss." During the action of the play, Novita, assisted by a special dancing chorus of beautiful girls, will introduce some new and novel combinations of toe-dances, a series never before seen on the stage. She has caused a furore throughout Europe by her marvellous exhibition of both the classic and sensational form of dancing.

There are several new songs that are in their way the gems of harmony, melody and humor. A number in the "Bal Tabarin" scene in the first act, entitled, "Meet Me at the Masquerade," is full of life and spirit, fetchingly estimated, and presenting a most picturesque scene. The new finales are thoroughly descriptive and written in Composer Maurice Levy's best vein.

The scenes are laid in the Latin as well as the fashionable quarters of Paris and New York, and the story involves the adventures of a young artist, who is in search of a "Soul Kiss," which he describes as a kiss "that rises from the heart to the lips." One of the song numbers in which there will be unusual local interest, especially those who are interested in college life, is "Those College Vets," in which the various college cheers will be introduced as a feature. A group of students is represented on the stage, and the number has all the rollicking fun that could be expected with that environment.

IF YOU GO ON THAT ICE WITHOUT MY PERMISSION I WILL ARREST YOU!

LET THE POLICE BE AUTHORIZED TO EXERCISE SUPERVISION OVER THE RIVERS AND THERE WILL BE FEWER DROWNINGS.

One of the most picturesque of the many interesting characters that are introduced in the action of the play is Mephisto, who appears as a floor-walker, as a rich patron of "The Bal Tabarin," the finest cafe in the world, as an old actor, as the common accepted type of the devil, wearing the Elizabethan costume, and as many other characters. His soliloquy, while perched on top of the Singer building and viewing New York at night-time, is said to touch directly the many sins and follies of New York's inhabitants. Even though one doesn't believe in the existence of the devil, it would repay one to witness the performance of "The Soul Kiss" and see Thomas S. Van's characterization of Mephisto. It may be unprecedented but this devil is given the opportunity to sing. Several of the best songs in this big musical sensation have been entrusted to Mr. Van.

AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS. Apparently the Sunny South has afforded more than its share of material for the writers of fiction the past few years, as the majority of the most popular novels and plays contain that southern atmosphere which continually appeals to the general public. "At the Old Cross Roads," with its scenes laid in the vicinity of Natchez, Miss., is one of those pleasing stories of the south in which the strong dramatic situations are blended with bright comedy lines, and the characters are taken from real life in that interesting district. The engagement of this well known play takes place at the Opera House soon, and promises to call out one of the largest audiences that has ever assembled at the playhouse. Manager Arthur C. Alston has engaged a stronger cast than ever and while this is the tenth annual tour of the piece he has not allowed the production to deteriorate even in the slightest manner. Special scenery has been built this season.

"BEVERLY OF GRAUSTARK" The attraction at the Opera House on Wednesday, Feb. 1st will be A. G. Delamater and William Norrie's Inc. original Studebaker theatre, Chicago production of Geo. Harr McCutcheon's "Beverly," a dramatization of the romantic novel "Beverly of Graustark," by Robert M. Baker. Scenic on sale Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

THEATRE VOYONS Two comedies are on the bill at the Theatre Voyons and both are excellent. "Gaslene as a Tonio," is a trick comedy with several novel stunts and "Max Takes a Trip Around the World," is a witty burlesque on a married man who tries to fool his wife. The dramatic features "An Englishman's Home," and "With Interest to Date" are great. The latter is a story of commercial life that is novel and superlatively staged. The love story that runs through it is dainty and sweet and the actors play up to everyone of its great possibilities. The musical features include a real comedy song hit "Kelley's Going to Kingdom Come" sung by Chas. Sturtevant in a way that never fails to win an encore.

COLONIAL THEATRE

An audience which packed the Colonial theatre to the doors last night saw one of the best hypnotic acts ever presented in this town. Ameno, known as king of hypnotists, showed people things they had never seen before. Another act of great merit is that of the Penn City quartet, composed of four of the best singers as well as funniest comedians. Others who received plenty of applause were George Eickert, an acrobatic clown and contortionist, and Ethel Golden, a clever little singer and dancer.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Berzac's Animal Circus, or pony circus, for there are no animals in the act other than several ponies, is heading the bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week.

The ponies—there are four of them—are tiny affairs with an unusual degree of intelligence and which have been carefully trained. They go through all manner of stunts, in pairs and singly, from the usual ring feats to dancing in time to waltz music and the like.

One in particular performs a trick which as a matter of fact is impossible to a human being without considerable experience; that of riding successfully a rapidly revolving table of generous proportions. In spite of the fact that the table is turned at high speed, the dainty bit of horseflesh seems to have no difficulty either in keeping up with the unstable footing or in keeping its feet. And the, by the way, was something that proved impossible to the several young men who attempted to do the same thing at the behest of a generous offer of the circus management.

As to the donkey; its role is confined to keeping its own back inviolate from human touch, and it carries out the program set it with a remarkable degree of ability for a mere donkey and incidentally furnishes no end of fun for the audience. At the offer of a dollar a minute to anyone who would stay on the animal's back, several young men at yesterday's performance volunteered their services. It may be said in passing that the services were unrewarded in spite of their efforts; for the donkey proved too much for all of them, either singly or en masse.

Saturday afternoon all those children who attend the performances will be given an opportunity of a free ride on the ponies, however; if they choose to enjoy such an unusual treat. There is Thais Leightner, a comely woman who thrums a piano and talks a lot of original, bright songs which prove popular with her audiences. It is an original offering, refreshing in its relief from the usual run of vaudeville acts.

Eugene King is a singing comedian in a bright, clean offering, which is unusually good. Mr. King is a singer of ability who can sing character and dialect songs, as they were meant to be sung, and does it.

Marlowe and Flunkett are a couple of comedians who are good for any number of laughs. The title of their act is "Rooms to Rent," and it deals with the efforts of a colored gentleman to hire a lodging from the proprietor.

AUTHOR PHILLIPS ENLISTED MEN

Will Recover the Doc- Were Complimented tors Expect for Gallantry

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—According to the doctors, the condition of David Graham Phillips, the author who yesterday was seriously wounded by bullets from the revolver of F. C. Goldsborough, is slightly improved and the hope is expressed that Mr. Phillips will recover.

Dr. Hotchkiss of the Bellevue visiting staff put forth the professional view of the danger to be most feared. In speaking of the wound in the author's right lung, where one of the bullets from Goldsborough's pistol had entered and passed through the body. There was, he said, a possibility the pneumonia might develop from this wound.

"One saving factor," said Dr. Hotchkiss, "is that the bullets are very small. They are of steel and of high velocity, proof of which is had through the fact that they went in the front of his body and came out at his back. Fortunately the bullet fired into his abdomen went along close to the skin and did not puncture the intestines, otherwise the outlook would be practically hopeless."

Only one bullet remained in the body, that in the right thigh, the removal of which was not deemed advisable at this time.

Overnight developments as to the motive of Goldsborough in shooting Phillips were few. That for some time Phillips had been receiving threatening notes, telegrams and telephone calls was a fact known to his relatives and Goldsborough had been heard to say that he bore a grudge against a certain writer on account of a magazine article.

Friends of Goldsborough were at as much a loss today as ever to explain his act. He was 31 years old and had been regarded as a deep-thinking student devoted to his profession of music and to literary pursuits. United States Senator Beveridge, Phillips' close friend, was admitted to the bedside of the injured man early this morning. Senator Beveridge hurried from Washington to New York on learning of the shooting. Phillips was conscious and recognized his former friend. Senator Beveridge went away in about five minutes, having been warned that the novelist could not stand the strain of a protracted visit. Senator Beveridge called again at the hospital this afternoon. He was accompanied by Robert W. Chambers, the author, a friend of the wounded man, and Harrison W. Phillips, David Graham Phillips' brother.

The party met Mrs. Prevett, the injured man's sister, in the hospital and all remained for some time. When they left, Harrison Phillips said that his brother was resting comfortably and that there was every hope for his recovery. At an earlier visit today Mrs. Prevett said she had found Mr. Phillips in a cheerful mood and expressing the belief that he would recover.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—For gallantry in saving the steamer Maryland which caught fire near Old Point Comfort, Va., on the night of Dec. 15 last, Secretary of the Navy Meyer today wrote letters of commendation to nine enlisted men of the United States navy.

The secretary particularly commends the efforts of Maurice Stone, a painter in the navy, who broke a window by reaching over the side of the Maryland while two men held him by the heels. In this position he got the hose properly played on the fire. Thomas L. Fox, a gunner's mate, also distinguished himself by crawling through a porthole into the purser's office, thus saving the mail.

The men who received the letters of commendation are John E. Lynch, chief boatswain's mate of the Castine; Reuben Patterson, Edward Stalley, Louis H. Corey, William H. Schmitz, Theodore Popman and Maurice Stone, painters in the navy; Thomas L. Fox, gunner's mate, and Elmer S. Strauss, seaman.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Bourke of Worcester will celebrate their silver wedding on Feb. 9. Mr. Bourke, who is organizer general of the Artisans Canadianians Franciens, is well known in this city, having come here on many occasions.

Many of the general officers of the society of Montreal will be present for the event, including the president general, Mr. Ludger Gravel. The latter will leave Montreal on Jan. 31 and will make a tour of the New England states. He will also visit this city, where there are five branches of the Artisans, namely: St. Louis, St. Andre, St. Joseph, Ste. Marie and branch Pawtucketville.

STOLEN HORSE

SAID TO HAVE BEEN SOLD IN LOWELL

Word has been received from Manchester, Mass., that a nine year old horse has been stolen from the livery stable of Jean Baptiste Letendre of that city. The horse, it was said, was sold at auction in Lowell some time ago and Mr. Letendre would be pleased to learn the facts concerning this sale. The animal is of bay color.

BOARD OF POLICE

The board of police will meet in regular session tonight, but it is doubtful if anything other than routine business will be transacted at the meeting.

A GRASS FIRE

The members of Engine 5 of Pawtucketville were called to extinguish a grass fire in a field on Wright street this afternoon shortly before three o'clock. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Rene de Lys are the guests of M. M. Desrochers of Woolsocket, R. I.

Mr. Emile D. Lazure of Manchester, N. H., is visiting friends in this city.

The trial of James H. Horsfall of this city and Fred L. Snow of Westford, charged with the larceny of $1279.80 from the city of Lawrence, one of the series of alleged graft cases in connection with the recent irregularities in Lawrence, which was to have been held before Judge J. J. Mahoney in the police court in that city this morning, was again postponed.

Postponement was due to the fact that the defendants, who were represented by Lawyer Edward J. Fisher of this city, until a few days ago, have now retained W. Scott Peters of Haverhill, ex-district attorney of Essex county, and the latter, besides being engaged in another court, felt that he was not sufficiently acquainted with the case to do justice to his clients if the hearing was held this morning.

Judge Mahoney acknowledged that counsel for the defense would be handicapped if the case went to trial today and therefore continued the hearing until Feb. 1, but there will be no further continuance after that date.

Second Complaint Made
A mild sensation was sprung in the court room this morning when the clerk of the court asked Messrs. Horsfall and Snow to plead to another complaint, charging them with the larceny of $487.38 from the city of Lawrence. It is alleged that the second complaint was brought about as a result of the first complaint and in one sense of the word is practically the same, other than that it is alleged the original complaint is based on money paid on the November draft, while the complaint made this morning has to do with the January draft.

Attorney H. H. Tilton, representing ex-district attorney Peters, entered a plea of not guilty to the second complaint, a similar plea having been made on the original complaint at the time the defendants were arraigned, the day following their arrest here.

Eleven Witnesses Held
There were 11 witnesses, who had been summoned by the government, present in court this morning. Eight were held under $300 bonds for their appearance one week, from Wednesday while three who were under $100 bonds to appear this morning, were ordered to appear when the preliminary trial is on.

Messrs. Horsfall and Snow, each of whom was under $3000 bail, were allowed their freedom under the same bail until one week from tomorrow. Court Room was Crowded

Long before the time set for the opening of the Lawrence police court, 9:30 o'clock, there were hundreds of people lined up at the entrance, and the moment the doors were thrown open there was a rush for seats of vantage. The crowd was so large that the court room was inadequate to hold those who sought admission and scores went away disappointed.

Those who did gain admission were also disappointed when it was learned that another postponement had been made, for it is expected that some sensational testimony will be brought out at the preliminary hearing.

The defendants and the witnesses who had been summoned by the government were in attendance when the case was called. P. H. Tilton of Haverhill, representing Ex-Dist. Atty. W. Scott Peters, addressing the court, said that he had only recently been retained as counsel for the defendants and that at present is busily engaged in other cases. He said Mr. Peters had had a conference with the district attorney and that the latter was agreeable to a postponement in order that the cases which he had on hand might be taken care of and also to give him an opportunity to allow him to become acquainted with the details in connection with the case against Messrs. Horsfall and Snow.

While Judge Mahoney did not favor continuing the case from day to day he felt that under the circumstances the request of Mr. Tilton was a reasonable one and by agreement it was decided to continue the case till Feb. 1, but the court informed Mr. Tilton that the hearing must go on on that day without fail.

Four Dreadnoughts to be Built

VIENNA, Jan. 24.—An extraordinary credit of $11,000,000 as a first installment toward the construction of new warships appears in the Austro-Hungarian budget, which was presented to the delegations by Baron Burian von Rajecz, minister of finance, today. The navy building program for the next six years provides for four dreadnoughts of 20,000 tons each, three cruisers, 12 torpedo boats and six submarines at a total cost of $62,400,000.

The army estimates for the coming year have been increased by $3,500,000, the total expenditures being placed at $45,900,000.

DIPHTHERIA

TWENTY-TWO CASES REPORTED TO HEALTH DEPT.

Twenty-two cases of diphtheria have been reported at the office of the board of health since the new year was ushered in. In addition to this, there have been 29 cases of scarlet fever and one case of measles. There have been no new cases of typhoid fever reported this year.

SHEDD PARK

SKATING SURFACE REPORTED TO BE VERY TOUGH

Skaters, patrons of Shedd park, declare that the ice there is not as good as it might be. It was the original intention of the park commission to flood the rink every day, and the water department agreed to this proposition. The fact remains, so say the skaters, that the rink is not flooded every day with the result that the surface is very rough. The general opinion of skaters is that the rink should be flooded or at least sprinkled every day in order to provide a smooth surface.

Mrs. Carter, Former Teacher, Found Dead in Her Room

Mrs. Mary W. Carter was found dead this morning in the boarding house of a Mrs. Murphy, 11 Dutton street, and death was probably due to heart failure.

Mrs. Carter, who was the widow of the late Stanley Carter, was formerly a teacher in the old Colburn school, and at the time of her death was employed at the apron factory of John P. Horner in Middle street.

She was attending the evening high school so as to keep her hand at typewriting. Last night she went to school as usual and returned to her home at 9 o'clock, ate a lunch and retired in her room.

At 7:30 o'clock this morning the boarding mistress went to Mrs. Carter's room and tried to wake her boarder, but found the door locked. Receiving no response to outcries, she forced the door and upon entering the room found Mrs. Carter lying dead on the floor. The woman was undressed and apparently was going to bed when she was stricken with a shock.

The deceased was 50 years of age and is survived by a brother, who lives in Boston.

Is Opposed to Popular Election of U. S. Senators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Opposition to the resolution now pending in the senate calling for the popular election of members of that body in the several states was voiced today by Senator Depew of New York. Mr. Depew, while opposing the proposition to so choose the senators yet offered an amendment which would entitle all of the male citizens of the United States to cast their ballots in such elections.

To the New York senator the proposed amendment to the constitution, as reported from the judiciary committee seemed but an effort under the guise of popularizing the election of United States senators, to permit the states to disfranchise under the constitution large classes of their electors.

"Instead of providing that senators shall be elected by the people of the several states," said the senator, "it virtually denies the people the right to elect senators by impairing the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution which were intended to secure the elective franchise to all citizens of the United States."

The speaker betrayed some apprehension that the passage of such a resolution would call forth an expression of determined disapproval from the colored voters of the north, east and west, and that that protest would be registered in so effective a way at the polls as to be felt all over the country.

"The title of this proposition," said the senator, "is to allow the people to vote. The purpose and object of the resolution is permanently to prevent the people from voting in any state where a dominant power or oligarchy wishes to disfranchise a certain portion of the citizens."

Mr. Depew endeavored to show a number of the objections which would arise in putting into practical effect the proposition to choose senators by popular vote. He dwelt upon the advantage that is claimed to lie in the experience that a senator gains through long retention of his seat. Taking the governors of the states as an example and showing the comparatively brief tenure of their offices he drew what he considered would prove an analogy in the case of senators. He could foresee, he said, a rapid succession in the office of men who would float in upon the tide of popular favor and out again as that tide might ebb.

The sway of the demagogic orator would hold a menace, in the mind of the New York senator, should the system of popular elections prevail. He recalled the several appeals or issues that have prevailed during the last forty years or more, from the time of the war speech and the bloody shirt to show that the passion of the hour should not crystallize into legislation without plenty of time for deliberation and calm judgment.

"Parties are always seeking paramount issues. The great leader of the democratic party made this question of changing the method of the election of United States senators as he thought a paramount issue."

things unknown by previous generations, but vital for the present and the future in the development of the country. But here in this proposition we are called upon to disregard the overwhelming lessons of the past and to enter upon an untold experiment, to adopt a theory which opens the door for innumerable possibilities of danger to the sovereignty of the states and the conservatism in the administration of government."

NO CHOICE FOR SENATOR

DOVER, Del., Jan. 24.—The separate ballot for United States senator taken in the two houses of the legislature at noon today resulted:

House—Senator Henry Dupont, republican, 22; Willard Saulsbury, democrat, 13.

Senate—Dupont, 8; Saulsbury, 11. Robert G. Houston, republican, leader, whose independent attitude resulted in a tie-up of the senate at the opening, voted for Houston.

The failure of Senator Dupont to receive a majority in each house necessitates a ballot in joint session at noon tomorrow.

Detective Suspect They Were Sent by Certain Man

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Detectives of the Italian squad, searching the rooms of an Italian who they suspect is the author of a series of black hand letters, found yesterday in the man's bureau drawer a nine inch stack of dynamite with a yard long fuse attached to it. They say that the suspected man broke down and confessed that he intended to blow up the home of one of his neighbors with the stick and that he offered them $100 and a gold watch if they would let him go. The man is locked up in headquarters.

Gilberto Cammarata, a Sicilian who runs a grocery store at 534 East Fourteenth street, and lives above his store, has been receiving letters for more than a year threatening death to himself and his family if he did not pay money. The first letters demanded $1,500, but did not state definitely to whom the money should be paid or who would receive it.

"Confide in your intimate friends," said one of these earlier letters. "In those whom you know to be men of honor and integrity."

Cammarata told the police and spoke to several friends about the letters, but all of them seemed ignorant of their source. One day he noticed that Bartolo Minifella, who lived next him at 536 East Fourteenth street, was idling about the grocery store a good deal and he took Bartolo aside and talked to him about the letters. Bartolo was mysterious, but unflinching.

The letters continued to be delivered to the little grocery store with regularity, however, and during the next month there was an explosion in front of the store that did no great damage but frightened the shopkeeper into a blind panic.

When Commissioner Flynn came up to headquarters he interested himself in the case and set Detectives Micelli, Cavano and Piccolo to watching the neighborly Bartolo. Yesterday morning another Black Hand letter, this time demanding in its demands and only asking for $400, was in Cammarata's mail and the three detectives decided to act. They found Bartolo loitering as usual in front of the store and told him that they wanted to look around his room. They had heard, they said, that he had some stolen goods secreted there. He was willing enough to have his room searched and was very nonchalant until one of the detectives came across a drawer in the bureau that would not open. Then Bartolo got fidgety and said that there was some private matter there of no account. After a long argument he finally gave up the key to the drawer, and there lay the nine inch stick, one and a quarter inch thick and at one end of it a capped fuse that the detectives say is a "five minute fuse."

Bartolo then, according to the detectives, broke down completely and begged them not to expose him, throwing his watch and the money at their feet.

At headquarters, where they worked a new game, having an Italian stenographer take down everything that went on, Bartolo confessed that he intended the dynamite for Cammarata. He said he had a grudge against the storekeeper because Cammarata had mentioned his name to others in connection with the Black Hand letters, but did not admit that he was the author of the letters.

Man Admitted That He Held Up Young Woman

WESTFIELD, Jan. 24.—William Blaine, 25, one of the three young men under arrest here charged with many burglaries and holdups in Massachusetts and Connecticut, pleaded guilty in the district court today to the charge of holding up Miss Alice E. Wheeler, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., on Dec. 16. A companion, Ward Lapoint, 19, was also given a hearing today, charged with assisting Blaine in the holdup. He entered a plea of not guilty. The two boys were held under $2,000 bonds for a continued hearing on Thursday. The third member of the trio is Warren Phelps, aged 18.

A suitcase found by the state police yesterday in a house in Gardner, where two of the boys roomed, and brought here today when opened was found to contain about $300 worth of watches, rings, knives and revolvers. Several of the articles were soon identified as the property of persons residing here. Blaine was taken into custody in Northampton Sunday night, following the arrest of Phelps and Lapoint in Worcester Saturday. Yesterday Lapoint and Phelps pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and larceny from stores in Chester and Westfield and from the depot in Southwick. Blaine is alleged to have been counted with these robberies and also to have assisted his companions in robbing stores and depots at Plainville and Simsbury, Conn. Experts of that bureau are now testing specimens secured from suspected beds. Many have been found to contain copper. The bed from which they came was condemned, it is said.

The copper does not enter into the vital parts of the oyster, but is taken up by the outer shells. Many of the oysters examined have been made green by the mineral.

Bill to Compel Saloons to Close on Columbus Day

There is a bill before the legislature providing for the closing of saloons on all holidays even those not specified in chapter 8 of the revised laws. The day not mentioned is Columbus day, October 12, and the bill was framed to cover this day because it was a much mooted question as to whether or not the saloon keeper was obliged by law to close his place of business on that day.

Relative to appropriations for holiday observances the following order will be introduced at the adjourned meeting of the common council to be held this evening. The resolution will be introduced by Councilman Charles A. Delaronde:

Resolution requesting joint committee on appropriations to consider matter of appropriations for holiday observances in connection with the annual appropriation order.

That the joint committee on appropriations be and it is hereby requested to consider in connection with annual appropriations order the feasibility of recommending the following appropriations for holiday observance:

Labor Day—$1000.

CAPTAIN BARR

Noted Yachtsman Died Suddenly Today

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Jan. 24.—Capt. Charles Barr, the noted American yachtsman, died suddenly of heart trouble here today.

Captain Barr had appeared to be in perfect health this morning. He was having breakfast with the family when suddenly he placed his hand to his heart and, with a cry of pain, fell into the arms of his wife, dead.

BARR'S CAREER

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—"Charlie" Barr was practically born in a boat and he spent the greater part of his 47 years close to the water and at nearly all times with his hand on the tiller or the wheel.

He was born at Greenock, Scotland, in 1867, the son of a successful Scottish boat-builder. He sailed small boats about the firths of Scotland until 1884, when he brought the famous twenty tonner Clara to this country. He sailed successfully in American waters and followed her the next year with the Shona. His first experience as a yachtsman's cup races, which afterwards brought him his greatest fame, was on the Scotch challenger Thistle in 1887, when he was one of the mates, while his brother, John Barr, was the skipper. The defeat of the Thistle did not discourage the Barrs for "Charlie" returned two years later with the famous Minerva with which he won in 1889 19 out of 22 starts and in 1890 ten starts out of 12.

His first American command was the Burgessloop Owen in 1891, and a year later he commanded the second of the 42-foot Herreshoff products, the Wasp. Royal Phelps Carroll sent him to England in 1893 on the Navaho and he had his first experience on the Navaho of crossing the Atlantic on a yacht.

The following year he sailed the Gloriana and in 1895 he again entered America's cup, two-years-old Vigilant against the newly built Defender in the trial races off Sandy Hook.

A second trip to England was made in 1896 when he commanded Howard Gould's Niagara in a fairly successful season in British waters. Two years later he took the charge of the schooner Colline. Then came "Charlie" Barr's real advent into America's cup defense for in 1899 he was selected from a score of skippers to handle the famous Columbia and sent Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock I back to England badly defeated.

After a year on a 70 footer Barr was called back to the Columbia in 1901 and won an up-hill fight in beating out the Constitution, a newer boat, in the race for the America's cup defense. The sailing duel that year between Barr on the Columbia and Rhodes on the Constitution was regarded as the greatest fight in American yachting annals. The Shamrock II met the fate of her sister. The Reliance year of 1903 put "Charlie" Barr in command of the greatest sloop yacht ever constructed. His ability was not found wanting and the Shamrock III in the last race could not find the finish line, while "Charlie" Barr held the Reliance straight and true to victory.

The sail never was sought by Wilson Marshall when in 1905 Barr was given the wheel of the three master Atlantic for the ocean race against 13 others for the championship cup. The Atlantic was first.

During the last five years Mr. Barr's life has been less strenuous, although he had a particularly active season last year in England on the big schooner Westward.

"Charlie" Barr was shy, reticent, but sharp in command and always in full charge of the deck.

He became a naturalized American in Boston in 1899 and made New London his home.

BARR WON KING'S CUP
BRISTOL, R. I., Jan. 24.—The career of Captain Barr is intimately associated with this state, where many of the boats in which he achieved fame were built. For the past 15 years he was a familiar figure at Bristol, coming here nearly every year to watch the construction at the Herreshoff yacht building works of the boats he was to command. His last appearance at Bristol was in the spring of 1910, when Alexander S. Cochran's schooner yacht Westward was being fitted out for him to take it across to England.

Among his many personal friends in the state was U. S. Senator Lippitt of this city, who was connected with him in several races for the America's cup. Three years ago in Mr. Cochran's Argosy, one of the greatest 51 foot racers ever built, Captain Barr won the King's cup at Newport and two years ago in the same boat he won the Astor cup.

He Had 85 Votes on Ballot Today

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 24.—All the hard work that is being done to untangle the mixup over the United States senatorship has apparently had little result in the balloting. Legislators said they expected a day devoid of developments.

The only changes in today's ballot were made by Senator White of Schenectady and Assemblymen Myers and Martin of Saratoga, who voted for Curtis Douglas of Albany. White and Myers voted previously for Herrick and Martin yesterday deserted Glynn for Shepard.

O'Brien 2, L. Cady Herrick 1, Martin Glynn 1, Alton B. Parker 1. Republican—Chauncey M. Depew 56. Total vote cast 190. Necessary for choice 98.

Men Were Charged With Drunken- ness and Larceny

Wm. H. Dever and Alexander Jennings went to a spree together yesterday, and after visiting several of the saloons, landed in a room at 3 Amory street, which was being occupied by Andrew Zych and Joseph Michalik. As the apartment was unoccupied when Dever and Jennings entered it, the latter thought they would make themselves at home and at the same time help themselves with wearing apparel, so Jennings put off Zych's pants while Dever put on Michalik's shoes. The occupants of the room made their appearance soon after and upon finding these two unknown individuals in their quarters, called for help, and Officers Cooney and Reagan were soon on the spot and they escorted the pair to police headquarters. The two were brought in court this morning and were charged with drunkenness and larceny. They pleaded guilty to the first charge but denied any knowledge of the second. After summing up the evidence, Judge Hadley found them both guilty on both complaints and ordered them each committed to the common jail for a term of four months on the larceny charge and one month on the drunkenness charge.

Three Months in Jail

John Burns pleaded guilty to the complaint charging him with the larceny of a clock valued at 35 cents, the property of Vasil Papacosta, and was given a sentence of three months in jail. Burns was arrested in Market street yesterday afternoon by Inspector Maher.

Breaking Glass

Herbert Penniman, aged 20 years, and Harvey Cann, aged 19 years, were both sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory for maliciously breaking glass in South Chelmsford.

It seems that the defendants while under the influence of liquor deliberately threw stones into the windows of the residences of Alfred Paasche, Susan E. Garland and Lyman A. Byam.

Lawyer Fisher, representing the complainants, told the court that the young men had a very bad record in the Chelmsford district for glass breaking. It seems as though it was a fad for them to smash windows when under the influence of liquor. The defendants, through their attorney, James H. Carnichael, pleaded guilty and the above sentence was imposed. They appealed and were held in the sum of $300 each.

Cases Continued

Blazonis Not Guilty

The case of John Blazonis, who was charged with the larceny of $50 from George Yurewicz, was taken up this morning, and Judge Hadley disposed of it by finding the defendant not guilty and ordering his discharge. William H. Hogan and D. J. Donohue appeared for the defense, while Bennett Silverblatt prosecuted the case.

It was alleged that two years ago Blazonis obtained $30 from the complainant on condition that he would obtain a job for Yurewicz. The job never came forth and a few days later Blazonis left the city, going to Worcester, where he has lived since.

Several witnesses were heard this morning and the court finally disposed of the case as above mentioned.

A RESOLUTION CHANNING COX

To Safeguard Maine's Water Powers

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 24.—A resolution to safeguard Maine's water powers was introduced in the house today by Rep. Davies of Yarmouth and passed under suspension of the rules. It will be considered by the senate later. The resolution was as follows:

"Resolved that,

"Whereas, the state of Maine is generally recognized to possess unlimited resources in the way of undeveloped water power which must necessarily be a source of industrial power for this and future generations;

"Whereas, it is recognized that the future prosperity of the state depends in a large measure on the proper development and utilization of its water powers for the creation and development of home industries;

"Whereas, the 74th legislature, in its session of 1905, recorded itself as being unanimously opposed to granting corporations the right to transmit power beyond the limits of the state and relying on what reasonably appeared to be the established policy of the state of Maine, capital to a great extent has been invested in the securities which represent the development of the state's natural resources. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the 75th legislature declare that the policy so widely announced by the former legislature be continued to the end, that no corporation engaged or to be engaged in the transmission of power shall be granted unrestricted rights of eminent domain."

Since the sad news of the double drowning became known hundreds have called at the homes of deceased and extended their sympathy to the sorrow stricken parents. Both boys were the life of the neighborhood, popular with their schoolmates and associates. In school they were among the leaders in their class, and hence the widespread grief at their untimely death.

MADE A DASH THROUGH CROWD- ED STREETS

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A masterless trolley car, running around sharp curves and through crowded streets, with Conductor John Hannigan and the passengers bobbing about like kernels of corn in a popper, made people gasp yesterday morning in East New York, Conn.

Hannigan finally made his way to the front of the car and found it untenanted. He ran the car back half a mile and discovered the motorman, Thomas Smith, unconscious at the side of the track.

Smith had leaned out to see if the snow gunc was working and was struck on the head by a telegraph pole. He was unconscious for hours, but has a chance to recover.

MRS. SCHENK WEPT

Broke Down While Her Counsel Was Making Argument

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 24.—When the criminal court of Ohio county convened today for the fourteenth day of the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk charged with attempting to poison her husband, John O. Schenk, the arguments to the jury were resumed by Fred L. Maury, assistant prosecuting attorney, who began his address yesterday. Mr. Maury was to be followed by Frank O'Brien, associate counsel for the accused. It was indicated that the defense would base its case largely on the plea for sympathy for Mrs. Schenk, the claim of a conspiracy, having been eliminated when Judge L. S. Jordan ruled out the evidence obtained from Mrs. Jane Hedges, who declared that Albert Schenk had spoken of leaving no stone unturned to remove "that woman" from the Schenk family. It was arranged that Frank O'Brien should be followed by his brother, J. P. O'Brien, chief counsel for the defense, that Mr. Maury should answer the arguments of both the O'Briens and that the case of the defense should be closed by S. O. Boyce.

The feature of the arguments was expected to come when Prosecuting Attorney Handman made the closing plea for the state.

At the meeting of the Ohio County Medical society last night charges were made against Dr. J. W. Myers, witness for the state in the Schenk trial, alleging that he has engaged in criminal practice and asking that he be expelled from the society. Dr. Myers in a statement declared that he will be proved innocent of the charges, which were referred to the board of censors for investigation.

Assistant Prosecutor Maury reviewed the testimony of the experts who had examined Mr. Schenk, telling how they had agreed that the million-dollar poison was suffering from lead and arsenical poisoning. He then again launched into an arraignment of Mrs. Schenk.

For the first time since the trial began Mrs. Schenk broke down and sobbed. The assistant prosecutor had completed his address, which was filled with invective and hard words for the defense and Attorney Frank O'Brien was opening for the defense, when, overcome by his allusion to "this poor defenseless woman, here," Mrs. Schenk could no longer restrain her feelings.

Mr. O'Brien's statements at once indicated the line of action to be followed—a plea of sympathy for Mrs. Schenk, a fierce attack on many of the state's witnesses and the unreliability of circumstantial evidence.

The state was charged by Mr. O'Brien with having brought a horde of Pittsburgh detectives into the case, merely to worm their way into the affections of the defendant and to secure her conviction, not for the good of John O. Schenk, but to rid the Schenks of John Schenk's wife. He declared they had worked persistently to have her put the poison in her husband's medicine and to catch her in the act and, not accomplishing this, they had trumped up evidence against her.

Throughout Mr. O'Brien's plea, Mrs. Schenk kept her head bowed on a table and sobbed copiously.

Dr. J. W. Myers, who testified that he had sold sugar of lead to Mrs. Schenk, was attacked by Mr. O'Brien. The inference was left with the jurors that some one other than the defendant had poisoned the water and medicine if poison was actually found.

J. P. O'Brien in his argument declared that the defense admitted that there was lead poison and arsenic in the medicine John Schenk took but that Laura never put them there.

He said that the defendant has been conspired against and lied about and that if poison was given to the victim it was by another who desired only to cast suspicion on her.

The morning session closed with Mr. O'Brien still presenting his argument.

THE MILK STATION, 17 DUTTON STREET

The milk station on Dutton street is doing considerable work for the winter season. It has now 37 babies on its list. Miss Lindsay, the efficient nurse, has gone to a hospital near Montreal, and her departure is much regretted by those who knew her ability. Miss Helen W. Chadbourne is now in charge, and the district nurses are having plenty of work to do. The Metropolitan Insurance company calls them in on quite a number of cases, and their services are of great benefit to the poor people. When they go to the homes of the sick they take hold and put things in proper order, and by their aid render invaluable assistance to the families, often to the weary housewife worn out by fatigue and loss of sleep. The advice of the nurses in domestic hygiene is worth a great deal. These nurses are educating the families wherever they call on the value and necessity of fresh air, personal cleanliness, neatness, order and regularity not only in diet but in general habits of life.

BLACK HANDERS

GIVE EVIDENCE THAT THEY KNOW THE LAW

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Two Italians convicted last week in the county court in Brooklyn of extortion may escape with light sentences by reason of a decision recently handed down by the court of appeals in which it is held that a spoken demand for money under threat of death is only a witness statement unless it is part of a plan to commit an actual robbery. If the demand is in writing it is a felony.

Giovanni Guica and George Trolia didn't put their demands in writing, and Judge Dike, although intending to sentence them yesterday, deferred doing so until he could consult with the district attorney. The judge said that 50 per cent of the Black Hand cases that come before him are based on spoken demands for money, and he expressed an emphatic opinion that the legislature should amend the law to cover these cases.

JOHN BARRETT, Sergeant Major.

To Receive Department Estimates This Evening

Mayor Meehan and his secretary are away on department estimates to be submitted to the common council tonight. The mayor issued a letter some time ago to the heads of departments, asking for reports of estimates and expenses for their respective departments, and the figures he wanted have been a bit late in arriving. Some of the departments made quick response to the mayor's requests for figures, while others put it off until the 11th hour, so to speak. The estimates received by the mayor were hustled away to the printer and today the mayor and his secretary are reading proof.

There were only a few figures obtainable this forenoon. The city treasurer asks for $11,804. The expenses of his department last year amounted to $11,401.68.

The charity department, for outdoor relief, asks for $32,617.92. The expenses of the department last year were $29,121.92. Included in the extra amount asked for by the board is the "feeble-minded" bill, so-called. This bill amounts to a little more than $4000.

Last year the expenses of the Chelmsford Street hospital were $53,412.45, and the sum of $55,741.35 is asked this year.

The city clerk asks for $6802. Last year he spent $5810.93.

The city messenger spent $17,990.54 last year, and this year he asks for $18,600.

The engineer's department asks for $7000.00. The assessors spent $13,238.65 last year and ask for $15,611.40 this year.

The city auditor asks for $5500. The lands and building department asks for $61,421.06 as against an expenditure of $58,712.00 for last year.

NOT A VAN DYKE

PORTRAIT HELD UP IN CUSTOM HOUSE WILL BE RELEASED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The treasury department heard yesterday from the Austro-Hungarian consul at Boston that the "Portrait of a Boy" held up by the customs authorities at that port because it was thought to have been a Van Dyke stolen from a Viennese count was not a painting by the master's hand. It will be released to the importers.

The painting came into Boston several months ago. It was valued in the importer's invoice at 200 francs, but the appraiser heard rumors that it was a genuine Van Dyke belonging to Count Harrach of Vienna, which was stolen in August, 1905, and it was not admitted. The matter was referred to the Austro-Hungarian consul at Boston, who investigated.

DISCRIMINATION

Charged Against Foreign Steamship Co.'s

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Emphatic resolutions charging gross discrimination on the part of foreign steamship companies against American manufacturers and asking congress to take vigorous measures to destroy "the arrogant alien maritime trusts" were unanimously adopted today by the National Merchant Marine congress. The convention also petitioned congress for the creation of an independent steamship service of American ships, built for the naval reserve and to be honestly and ably managed in American interests.

In furtherance of the merchant marine movement the convention decided to circulate petitions among the labor unions and trade organizations of the country asking them to urge congress to take immediate action on behalf of American shipping interests so as to make possible increased manufacture at home.

Rep. Barchfield of Pittsburgh told the delegates that congress would pass some form of ship subsidy legislation at the present session but it would only be a compromise measure affecting the mail service to South America.

James Elwell, secretary of the convention, spoke at length on the benefits that a merchant marine would have upon the export trade of the country.

BILL IN CONGRESS

TO CHANGE TITLE OF PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—If an appropriation bill soon to be submitted to congress goes through intact the United States will have "an assistant to the president." That is the title which is to be given to the secretary to the president, as he is now called. It plans of certain congress leaders meet with no setback.

The fact that this change in the title of the president's chief aid is in contemplation was made known yesterday in connection with the news that today the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill will be reported to the senate with the paragraph increasing the salary of the president's secretary to $10,000 a year.

Congress leaders and friends of the administration say that through the increase in salary and the change in title they hope to attract men of cabinet calibre to this post.

WINSTED, Conn., Jan. 24.—William Hoffmann, aged 23, and William Hotchkiss, aged 10, son of Lawrence Hotchkiss, a printer, were drowned in Farmington river between New Hartford and Pine Meadow late yesterday afternoon. Hotchkiss went to the river alone to skate and Hoffmann was passing on his way home when he saw the boy skate off the ice into the open river. He ran to where the boy was struggling against the swift current in nine feet of water, jumped in and brought him to the ice, which broke repeatedly as he grasped him. Both were finally swept under and were not seen again.

THE SUBWAY

IN NEW YORK SCARED JULIUS LORENZEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—When it's a question of money it's usually too little of it that causes the detention of immigrants at Ellis Island, but Julius Lorenzen, a German farmer who got in on the Molike on Sunday, was detained because he had too much. Lorenzen came here to go to work and buy a farm and when the immigration officers asked if he had the $25 which immigrants are required to show he produced $3500.

Lorenzen expected no one to meet him and the officers were afraid to let him loose in New York with so much ready money. They suggested that he wait at Ellis Island until some trustworthy person could be found to steer him through the dangers of a big city. Lorenzen remembered that he had a friend living in Lexington avenue and yesterday he started out with a guard to find his friend.

The personally conducted party began the uptown journey by way of the subway, but got out hurriedly at the Brooklyn bridge and walked back to the Battery. Lorenzen, who was almost hysterical, explained in excited German that he expected to see the subway walls fall in upon him at that moment and that the place was full of horrible noises. He also explained that he had seen enough of New York to want to get back to his little German village before a worse thing befell him. "You needn't bother to deport me," translated the interpreter. "I'll buy my own ticket and go back on the first German ship."

BOY SPANKED

HIS MOTHER ADMINISTERED PUNISHMENT IN COURT

WESTFIELD, N. J., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Mary Nelson of Jersey City gave her fifteen-year-old son a public spanking in the police court yesterday. Young Nelson, with three other boys, Harvey Higgle, John Broderick and Horace Rose, boarded a freight train at Communipaw when Westfield was reached. The train was stopped and the boys were put off. They were found in the depot asleep and were taken to the station house and the Jersey City police were notified.

Mrs. Nelson was excited when she arrived to claim her boy.

"Chief, I would like to give that boy a good spanking, but I don't want to," she said.

Mrs. Nelson marched Paul in front of the judge's desk, where she spanked him with a coal shovel and cursed his ears.

"And you'll get the broomstick too when we get home," added Mrs. Nelson.

CONG. CAMPBELL

ASKS THAT EDITOR WARREN BE SET FREE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Representative P. P. Campbell of Kansas brought to the White House yesterday two copies of a petition for the pardon of Fred D. Warren of Girard Kan., the editor of the Appeal to Reason, who was recently sentenced to imprisonment for illegal use of the mails in offering in that publication a reward of $1000 to anyone who would kidnap former Gov. W. S. Taylor of Kentucky. One copy of the petition Mr. Campbell gave to President Taft.

Mr. Campbell says that he does not speak with authority of Warren, but has taken it upon himself to act in this case, since Warren lives in his district. The authorities of Kentucky had offered a reward for Taylor, Mr. Campbell says and therefore he can see no wrong in Warren's making an offer likewise.

STOCK MARKET

WAVED TOWARDS THE CLOSE

Then There Was a Sharp Reaction

Later on the Whole Lists Decline

Strong Again—Big Dealings in the New Bonds

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Trading was light at the opening of the stock market today and there were few important changes from last night's close. The new city bonds were the most active feature, a block of 200,000 selling at 101 1/2. Missouri, Kansas & Texas gained 1/2, St. Paul 1/2, and Northern Pacific and Missouri Pacific 1/4.

After a slight setback the market rallied, Reading and Lehigh Valley gaining nearly a point and other shares smaller fractions. Trading was quiet, pending the outcome of the city bond sale.

The market displayed little life in the morning session, traders restricting their operations to a minimum, while awaiting returns from the city bond sale later in the day. The only feature was extensive trading in the new city bonds, which sold as high as 101 1/2, compared with the current 101 for the old issue. It was recognized that the course of the market hinged largely on the outcome of the flotation of this issue. The market grew sensibly firmer toward midday and there were some good advances in a few of the minor specialties. Bonds were steady.

Leading stocks ruled above their foreign figures, but there was scarcely any demand. Speculation grew steadily stronger and there was a moderate increase in business. The placing of a large order for steel rails by New York Central started buying of United States Steel and it mounted a point to 75 1/2. The market closed firm. After a further advance in prices the market wavered and reacted sharply when the bids for the city bonds were published. Later on the whole list stiffened again

The Political Forces Lining Up for the Struggle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—National politics are seething again in Washington. Four interesting things have happened or come to the notice of public men within the last day or two which attach to them a significance as being on the great battle to be fought next year. They are:

The election of William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the New York republican state committee, which shows that the old guard is back in the saddle.

The evident determination of William Jennings Bryan to prevent the nomination of Governor Harmon of Ohio and to endeavor to nominate a "progressive" rather than a "reactionary."

A revival of Mr. Roosevelt's activities in that he is writing to his admirers in the west informing them that he is willing to make speeches in western territory.

The formation of a republican progressive league.

The election of Barnes is hailed with keen satisfaction by the friends of President Taft. It means, they say, that there is no longer any fear of Mr.

Roosevelt being a serious factor in the national convention next year, as New York will send a delegation under the control of the old guard.

The old guard is for Mr. Taft's re-nomination, for the renomination of the old ticket, in fact, because of the intimate relations existing between the men now in control of the New York machine and Vice President Sherman, who has always trained with Barnes and his associates.

Bryan Against Harmon.

Certain prominent democrats have recently received letters from Charles W. Bryan, William J. Bryan's brother and the publisher of his paper, the Commonwealth, urging them to get together and prevent the nomination of a reactionary of the conservative wing of the democratic party and to work for the nomination of a progressive. While these letters are written by Charles Bryan, democrats who have received them say they were inspired by the former presidential candidate. To prevent it being said that Charles Bryan is engineering a boom for his brother, the letters say that "in considering the available candidacy for the presidency Mr. Bryan's name should not be included."

Conservative democrats who have been told of these letters are somewhat disturbed as they fear that it means an attempt on the part of Mr. Bryan to break the harmony now existing and once again prevent united action. Mr. Bryan, it is well known, is especially interested in preventing the nomination of Governor Harmon. He has long been at odds with him and tried to prevent his renomination last year. He made a few speeches in Ohio, but they had little if any effect and Governor Harmon did not consider it necessary to pay any attention to Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan's sentiment regarding Woodrow Wilson or Governor Dix are not known, but it is believed he would accept any candidate, almost if by doing so he could defeat Harmon.

While Mr. Bryan does not appear to possess the power he once did democrats realize that he is still an influential figure, and that it would be next to impossible to make any attempt to make democratic chances of success next year if Mr. Bryan should bolt the nomination.

The information has come to Washington that Mr. Roosevelt is anxious to make speeches in the west. He has written to several of his supporters there that he will make addresses if proper invitation extended. Republican who have heard of this are somewhat puzzled. They do not quite know what Mr. Roosevelt's plans are. If he makes speeches in the west they think he will have more to say about his new nationalism, for they hardly remember of Mr. Taft or for an endorsement of the present policies of the republican party.

It is the opinion of the best informed republicans that Mr. Roosevelt need not be considered as a presidential candidate next year. The general feeling is that Mr. Taft will be renominated. Mr. Roosevelt could only be nominated if the radicals controlled the convention, which no one thinks possible, and if that should happen it is by no means certain Mr. Roosevelt would be the nominee, as he would find opposition from Cummins, La Follette and others of the extreme radical wing of the republican party.

Insurgents Organize.

In that connection the announcement today of the nomination of the national progressive republic league by insurgent senators, representatives, governors and other men who believe in the insurgent policies acquires interest. The object of the league, it is stated in the formal declaration of principles, is "the promotion of popular government and progressive legislation."

The formation of the league, according to some politicians, is to create a rallying point for the opposition to the renomination of President Taft and build up a machine by which the control of the party can be wrested from the hands of the conservatives. Some of the men whose names are signed to the declaration yesterday denied this and said that the purpose of the league was not to oppose Mr. Taft, but to create a strong progressive sentiment in their respective states, which after all amounts to the same thing. If a feeling in the various states exists hostile to the president and his policies it will mean the election to next convention of delegates opposed to Mr. Taft's renomination.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked by the organizers of the league to be one of the charter members. He refused, but the men who organized the league say that it has Mr. Roosevelt's approval and that he is in full sympathy with its purposes.

Senator Bourne of Oregon is the president of the league, the vice presidents are Representative Norris of Nebraska and Gov. Osborne of Michigan, all strong insurgents.

It is significant that the treasurer is Charles R. Crane of Chicago, the man who was appointed by the president to minister to China, but who was recalled to San Francisco by Sec. Knox because of his alleged indiscreet utterances. All the other charter members of the league are dyed-in-the-wool insurgents.

LUMBER TIED UP.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 24.—Millions of feet of lumber are tied up for want of snow in the woods, according to a statement made by A. F. Bentley, one of the largest lumber operators in the province.

"Unless a heavy fall of snow should come within the very near future," said the lumber king, "the lumbering situation throughout the province would be most critical; as it is now conditions are very serious. Millions of feet, owing to the scarcity of snow, are tied up. Along the bank of the St. John river chapping was discontinued some days ago and everything is in readiness for hauling the logs to the streams. In comparison with other winters the fall of snow this season has been very light and along the lowlands the woods are practically bare."

63 Years of Age—Younger Than at 40

Mrs. J. W. McPeak, of Herbert, Sask., Can., is more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which has been of great benefit to her family. She says in her letter: "I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past ten years. It is the best health giver I ever used. I am now 63 years of age, but I am looking and feeling younger than at 40. My friends all say, 'How young you look!'"

"It has also proved just the thing for my daughter, who lives in Ohio. She had such weak nerves and heart that the slightest move would startle her. Your wonderful remedy has practically overcome this, and has done her more good than all other treatments."

Mr. McPeak writes about his remarkable experience: "I am 87 years of age, and for a number of years I haven't been strong. I have a weak heart and for some time was almost helpless. Lately I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and it has helped me wonderfully. I sincerely recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to every one."

ANNUAL BANQUET OF F COMPANY, UNITED BOYS' BRIGADE

F company, Fifth Massachusetts United Boys' Brigade American, of the First Trinitarian-Congregational church, held its first annual banquet at the church vestry last night.

The event was the first annual, although the company has been in existence for three years, and was attended by 60 boys, and the latter enjoyed it to the limit. As it was not a military night but a social event, the boys did not wear their uniforms. The company formed in the children's vestry and marched to the banquet hall. Charles M. Barlow entered and he provided an ample and excellent supper. Misses Mabel Sullivan, Mabel George, Grace Moore, Ethel Pendexter and Eva Henderson acted as waiters.

Rev. George F. Kenngott was the presiding officer. The speakers of the evening were Rev. E. Victor Birelow, who spoke on "The Boy Scouts of America," Capt. Taylor and Lieut. McChirle of the company, Rolland Smith, Thomas M. Williams of the Y. M. C. A., who spoke on "The Boys," Capt. Walter R. Jones, Sergt. Cornelius Barnes and Mr. Kenngott.

The musical part of the program was furnished by Emil Hartford, who sang while Miss Eva Henderson accompanied on the piano.

The officers of the company are: Herbert Taylor, captain; William McChirle first lieutenant; Irving Snyder, second lieutenant. The drill master is Sergt. Cornelius Barnes of Company G, Sixth regiment, M. V. M. Capt. Walter R. Jones was the first drill master and the first captain was Chester E. Wheeler, who subsequently became colonel of the high school regiment, and who is now at the Massachusetts Agricultural college. He was succeeded by George H. Upton, who is now at Worcester academy. The company has been successful and prosperous and does excellent work.

RISKED HIS LIFE

In Attempt to Save His Money

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Thick smoke from a fire in the paint shop of the three-story building at the corner of Huntington and South Huntington avenues, yesterday afternoon made the escape of tenants hazardous. A man who tried to return to his shop to get his cash and books was overcome and rescued by a patrolman, while a woman on the third floor had a narrow escape carrying out her four-months-old baby.

The ground floor of the building, with an entrance at 5 South Huntington avenue, is occupied by the Brooklyn Painting & Decorating company. The two upper floors are apartments with an entrance at 903 Huntington avenue.

The fire started in the rear, on the ground floor in a paint shop. The proprietor, Samuel Stector, was seated at his desk in the front office, when an explosion occurred that threw him to the floor. He was stunned for a minute but, recovering, ran to the street shouting "Fire."

Patrolman Thomas Rooney of station 10 was standing at the corner and ring the fire alarm. Stector suddenly remembered that his cash and books were in the office, and tried to get them, but fell unconscious on the floor, overcome by smoke. Patrolman Rooney groped about in the smothering smoke from ovens and paints until he stumbled over the body of Stector. Raising him in his arms he carried him outside, where he soon revived Stector several slight blows.

In the meantime the fire had eaten its way into the second floor, where Mrs. J. N. Sheafe and her daughter Mary were. They managed to escape (about difficulty, but on the top floor Mrs. J. N. Sheafe began to pour water on the fire, which was spreading into her apartment. She checked up her 4-months-old baby and tried to go down the rear stairs, but found the smoke too dense, so she turned and started toward the front stairs. Although that exit was filled with smoke, she managed to grope her way to the street.

The tailor shop of A. Lewis, at 904 Huntington avenue, next door, was filled with smoke, and Lewis and his wife fled into the street. The fire started from spontaneous combustion. The loss was about $1500, principally on the contents of the Brooklyn Painting & Decorating company.

HIP LAMENESS

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat it

This is brought about in the same manner as lameness of the shoulder and is followed by the same results, and as much obscenity manifests itself in determining hip lameness, as shoulder lameness. First, however, let us examine critically the outline of the joint and immediate region for any differences in size or symmetry of the parts, any prominence or rotundity, comparing both sides. We may find one side warmer, fuller, seemingly more developed. Take the leg at the lower part and lifting it up try to induce excessive passive motion. Push the thigh against the hip bone, which perhaps will indicate pain when in motion. The limited action of the hip joint on the side and the marked dropping and rising of the hip on the other side will indicate to us the trouble. The leg, as in shoulder lameness, will be carried forward rather with a circular motion. Turning round is also difficult and helps in diagnosing the trouble. Hip lameness is rather a serious condition, and should not be neglected, because of the tendency to permanent disability, exostosis and arthritis. What follows often resists every kind of treatment.

Absolute and extended rest is imperative, unless this is thoroughly adopted and carried out other aids are absolutely useless. First, then, let us give the required rest, cold water showers alternating with hot (fomentations), cover with hot wet blankets, repeating frequently, and at length, mild soothing liniment, followed when the inflammation has subsided, by stimulating liniments, blisters, etc., which can be repeated several times to advantage, but don't overlook the matter of rest.

CURB

The bulging backwards of the posterior portion of the neck joint, the line which should be straight in a normal condition. Curbs result from heavy pulling, jumping, slipping and similar accidents, malformation, etc. At first a swelling more or less diffuse, heat and soreness, with lameness of a permanent nature. Later the swelling will be well defined, more noticeable in every way, the curved line detected, readily felt with the fingers. The tenderness may now vary in degree. Possibly the animal will not show the lameness now at all. The hook affected with a curb becomes a source of danger, for it is weak and cannot withstand the strain and work of a normal neck. It is well to begin at first medication of trouble to make hot fomentations, cold showers, flection and liniment. If, however, the curb is well defined and does not yield to these forms of treatment, get to work with more severe measures. Apply a good absorbent iodine, fuming, rest and repeating the blister will do much to overcome the ordinary curb.

EVADES THE LAW

MAN WEDS GIRL ON A TUG-BOAT

EDINBURGH, Jan. 24.—Alfred B. Scott, Jr., of New York, and Miss Stella Peatling, also of New York, were married on a tugboat yesterday.

The couple, who had been touring the continent, came to Edinburgh for the purpose of being married. They found that a residence of three weeks was necessary to conform to the Scotch law.

Anxious to start for the United States, Mr. Scott chartered a tug at Leith, and accompanied by Miss Peatling, a minister, lawyers and friends, proceeded four miles to sea, where the ceremony was performed.

If your children have Croup, use ALLEOTONE and you will be its friend always. You have not to hear of the first case it has not overcome within a few hours. It has hundreds of successes to its credit.

WENT INSANE

MAN FELT THE SPELL COMING OVER HIM

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Jan. 24.—George Faves, 33 years old, got off a train here yesterday morning, walked to the police station and said "I'm feeling crazy." The police did not believe him.

Late yesterday afternoon Faves went violently insane in a Main street barber shop. He attacked former Assistant Chief Engineer William Leahy, who was in one of the chairs and tried to bite his hand off. Leahy had a terrible struggle with the mad man and was being overpowered when another customer dealt Faves a blow with his fist. Then three policemen arrived and took Faves to the county jail.

The regular meeting of Local 62, International Association of Stationary Engineers, was held last night at their rooms, 71 Central street. There was a large attendance and considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Two applications for membership were received and one new member was initiated.

The holding and portable members of the local announced the schedule they have prepared to go into effect the first of May. This calls for $3 a day, with time and a half for all overtime, holidays and Sundays.

WHO MUST PAY?

Money Was Taken from Gas Meter

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Can a household be held responsible for money stolen from a slot gas meter, and can payment for the same be compelled by shutting off the supply of gas.

Here is an interesting question submitted to the Gas and Electric Light commission by James P. Finnegan of Malden, president of the Massachusetts Pharmaceutical association. While similar cases have been brought to the attention of the commission, the disputes have always been settled by the two parties and no ruling has ever been made by the commission formally fixing the responsibility.

The commission, through Chairman Barker, has decided to give the petitioner a public hearing on Feb. 1 on his grievance against the Malden and Melrose Gas Light company.

Rep. James C. Cavanaugh, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, said last night: "During the month of October the gas company alleged money was stolen from quarter meters in the cellar of the apartment house occupied by Mrs. Finnegan and that a certain amount of money was stolen from the meter from which Mr. Finnegan's apartment was supplied. The gas company contends Mr. Finnegan is responsible for the money which was stolen and has demanded payment for the same. It has notified him that unless the same is paid it will take out his meter."

"We purpose to have a ruling from the gas and electric light commissioners, if possible, to determine whether or not the householder is responsible for money stolen out of a meter. So far as I know it has been the practice of the gas companies to compel people to pay money stolen from their gas meters, thus obliging the consumers to pay twice for the gas used."

The petitioner prays: "First—That the respondents be enjoined and restrained from removing said meter from the house occupied by your petitioner."

"Second—That the respondents be directed and required to supply gas to your petitioner."

"Third—That the respondents be restrained from forcing your petitioner to pay for money alleged to have been stolen from said meter by discontinuing gas supply."

"Fourth—That the respondents be required to refund to your petitioner the $1.25 paid by your petitioner into a meter in advance for gas which your petitioner has never received."

"Fifth—And for such further orders as your honorable commission may deem just and right."

Rep. Deering of Portland presented an act creating a state board of charities and corrections, which shall investigate and inspect the whole system of public charities and correctional institutions in the state and examine the condition and management of all prisons, jails, reform and industrial schools, children's homes, hospitals, sanatoriums, almshouses and all institutions of such nature which derive support from the state, county or municipal appropriations but not any institution of an educational or industrial nature.

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 24.—With all preliminary arrangements completed for his flight from Key West to Havana, Aviator J. B. McCurdy announced last night that a start would be made about 7 a. m. Wednesday instead of at daylight as he previously had decided on. As a last precaution test a flight will be made this afternoon to try out the motor and test the winds. The torpedo destroyers and other naval vessels which will patrol the waters between here and Havana will leave Key West tonight and take their stations about ten miles apart. The first vessel stopping 200 miles from Sand Keys. Immediately upon the appearance of McCurdy's airplane on the horizon the boats will hold forth dense smoke to indicate his course and give the signal to the next boat beyond. After McCurdy has passed them the torpedo destroyers will make a dash for Havana. Arrangements have been made to report the progress of the aviator by wireless. McCurdy stated last night that with favorable winds he expected to make the distance of 115 miles in 1 hour and 45 minutes, or about two hours if he is forced to combat headwinds.

TO MEET INSURGENTS

Government Forces Are Expecting an Easy Victory

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24.—Advices received here by Consul Ulloa of the Honduran government state that Gen. Lara and Col. Munoz, with a force of 1000 men have left Tegucigalpa, for Truxillo to meet the insurgents under General Bonilla. The advices also say General Bonilla has only about 100 men at Truxillo and the government forces, should there be a fight, will have little trouble in defeating the insurgents. The same information states that the inhabitants of Puerto Cortez and Celba are loyal to the government and that any attack by the revolutionists can easily be repulsed. There has been no disaffection in the interior, according to Consul Ulloa, and the success of the revolutionists along the coast has been only at such minor ports as Truxillo and Ruetan Island.

The seizure of the Hornet by the United States, the advice continues, has proved a body blow to the insurgents and it is expected the revolution will be put down within two weeks.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

The legislature this year will be called upon to take some action toward enacting a workmen's compensation act. This law has been advocated throughout this country during the past year, but so far as we know has not yet been adopted by any of the states. The object of it is to relieve employees who meet with accidents, either through their own negligence or otherwise, from the possibility of facing starvation or going to the poorhouse. The law would put an end to the great amount of litigation that is carried on between employer and employee over damage claims resulting from accidents. The employee who is living usually from hand to mouth is not prepared to fight large corporations in the courts. The litigation is very expensive, and unless the employee succeeds in getting a verdict for substantial damages he is seldom able to pay his lawyer. In many cases, even where the verdict is liberal in amount, when every expense is paid, there is very little left for the claimant. This is the main reason why the workmen's compensation law is advocated as a humane measure that would lift the employee out of the embarrassing circumstances in which he is placed whenever he meets with an accident that brings total or partial disability. The European countries have long ago discovered the necessity of such a law and many of them have applied it with the most satisfactory results to all concerned. Under the provisions of the law as applied in 22 countries the amount to be paid by the corporations for any specified injury is fixed and no lawsuit is required. All that is necessary is, that the employee shall prove his claim and give conclusive evidence that it is just and right. Under such conditions the employer is obliged to pay the amount. In the long run the law benefits the employer as well as the employee, first in preventing employees who are unfortunate enough to be injured in accidents from becoming public charges, and second in promoting good feeling between employer and employee. The latter is not the least of the benefits accruing from the operation of this law and the relations between labor and capital where the law exists, are said to be much improved as a result of its operation. Certain corporations are opposed to the law as are some of the labor organizations, but we believe that both are mistaken in their opposition to the measure. Similar opposition was shown in European countries when the law was at first proposed, but when the people came to understand it they favored the measure and its application vindicated their judgment.

William N. Osgood of this city is one of the strongest advocates of the workmen's compensation law having served as a member of the commission to investigate the subject and having also framed an act that has been before the legislature in one form or another for several years past. Speaker Walker of the house made the statement last year that this subject would be one of the most important that would engage the attention of the general court this year. That indicates that Mr. Walker has already grasped the full scope and the great importance of the measure. It is to be hoped that other legislators will take a similar view of the question and assist in placing the law on the statute books of Massachusetts.

An important contribution to the discussion of this measure comes from Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who advocated a law of this kind in his inaugural. What he says on the question has given it a greater impetus all over the country as his public utterances are widely read and his views respected by members of the legislatures of the different states throughout the country.

DANGER IN THE CONCORD RIVER

Editor Sun:

After reading your editorial as a parent with small children and residing close to the Concord river, I heartily approve your suggestion that the police be given power to arrest any boy found skating on the lower Concord in winter or bathing in it in summer. The ice is never good below the Rogers street bridge and for some distance above the bridge it is nearly as bad. Boys can never go on this ice except at the peril of their lives. In the summer the boys who bathe in the river get poisoned by the aniline dyes and other chemicals from the mills, so that it is almost as necessary to prohibit bathing in summer as skating in winter. Hoping you will succeed in having something done to stop both.

Respectfully yours,
Lawrence Street

Supt. Welch, in speaking upon this matter, admits that many lives would be saved by a police regulation that would forbid boys from skating on the lower Concord in winter and bathing in it in summer. The police board can make such an arrangement with the approval of the companies controlling the river. The board of aldermen if necessary will cooperate in authorizing some such arrangement. There might be legal barriers in the way but these could be overcome by proceeding against the boys found on the river on the charge of trespassing.

The people who reside in the vicinity of Lawrence street will be very glad to have an arrangement put in force under which any boy found on the lower Concord could be arrested and taken to the station. It would relieve the parents who reside near the river of a great deal of anxiety and would undoubtedly result in saving numerous lives.

JUDGE BOND'S PASSING

A great many people are surprised at the death of Judge Bond so soon after the Leblanc murder trial at which he presided. During the trial he had many sharp colloquies with the district attorney and afterwards he was criticized by some of the Boston papers for commenting upon features of the trial at which he presided. The excitement and fatigue incident to the case may have hastened his death. He was an able jurist and had long experience in criminal cases.

POLYGAMY IS CHARGED

According to investigations made by McClure's magazine it is alleged that polygamy is still prevalent in Utah. The writer of the article charges that the leaders of the Mormon church connive at the violation of the law by the members in spite of the pledges of twenty years ago. It would appear that while these charges made in a magazine may have slight foundation the persistence with which they appear would justify the United States government in looking into the question very thoroughly.

SEEN AND HEARD

The steamship Perslan was speeding over summer seas, when one of the gay, young and inquiring girls who are found on every trip, skipped up to the captain and asked:

"Captain, are we really going fast? It seems as if we were just crawling."

"Fast," answered the captain gruffly, "of course we are going fast. With nothing to see but water and sky you can't judge our speed, but, my dear young lady, the friction of the boat is so great it makes the water hot aft."

"I don't believe it," giggled the girl, and the captain with a great show of indignation called for a rope and bucket to prove his words. These brought him along the rail down aft of the vessel, directly under the drain pipe of the galley, where hot water runs all day, and brought it up smoking, to the astonishment of the awe-struck girl.

A long, lean Yankee, who had been watching the performance, then came forward and droned: "Say, cap, that must make you change your course mighty often."

"Change my course?" blustered the captain. "What would I change my course for?"

"Well," said the Yankee slowly, "so darn much friction as that must wear the ocean out mighty quick."—Exchange.

ONE, TWO, THREE

It was an old, old, old, old lady, And a boy that was half-past three; And the way that they played together Was beautiful to see.

She couldn't go running and jumping, And the boy, he couldn't go, he, For he was a little fellow, With a thin, little twisted knee.

They sat in the yellow twilight, Out under the maple tree; And the game they played I'll tell you, Just as it was told to me.

It was hide and seek they were playing, Though you'd never have known it to be— With an old, old, old, old lady, And the boy with the twisted knee.

"You're in the china closet," he'd say, And he'd laugh and laugh in his glee; But it wasn't the china closet, But he still had his two and his three.

"You are up in papa's bedroom. In the chest with the queer old key." And she said: "You are warm and warmer; But you're not quite right, said she.

"It can't be the little cupboard Where mamma's things used to be— So it must be the clothespress, again!" And he found her with his three.

Then she covered her face with her fingers, And there were wrinkles and white and wee, And she gasped where the boy was hiding.

With a one and a two and a three, And they never had stirred from their places, Night under the maple tree— This old, old, old, old lady, And the boy—with the lame, little three.

This dear, dear, dear old lady, And the boy who was half-past three. —Henry Cuyler Bunner.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Dr. Mary Stone, a Chinese girl who was brought up by the missionaries and became a physician, has a far reaching pedigree. Her family history runs back 2500 years, and is printed in 12 great volumes. In the last volume Dr. Stone is named—the first woman in 2500 years to be mentioned even in the history of her own family. No doubt many of her ancestresses had as much ability as she, but they had no chance to develop it.

Opposition has been withdrawn in the probate court by the allowance of the will of Abner B. Carter, Worcester, who died Aug. 11, leaving most of her $10,000 estate to the First Church of Christ, Worcester, and the court has allowed the will.

Oklahoma can generally be depended on to provide novelties. Despite the fact that Governor Crouce has decided that the "jimslinger" is the "official" coat of the state, the lieutenant governor, J. J. McAlester, has decreed that shirt sleeves "go" in the state senate. He gave something of a shock to some of the more decorous senators recently when he strolled into the chamber coatless and with a cigar in his mouth. In the same unconventional attire he presided over the deliberations of the senate. "I never could work with my coat on," was the lieutenant governor's only explanation when the matter was called to his attention.

Miss Caroline I. Reilly has been put in charge of the press bureau of the National Woman Suffrage association in place of Mrs. Ida Husted Harper. Miss Reilly has held the office of secretary for five years. Miss Harper sent in her resignation some time ago, because she wished to devote all her time to writing and lecturing.

that liberty which the Occident has long enjoyed. The criticisms are presented by the Baha Bhai in his magazine, formerly called the Light of India, now appearing under the title East and West. The Marhani of Baroda, wife of the Gaekwar, has twice visited this country. Her remarks are reported as follows:

"The women of your big, vast, young country, I confess, disappoint me. I heard so much of them; that they equalled the French women in their two most striking qualities of chic and vivacity; that they dressed far better than the English women, were as coquettish, though in a frank way, as the Spanish; that they were, in short, as fascinating as the most fascinating women in the world—the Russian. Well, they are not. They are less chic than the French women, because their clothes are more exaggerated, less becoming, and not always appropriate to the occasion. They dress better than the English women, more conspicuously, perhaps, but their clothing is not so durable, suggests nothing of the solid qualities of modesty and stolon, as do the tweeds and broadcloths worn by the English. Their coquetry is not attractive, for it suggests subslety. The manner of the American woman who wishes to attract a man is that of the boy who wants to play golf with him—as frank, as devoid of poetry. I understand that some American women make the proposals of marriage. That I do not doubt after watching them make themselves 'agreeable' to a man at dinner. I am not surprised that American men do not make love well. The women save them the trouble. As for the fascinations of the Russian women, No! No! The Russian women are soft and feminine. The American women are masculine. The only softness about them is in the stuffs with which they drape themselves—not in their souls."

The Princess Prativia, who was interviewed in London, had this to say: "The women of the rest of the world are so unhappy. We of India alone know the art of happiness. We judge a nation by the status of its women, and the status of the American woman is eternal unrest. One woman once said to me: 'I have nothing but money, and I'm tired of that!' They lack that calm centre of philosophy without which life is a whirlpool, and the world is in a vast turmoil. They talk loudly, they try to be sprightly, and only succeed in making ugly faces. They are not enough alone. They do not read enough. They chatter too much and think too little."

Lovers of a quiet life may envy the Rev. Henry Marlyn Sherwood, who at the age of 38 has resigned the living of White Ladies, near Worcester, which he had held for seventy-one years. He is the son of a noted woman writer of the early Victorian days, whose best known child's book, "The Patchwork Family," may be found in some nurseries still; was born in India, married before he was 21, graduated at Oxford nearly eighty years ago, and took orders in the year of Queen Victoria's accession. Three years later he was appointed to the living in which he was content to stay for the rest of his long life.

VALUE OF NAVIGABLE RIVERS
Were the rivers not navigable there would be little done in the interior of Alaska today. First used by the prospector in his poling boat and the trader with his little steamer, they have become the means of opening up every camp that has been struck in the interior of Alaska. The Yukon is very shallow at its mouth, which is about 70 miles in width across its delta. There are places 400 miles from the mouth of the river where the Lushita could navigate with ease, for there are soundings which show a 30-foot channel in a mile-wide river. The Yukon is navigable for 2100 miles. The Kuskokwim, a sister stream, has only been navigated on the lower reaches, but with its navigable branches is believed to have 1000 miles of navigable water. The Tanana has been ascended for 600 miles, and the Koyukuk in excess of that figure. Scores of other streams can be used by small steamers from 25 to 200 miles. Altogether it is safe to say that there are 6000 miles of navigable streams in Alaska. The Yukon opens for navigation the latter part of May and closes the latter part of October. But with all its wealth of gold, its unheard call to toilers of the soil, its mountains studded with gems of riches—the lodes of veins of copper and other materials—this empire starves for the one thing that would make it thrive—Coilfers.

THANKED JUDGE SISTER KILLED

For Four Years Sentence to Prison

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—A man stepped up to Judge Stevens in the lobby of the superior court yesterday and said: "Do you know me, judge?"

His honor replied that he did not recall the visitor.

"Well, you sentenced me to state prison for four years for forgery, and I came here to thank you. I have been released. I had a bad record, but I am a changed man. I intend to lead an honest life. I am going to the north-west, but before I went I thought I would call to see you and thank you."

The judge wished the caller good luck and success in his effort to be an honest citizen and the visitor went away.

The judge related the incident in disposing of a case in the criminal session of the court.

Warren Egan, aged 11, came up for sentence on the charge of breaking and entering. He has been in court several times and has been placed on probation. His brother wanted him sent down to Maine, where his father was working temporarily, but when the judge learned all the facts of the case he concluded that he would not entertain the suggestion.

The judge committed him to the Suffolk school for boys.

George Wagenhauser was sent to state prison for a term of five to eight years on the charge of breaking and entering houses in the west end, and other parts of the city. James King, on a similar charge, was committed to the reformatory. Both had been in the coast artillery.

THE DEMOCRATS
UNABLE TO AGREE ON A SENATORIAL CANDIDATE
TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 24.—In the conference held here last night by the democratic members of the legislature the following vote for United States senator resulted: James E. Smith, 38; John Smith, 14; Congressman William Hughes, 2; Frank A. Katzenbach, Jr., 1; absent, 1.

A motion to make the selection of Mr. Martine unanimous was defeated. The conference was held in the state house, with Assemblyman Cole of Warren county the only absentee. Senator Osborn presided. There was usually no speaking. An effort to have the vote made unanimous was made by one of Mr. Martine's supporters, but this was vigorously opposed by the Smith-men. On a viva voce vote the Smith men all voted no, and without any further discussion the conference broke up.

For the state comptroller Edward J. Edwards of Hudson county received 41 votes and William M. Williams of Hunterdon county nine. A motion to make the selection of Mr. Edwards unanimous was carried.

The republicans held a conference on the senatorship, but had reached no conclusion up to a late hour.

PRES. HASLIN DEAD
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—James H. Haslin, president of the New York Athletic club, died yesterday in his apartment at the Hotel Marie Antoinette. He had been in ill health since early in the winter. Mr. Haslin, who was 66 years old, was elected three times to the board of governors of the club, an honor never given to any other member. He was elected president in 1909 and re-elected for this year.

Harkins has called a meeting of the men of the parish for tomorrow evening, while the meeting of the ladies, which was to have been held this evening, has been postponed until Friday evening. Serious matters of importance to the welfare of the new parish will be discussed at the meetings, and the arrangements for the grand bazaar in May will be furthered. In the spring it is planned to break ground for the new church, hence the activity now manifested for the success of the various undertakings.

LABOR LEADERS

Placed On Trial in Federal Court
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24.—Charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust law by entering into a combination in restraint of interstate and foreign commerce, 87 delegates of labor unions, members of the New Orleans Dock and Cotton council were placed on trial yesterday in the federal court.

The prosecution resulted from a strike of union laborers employed on the water front here three years ago. The government alleges that the representatives of 13 labor unions, operating as the New Orleans Dock and Cotton Council, prevented the coaling of ships from this port and otherwise conspired to interfere with commerce.

FIREMAN CALLED

TO RESCUE CAT FROM A POLE IN NASHUA
NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 24.—Nashua's two busiest departments, police and fire, were appealed to last night in the interests of one small cat which had climbed a telephone pole at the corner of Tolles and Ridge streets and could not get down.

Some humbly inclined person telephoned the police of pussy's predicament and Patrolman Thomas Sullivan attempted to give succor to the cat. Finally the fire department was called on and Thomas Degan was detailed for the job.

The cat had been on the pole since Friday.

THE KELLY CASE

Heard in the Equity Court in Boston

In the equity merit session of the superior court in Boston, yesterday, was opened, before Judge Hitchcock, a case of considerable local interest. The case has to do with promissory notes, alleged to have been signed by George G. Kelly of Braintree.

Mr. Kelly was familiarly known as "Stonewall Kelly" and the case involves about $15,000. The complainant in the case is Mrs. Mary C. Leach, a step-daughter of Mr. Kelly. She is the executrix and chief beneficiary and she claims that the notes are forgeries.

The respondents in the case are: John T. Green of Lowell, J. C. Green of Nashua, George H. Green of Lawrence and William H. Green of Concord, all brothers, and cousins of the late George G. Kelly, the testator, and all having an interest in the disputed notes, which are six in number. The sixth person interested is Susan E. Green, wife of John T. Green.

George G. Kelly died as the result of an accident, December 23, 1909. Mr. Kelly, who went to California in 1878, had acquired considerable property.

ALL DRUGGISTS

were all dated August 24, 1909, while Mr. Kelly's will was made in March, 1909.

The envelope in which the notes were found was also said to contain a paned dated Lowell, August 24. The paper read as follows:

To Whom It May Concern:

That I made a will in March last, and not being satisfied with it, I am intending to make another. But if anything happens that I do not, and this falls into the hands of my cousin with the notes, I request him to give them to whom they belong, with the exception of J. C. Green. I want my cousin John to see to this one, and see that he has the money, as he needs it. And I further give to my cousin John all of my land on the right hand side of the Lawrence road, and all of my lumber that is cut and sawed, and all of this wood that is cut.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal at the city of Lowell, state of Massachusetts, this 24th day of August, nineteen hundred and nine.

The paper purports to be signed by George G. Kelly, and is under seal. The notes also purport to have been signed by Geo. G. Kelly, and to be negotiable.

Upon learning of the existence of these papers, Messrs. F. W. and S. E. Qua, attorneys for the executrix, immediately brought a bill in equity praying for an injunction to prevent the notes being negotiated or delivered to any person other than the executrix, and that they be given up for cancellation, on three grounds: First, that the notes were never delivered; second, that they were without consideration; third, that they were never signed by George G. Kelly, or by any person authorized by him to sign them.

A temporary injunction was obtained and the case came up yesterday for a hearing on the merits.

The attorneys for the respondents are John T. Masterson of Lowell and H. R. Lawrence of Lawrence.

They Were Taken From Burning Hospital

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., Jan. 24.—Patients at the Aberdeen hospital, many of whom lay helpless on their cots, were carried out by attendants and firemen during a fire which threatened to destroy the hospital building yesterday. The fire started on the top floor near the roof and before the firemen dared use the hose it was necessary that the patients in the rooms below be taken out. They were carried into the nurses' home adjoining. The loss by fire was not heavy but the water damage will be considerable.

NEW ORPHANAGE

IS AN IDEAL PLACE FOR LITTLE ONES

A Sun reporter visited the temporary quarters of St. Peter's orphanage in Chelmsford street recently and was ushered through every corner of the building.

This building is the property of the St. Peter's Co., and it is a splendid edifice, and after looking through it one would think it was constructed purposely for an orphanage, for it is surprising to see how it answers the wants of its occupants.

The Sisters of Charity in charge of the institution have occupied the place with their 34 little motherless children since October, when their former home in Appleton street was purchased by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The house is well situated and right in the back of it sets a large field where the children enjoy playing and skating. The building is well equipped and is very sanitary, and the little ones seem to enjoy their new home very well. It is a three story building but the upper one is not occupied, for there is ample room in the two first stories to accommodate the Sisters and their little friends.

The little ones are all in good health and the attending physician has very little to do in the line of treatment. They attend school every day, and for this purpose two large class rooms have been furnished on the first floor. These who are too young to attend school enjoy their time in the basement, which is spacious and well lighted, and when the weather permits, they are taken out in the field, where they can enjoy their favorite sport, coasting and skating.

The eight Sisters in charge are also in good health and enjoy their new quarters first rate.

ONLY 13 CAME UP TO REQUIREMENTS OF LAW

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 24.—Of 72 samples of milk taken on the 17th and 18th from shipments over the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Central Vermont railroads, consigned to dealers in Providence, State Commissioner Potter stated last night that but 13 came up to the requirements of the state law which calls for 3.25 per cent. butter fat. Some of the milk, the commissioner says, was milking but skim milk, and other samples showed a very large percentage of water.

THREE BOY BANDITS

Said to be Mixed Up in Crimes in Two States

WESTFIELD, Jan. 24.—Three boys ranging in age from 18 to 23 years, whom the police charge with being a desperate trio of boy bandits and at whose door numerous burglaries in two states and a holdup are laid, are under arrest here. Two of them were arrested yesterday on several burglary charges and the third will be arraigned today on a holdup charge.

The boys under arrest are Ward Lapoint, aged 19; Warren Phelps, 18, and William White, 22.

Phelps and Lapoint were arrested in Worcester Saturday as they were attempting to dispose of goods which had been reported stolen, and White was arrested in Northampton Monday night and brought here yesterday.

Lapoint and Phelps in court yesterday were specifically charged with breaking and entering and larceny and entering and larceny from Smith's store at Chester Jan. 13, breaking and entering and larceny from the Southwick depot Jan. 12, and breaking and entering and larceny from Marshall's store, Westfield, Jan. 11. Pleas of guilty were entered.

In addition to the charges that have already been made against the boys the police believe that they can connect them with burglaries of depots and stores at Plainville and Simsbury, Conn. Phelps, the police say, has also admitted that he and Lapoint broke into four places in Templeton last Thursday night and made two other attempts which were not successful. One of the breaks was at the Catholic church, where some money was secured, and another at a jewelry store, from which over $100 worth of goods was taken.

A suit case filled with loot has been located in Gardner by the state police who have been working on the case.

Former Hyde Park Man Said to Have Accused Himself

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Patrick Kline, 17 years old, who says he lives in Rochester, N. Y., has had a difficult time recently, he says, endeavoring to induce the police to arrest him for the crime for which his conscience has been troubled. Kline was accommodated yesterday, for he wandered into Capt. Gaskin's district and was locked up. The Hyde Park police were communicated with and he was taken there on a charge of larceny.

When Kline walked into the Court square station he said he wanted to be prosecuted for stealing $20 from the Y. M. C. A. in Hyde Park. Before he left the station, Kline said, he walked into the Y. M. C. A. at Hyde Park on Jan. 19, broke open a rolltop desk and stole $20. He then wandered away and finally landed in Ayer.

Here he became despondent and his conscience told him he had done wrong and should be punished for it, so he determined to give himself up and take his medicine. He went to the Ayer police station and decided to interview, confess his crime and take his punishment.

He peered into the window of the station house and seeing no one on duty he decided to become an unwelcome guest. After waiting around for a time and not seeing a policeman or the town constable, Kline became disgusted with the place.

Kline ran across a revolver in the town lockup and a billy and says he confiscated both. He left the lockup in a hurry but remained about the village for some time, hoping he might be caught by the town marshal. He did not meet the marshal so he boarded a train for Boston.

Kline was in Ayer on Tuesday. He had been in Boston several days but he did not decide to surrender to the police until yesterday, when his conscience and an empty stomach prompted him to visit the town marshal. He did not meet the marshal so he boarded a train for Boston.

Kline had been an assistant janitor at the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. before the 1902 incident. He will have a hearing today. Sympathetic persons in Hyde Park, who are inclined to believe that Kline is not altogether a bad young man, have decided to intervene in his behalf in the hope that he will reform his ways.

Bay State People May Get a Share of It

HAVERHILL, Jan. 24.—Claimants to an estate consisting of over $200,000, in cash and much more in real estate, Mrs. Michael Gately of the Bradford district, Mrs. George Powers of South Groveland and John Doherty of Peabody and half a score of people across the water, are contesting the will of Gen. James William Riley, who died in Wellsville, O., nearly five years ago. A little over two years ago the case was threshed out in the Ohio courts, when there were more than 200 claimants to the property, but the claims of all but a score were thrown out and the case will again be brought up next month, when it will be fought by relatives in this vicinity.

Gen. Riley amassed a considerable fortune, including property in Wellsville and Lisbon, O., and large tracts in Virginia. When he died, the mayor of Wellsville wrote to the mayor of Cork, Ire., and it was through the latter that the local people were apprised of the death and relationship with the local people, for when the late William McKinley of South Groveland attended a Hibernian convention in New York in 1876, he returned with the news that he had met a relative of theirs at the convention, the books of the Hibernians of that period substantiating the fact that he was sent to the convention as a delegate.

P. M. Smith of Wellsville, O., counsel for the heirs in this vicinity, was here Saturday, preparing their case. When the case was first tried, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Gately and Mr. Doherty of 27 Franklin street went to Wellsville and gave testimony regarding their case. That there is merit in their claims is shown by the fact that they were not among the large hatch which was declared to be unsubstantiated. These people are second cousins of the deceased and among the nearest of kin to him, Mrs. McVeigh of London, Eng., being the nearest, a first cousin.

WOMAN RESCUED LIQUOR DEALERS

She Was Overcome at Fire Were Fined $51,500 and Given Sentences

ROCKLAND, Me., Jan. 24.—A loss of $5000 was sustained by the Huston Tittle book company yesterday afternoon by fire that started around a stove in the basement. The damage to the Cobb-Berry block, in which the store is located, will be about $1000 additional. Both losses are partially covered by insurance.

The first warning of the fire was given when clerks saw smoke issuing from the register in the center of the floor. C. E. Tittle, proprietor, had barely time to remove the money from the safe and part of that which was in the cash register before all in the store were driven out by dense clouds of smoke.

The firm had but recently moved into the store and goods to the value of several thousand dollars were still stored in the basement. The fire was extinguished and the goods stored there are ruined. The fire did not get through the ground floor but all the stock in the first and second stories is damaged by smoke and water.

Miss Clara Hopkins, one of the clerks, was carried from the store in a fainting condition. The Masonic hall, on the third floor, is badly smoked.

DROPPED DEAD

MAN EXPRESSED WISH TO PASS AWAY QUICKLY

RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 24.—Remarkable in a casual way at 4 o'clock, that when his time to die came, he preferred to go quickly, rather than suffer a protracted illness, Myron A. Britton, 52 years old, an hour later Sunday afternoon dropped dead at his home, 119 State street.

He was employed as a mechanic by the Rutland carriage company of W. H. Low street and had been in poor health for the last two weeks. Owing to a scarcity of work at the place where he was employed, he was on a half-time schedule, working only the last three days in each week.

Sunday morning he arose at his accustomed hour and swept out his workshop in the rear of the house, but feeling worse than usual, returned and telephoned for Dr. J. E. Thomson, who attended him. He felt a trifle better in the afternoon and joked with his friends.

It was at 5 o'clock, while standing in the kitchen where his wife was preparing supper, that he sank to the floor, dead.

HANDICAP SHOOT

TO WASH THE NOSTRILS

To wash the nostrils every day should be the aim of everyone wishing to be free from the disgusting symptoms of Nasal Catarrh.

Anyone can readily rid themselves of nasal catarrh by obtaining from the druggist two ounces of antiseptic vilane powder. Use a half teaspoonful to a pint of warm water, and sniff up into the nostrils a half dozen or more times until all mucus matter is removed. Also keep the throat clean and apply the following splendid catarrh balm to the nostrils: Mix a teaspoonful of vilane powder with a few cent of vasoline.

This treatment cleans, clears, soothes and heals the mucous membrane and enables one to breathe freely through the nose.

JUDGE HARRIS RESIGNS BADLY INJURED

Gov. Foss Has Two Vacancies on the Bench to Fill

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—The death of Judge Daniel W. Bond and the resignation yesterday of Judge Robert O. Harris of East Bridgewater, who has been elected to congress, to take effect March 1, has left two vacancies on the superior court bench which will shortly be filled by Gov. Foss.

Judge Harris, who was elected in the 14th district to succeed Gov. Foss in congress, fixes March 1 as the time for his resignation to take effect in order that the governor and the chief justice of the superior court may have opportunity to carefully consider his successor and not inconvenience either to any great extent.

Gov. Foss has already had the names of several members of the legal fraternity urged upon him for appointment, but his mind is open and receptive on the matter, and as he is desirous of making the best possible appointment to such high judicial offices he invites suggestions from the people in order that the best man available may be secured.

Judge Harris' letters to Gov. Foss are as follows:

"His Excellency, Eugene N. Foss:
"Sir:—In sending you my notice of my resignation instead of simply causing a vacancy on March 1, by the acceptance of the office to which I have been elected, I have in mind both your convenience and that of the chief justice of the superior court, the latter having control of the business of the court and his associates had arranged my work for the current year, beginning

Nelson Webster, a brakeman for the Boston & Maine railroad, was badly injured shortly before 6 o'clock last evening when he was caught between an engine and a car.

From all that can be learned Webster had just uncoupled the cars from the engine, after passing a flying switch. The cars had just been pulled from the yard of the Bigelow Carpet Co. and had been pushed towards the Merrimack street crossing. They were then pulled down towards the flying switch, when ordinarily the cars would have taken one track and the engine the other. Webster had just uncoupled the cars from the engine, when something went wrong and the engine jumped a turn in the track and brought it suddenly. The cars bumped against the engine, pushing out towards the canal, and a foot more would have dropped it into the water.

Webster had no time to get out from between the first car and the engine, and both legs were caught. His left leg was terribly crushed. The ambulance was summoned and Webster was removed to the Lowell hospital where it was found that he had sustained a compound comminuted fracture of the left leg, a bad laceration of the right leg and a cut on the right knee.

George M. Whitney, the engineer of the donkey engine, was badly shaken up and complained of injuries to his back. Had the engine plunged into the canal Mr. Whitney would have been drowned, as he could not have extricated himself from his position in time to escape the water. He was taken to his home, 2 Puffer street, and Dr. E. O. Taber was called. Henry Deane, the fireman of the engine, was also badly shaken up.

Webster's home is in Wilson street.

LENGTHY VIGIL LAWRENCE GIRL

Of Parents of Missing Married Man She Sued for $20,000

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Worn out by their long vigil and disheartened by the continued absence of their daughter, the parents of Florence Eva Whittier of Ipswich, who disappeared a week ago last Friday, are on the verge of nervous prostration and are daily living in hope no serious harm has come to the girl.

Had Florence gone to work or even eloped, the family felt certain she would have communicated with them in some manner even if it were only to let them know she was alive and well. But the continued absence of the girl from her home has led them to fear for her life, and as the days go by, no news is heard their anxiety is having a telling effect upon them.

Every friend the girl ever had, as far as the family and detectives can learn, has been questioned, but all declare they have heard no word of her and know of no young man whom she might have gone away with.

The theories have slimmered down to two: one, that the girl has strayed away, her mind unbalanced; and the other that she is held captive in some city. It is on these two theories the investigation is now being turned. Constant watch is being kept on the hospitals, while unquestionable places in Boston are being visited. Maynard Whittier, father of the girl, said last night:

"She was such a conscientious girl we are at a loss to account for her disappearance. We have given up the search in this town for the time being. The ground here has been gone over carefully and no trace has been discovered. Florence was always a thoroughly good girl and it is almost out of the question that she should have left us voluntarily and without sending us some word regarding herself, if nothing else. For this reason we fear for her greatly."

MARATHON DANCE

Is Not Allowed in This City

The ban has been placed on Marathon dancing in this city by Supt. Redmond Welch of the police department, and the one which was scheduled to be held last night in Associate hall was called off after the manager of the affair had been in conference with Supt. Welch for several minutes.

In short, the Marathon dance is nothing more or less than an endurance contest in which a couple dance until they drop out from sheer exhaustion or collapse on the floor. The winners of the contest are the couples who remain on the floor the longest.

In many cities and towns throughout the United States this form of dance has claimed victims, the majority of whom were women, and laws are now in process of enactment making it criminal to conduct such a dance.

For the past few weeks there have been two watches on exhibition in a downtown store window which were to be awarded to the couple winning the Marathon dance which was to have been held at Associate hall last night.

Shortly before 8 o'clock last night Supt. Welch arrived at the hall and after a talk with the manager of the affair the latter was convinced that it would be better to cancel the endurance contest. There was considerable disappointment among the spectators who

THE SUPREME COURT

Orders Record of the Ruef Case Turned Over

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—By ruling of the state supreme court in the hearing of the Ruef case the first district court of appeals, which upheld the notion of the trial court, is ordered to turn over the record of the case to the supreme court, which will hear the case at its July term. Abraham Ruef, who was credited with being the political dictator of this city during the lucubration of Mayor Eugene Schmidt, was indicted on 70 odd counts, charging the giving and accepting of bribes. He was placed on trial for the alleged bribing of Supervisor Furey to vote for the over-hauled trolley franchise of the United Railroads, the street car system of this city, which had been acquitted shortly before the fire of 1906 by eastern capitalists represented by Patrick Calhoun. During the trial Superior Judge James H. Hickey was shot and dangerously wounded by Maurice Haas, an ex-convict, whom Henry Haas exposed when he was drawn as a juror in the case and who committed suicide in the county jail a day or two later.

Henry's case as prosecutor was then taken over by John H. Johnson, now governor of California and the trial was resumed after a delay of several weeks. The result of the trial was the conviction of Ruef and his sentence by Judge Lawrence to serve 14 years in San Quentin. His attorneys appealed to the first district court of appeals and after the case had been heard by that tribunal sustained the order and judgment of the lower court.

The attorneys for the convicted boss then asked the supreme court for a rehearing.

UNDER A TRUCK

Unknown Man Was Killed by Wagon

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—An unidentified man was run down and killed by a four-horse truck belonging to the A. F. Beckmann Grocery company, 163 Greenwich street, last evening at Ninth avenue and 39th street. The truck, empty, was coming down the avenue when the man it struck became confused. He was knocked down by the horses and the wheels passed over him.

The driver whipped up the horses, and with persons yelling to him to stop drove with all the speed he could get up to 37th street and turned west. A man who had outrun him ran into the West 37th street station and told Lieut. Gorman of the accident. Patrolman Archibald Wood ran out. The man with the truck was abreast of the station and Wood grasped one of the horses by the head.

"I didn't run over anyone," said the driver, as the policeman was dragged along. When the truck was stopped, the driver was arrested. To the lieutenant he said:

"I was driving to give myself up."

He said he was Rudolph Timms of 652 East 138th street. A helper with him said he was Arthur Harrison.

While the two were being arraigned, word was received that the man who had been run over had died before an ambulance surgeon reached him.

The man who was killed was about 35 years old, brown hair and mustache, weighed about 170 pounds and was five feet seven. He was dressed in dark clothes, and wore a derby hat with a mourning band. He is thought to have been a German and a clerk or salesman.

The policeman who caught the driver of the truck ran from the station where he was arraigned William Ebberl, a chauffeur for the United States Motor company. Ebberl, driving a car to be shipped to Minnesota, knocked down Fred Wheeler, 10 years old, of 604 West 61st street at 35th street and 11th avenue. The boy received a fractured leg, cuts about the face and internal injuries. Ebberl stopped the car, and helped the boy in it run him to the French hospital.

He had no license to act as a chauffeur, and, in addition, the car he was driving, according to the police, was using a license number not its own. He was held for court upon both charges.

HOBOKEN MAN MADE LEAP FROM FERRYBOAT

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—August Berend, 33 years old, of 229 Bloomfield street, Hoboken, killed himself on Sunday evening by jumping from the Lackawanna railroad ferryboat Ithaca of the Barclay street line in midstream, when the Hoboken police didn't hear of the suicide until yesterday, when Joseph Volodring of 233 Bloomfield street reported what had happened. Berend's body was not recovered.

The young man had been employed as a fireman by the Public Service corporation. His wife died several months ago, leaving two small children, and he was badly burned by contact with a live electric wire that he feared that he would never be able to resume his work.

Berend had bitterly complained of his hard luck and became very despondent. He left his home on Sunday morning and roamed around until early evening. On a trip of the Ithaca from the other side of the river to Manhattan, Berend's actions attracted the attention of several passengers and they told Capt. Moran that he needed watching. Moran had a talk with the discouraged man and advised him to take a long walk and forget his troubles. Berend promised that he would and left the boat apparently in better spirits. He turned around in a crowd of passengers bound for Hoboken and went aboard the boat again unseen by the deckhands. As the Ithaca was in midstream, he climbed over the rail and leaped into the water. The boat was stopped, but he could not be found.

The Hoboken police yesterday turned Berend's children over to the care of the United Aid society. They also took possession of two trunks found in his room. Both were practically filled with children's toys and clothing.

ADAMIRAL DEWEY

Says the Canal Should be Fortified

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Admiral Dewey yesterday took an emphatic stand in favor of fortifying the Panama Canal. Supplementing the views of President Taft in his speech last Saturday night in New York, the admiral makes this strong point:

"That if the canal were fortified that fact would leave the fleets of the United States free to operate at will without the added functions of guarding the canal."

The statement of Admiral Dewey is made at the request of the navy department and the war department, which have charge of the fortifications, and is a reply to the opinion of Rear Admiral Evans in a magazine article, "The Panama Canal as a military factor." # RECORD TIME

MADE IN TRIP BY J. PIERPONT MORGAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The running time between Washington and New York was reduced one hour yesterday by a special train engaged by J. Pierpont Morgan, consisting of a locomotive, tender, one steel coach and the private car occupied by the banker.

The train was ordered in a hurry by Mr. Morgan, who was in a hurry to reach New York for a meeting of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad officials the reason for his haste. The Pennsylvania officials caused the train to break the record, it is understood, as a tribute from a great railroad to a great financier.

The train changed locomotives only once, at Philadelphia, where it was met by a special train. The special covered the 224 miles in better than a mile a minute. It left Washington at 11.13 a. m. and reached Philadelphia at 1.46 p. m., 21 minutes better than the usual time.

When the locomotive was changed the officials estimated the train would reach New York at 2.00 o'clock. They were just a minute out of the way. It pulled into the Pennsylvania terminal here at 3.05 o'clock. The run from Washington was made in 3 hours and 25 minutes. The usual time is about five hours.

AL MACKLER

WAS INDICTED ON A CHARGE OF PERJURY

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24.—The trial of the suit for a partial divorce brought by Margaret O'Donnell against her husband, Joseph O'Donnell, which has been under way before Judge Stump in circuit court No. 2 since last Friday, was suddenly suspended yesterday for the testimony of one of the witnesses, Al Mackler of New York, by the grand jury on a charge of perjury.

Mackler's testimony was given in regard to a letter addressed to the plaintiff, the authorship of which he partly disclaimed. He testified that it had been written, at least in part, by a Miss Doyle of Brooklyn.

The action against the defense sprung a surprise when the hearing of testimony was resumed yesterday by producing Miss Doyle in court. Mackler, it is said, testified that he was engaged to Miss Doyle. Under oath she said that she hardly knew Mackler, and her acquaintance only resulted from her employment by her father. Her denial of his statements were so complete that the attorneys for the defense immediately went before the inquest with the conflicting testimony, and that body returned the presentment.

Judge Stump then suspended the trial. It is said to be the second time that Margaret O'Donnell, who was formerly a cashier in a moving picture show in New York, has brought suit against her husband. The first bill of complaint was dismissed.

Dr. Faxon found that death had been self-inflicted as there was a partly loaded revolver grasped in one hand. The body had been in the woods several months but as it was in an obscure place woodchoppers only now discovered it. There were no marks on the clothing, except that on the hat, which bore a Brockton stamp.

WROTE ODES TO THE MANAGER AND OBJECTED TO HER BILL

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Prousch, who had been stepping at the Park Avenue hotel since Friday last, was taken to Bellevue hospital last night for observation as to her sanity. Shortly after she arrived at the hotel she began writing odes to Manager Charles Ward. So last night he summoned a policeman and an ambulance.

When Mrs. Prousch received her bill she objected to it and said that the telephone charges were exorbitant. She made such a fuss that a policeman was called in. There was mild excitement in the hotel lobby. She was taken to Bellevue in the ambulance. Mrs. Prousch said she used to live at 59 West Twelfth street and that her father lives at 1036 Lorimer avenue, Brooklyn.

THE FIRE DRILL STOREHOUSE FIRE

Saved Lives of Many Children

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The power of discipline over fear was well illustrated yesterday when 800 boys and girls, between the ages of six and fifteen, were marched out of St. Michael's parochial school, Fourth avenue and Broadway, after the fire drill alarm was given, and while a small fire raged in the cellar.

The flames were discovered by Helen Kelly, eleven years old, of No. 455 Forty-eighth street, who had been sent down stairs by one of the sisters. "The child found a pile of refuse burning. She ran upstairs and without undue excitement for word or gesture that might betray the situation to her classmates, whispered in the ear of her teacher, 'Sister Bergman, there's a fire in the cellar, and you'd better get the children out of the school. A lot of rubbish is burning and the wood-work is catching on fire.'

Sister Bergman went swiftly to the office of Sister Angeline, the principal, and informed her of the situation. Immediately there was a change of the bell, giving the alarm for the fire drill. No child other than Helen Kelly knew the real meaning of the alarm. To the rest it was the regular daily drill. The children arose in their seats, and without attempting to get hats or coats followed the orders of their teachers to "face forward" and then to "march."

With steady tread they marched to the hall door and then into the street. So quickly was the work done that all the 800 children were lined up on the opposite side of Fourth avenue before the fire engines arrived.

The Rev. Fr. Wm. McGuff, rector of St. Michael's church, of which the parochial school is a part, arrived about the same time.

He was greatly agitated when he saw the fire engines lined up in front of the school and when he observed the long line of children drawn up on the sidewalk. He asked if all the children had been safely gotten out, and heaved a sigh of relief when assured that none had been left in the building.

A great crowd, numbering perhaps 2,000 persons, soon gathered about the school. Among these were mothers and others concerned for the safety of the children. Some of the mothers in their excitement attempted to push through the fire lines in quest of the pupils. They were escorted to the place where the children were lined up and allowed to pick out their own.

The fire did only about $50 of damage. It was due, probably, to spontaneous combustion in the refuse in the cellar. The flames were kept from reaching the upper floors by the wooden walls. The fire probably had destroyed the building had the fire not been discovered by Helen Kelly.
